French Forces Cyprus Bound

Island Will Be Used As Base In Suez Crisis

Egypt Sets Monday For Starting Talks On Future Of Canal

LONDON, Thursday, Aug. 30 (AP)—Britain and France arranged today to use troubled Cyprus as an Allied springboard military base in the Suez crisis. French troops are presumably en route to Cyprus by sea.

The eastern Mediterranean British island colony is 250 miles from the north end of the Suez Canal and within easy parachutist range of the 103-mile waterway and Egypt's big cities.

The French entry into the Cyprus scene was described as temporary and intended to protect French nationals in the Middle East.

Britain has a new fight on its hands on Cyprus itself.

The EOKA underground, fighting for independence from the British and union with Greece, ended an 11-day truce early this week with a renewal of terror bombings. EOKA said there would be no peace for the British until they reopen negotiations with exiled Archbishop Makarios.

Nasser Sets Date For Talks

There was no immediate indication of the size or character of the contingent the French are posting on Cyprus.

The action by the two Western powers came as Egyptian President Nasser's government fanned anti-British feeling by arresting three Britons on espionage charges and ordering two British diplomats out of the country.

Nasser himself, moving slowly, finally fixed Monday as the day to begin talks in Cairo with a five-nation committee on the future of the Suez Canal.

As tension mounted in the Suez dispute Cairo dispatches pictured Russia as the only non-Arab power now urging Nasser to spurn any compromise on the canal.

Britain and France obviously were clearing for action in case the negotiations on the canal fall through and their nationals are subjected to attacks in Middle East countries.

British Readily Agree

The French, who are having their own troubles with Arab nationalists in North Africa, got prompt British agreement to their suggestion of putting troops on Cyprus.

When Nasser nationalized the canal on July 26, Britain and France began rushing naval, military and air force units to the Mediterranean.

In Paris, the French Defense Ministry would offer no information on troop movements. Observers at the southern embarkation ports at Toulon and Marseille have noted no unusual troop activity.

However, it was noted that the steamships Aulne and Brest sailed from Marseilles Monday for secret destinations. The aircraft carrier Arromanches sailed the same day.

Ike Endorses West Plan For Running Canal

President Declares Proposal Assures Peaceful Solution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Western plan for operation of the Suez Canal would "assure a peaceful solution of this great problem." He called for international support of the proposal.

In endorsing the plan which grew out of the recent London talks, Eisenhower asked for backing from "all the nations and peoples that believe in the processes of international justice and conciliation."

The President said he believes the program—approved by 18 of the 22 nations represented at London—has the support of the American people.

And he expressed pleasure that Egyptian President Nasser has agreed to a meeting to discusss the recommendation.

A diplomatic report from London said the meeting would be held in Cairo next Monday.

Dulles, President Confer

Eisenhower's views were contained in a statement read to newsmen by Secretary of State Dulles after the two men conferred for two hours today. Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was present during the last hour.

The President said in his statement:

"This program was conceived in an atmosphere of friendly conciliation.

"The United States government and, I believe, the American nation completely supports the 18-nation proposal thus arrived at in London which, fully respecting the sovereignty of Egypt, would assure a peaceful solution of this great problem."

"Confidence" Necessary

Eisenhower said conditions of the proposal—which would provide for operation of the canal by Egypt under an international commission—are necessary "to give confidence" that the vital waterway will remain open to international shipping.

Body Of Second Flier Recovered

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The body of a second crewman has been recovered from the sea off the south China coast where a U.S. patrol plane was shot down last week, the Navy reported today.

A destroyer of the U.S. 7th Fleet found the body in an area where wreckage of the plane had been located earlier, about 90 miles southeast of Shanghai.

The name of the crewman was not announced immediately. The bullet-ridden body of another airman, Albert P. Mattin of Delta, Ohio, technician first class, was found among wreckage last Friday. Fourteen others are listed as missing.

The Navy Mercator patrol plane, with 16 aboard, went down under fire last Thursday, and Red China has reported downing what it claims was a Chinese Nationalist plane in the area at about the same time.

A note from the Peiping government, which Secretary of State Dulles disclosed yesterday, admitted downing a plane and reportedly contained a provisional apology. The Red Chinese were said to have noted that if the plane they shot down turned out to be American they regretted the incident.

Paschen Withdraws From Ill. Governor Race; Fund Probed

WITHDRAWS—Down a Chicago city hall corridor walks Herbert Paschen after he yesterday announced he was resigning as Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois. This was a sequel to disclosure of county treasurer's office fund to which bankers had contributed. (AP Photofax)

Democrat Pledges To Fight "Smears"

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Herbert C. Paschen withdrew today as the Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois.

He stated that he wants to "devote all of my energy and time to repel attempts to becloud my reputation."

Paschen is Cook County—Chicago—treasurer. An employes welfare fund in that office is under investigation by Cook County and federal grand juries.

He quit less than 10 weeks before the Nov. 6 election. He had been under indirect pressure from some party leaders to get off the ticket.

Committee To Choose

The Democratic State Central Committee will choose a new candidate to run against the Republican incumbent, Gov. William G. Stratton.

Some party leaders have been reported to be disappointed with Paschen's campaigning. Paschen, a 6-foot-2 politician, usually gives the impression of being relaxed and easy-going.

It was the second time within two months that a hole has been punched in a major party ticket in Illinois. Orville E. Hodge, Republican state auditor, stepped out of office and gave up his bid for re-election July 16.

Hodge has been sent to Menard Prison to serve a 12 to 15-year sentence for embezzling more than one million dollars in state funds. He has been replaced on the GOP ticket by State Sen. Elbert Smith of Decatur.

Fund Dissolution Planned

County and federal grand juries are looking into an employes welfare fund in Paschen's county office. The fund, totaling $29,000, is made up of donations from banks which have county money on deposit.

Paschen has said there is nothing illegal about the fund, but that he plans to dissolve it anyway and return the contributions. He also has said he was not an officer of the fund and that it was operated by two Republican predecessors.

Britain Warns Cyprus, Imposes Further Curbs

NICOSIA, Cypress, Aug. 29 (AP)—Britain clamped new rigid restrictions on Cyprus and its religious leader today.

The people were warned an uneasy period may continue for weeks. New violence flared.

Field Marshal Sir John Harding, British governor of the crown colony, sounded the warning in a surprise broadcast over the government-controlled Cyprus radio service.

He said his offer last week of surrender terms to the leaders of the underground EOKA rebels was a genuine attempt to bring EOKA's violence campaign to a halt and produce real conditions for permanent peace.

EOKA marked the end of an 11-day truce Monday midnight with bombs and leaflets announcing violence would resume until the British agree to negotiate again with exiled Archbishop Makarios. EOKA and its Greek Cypriot supporters want independence from Britain and union with Greece.

Harding disclosed that he will shortly publish proposals for a constitution for limited autonomy for the island, drafted by Lord Radcliffe after a visit here last month. Radcliffe was virtually ignored by Cypriot leaders during his stay. He returned to England and announced he would prepare a new draft.

Harding went on the air shortly after British authorities issued an order confining Makarios's clerical and political stand-in, the Greek Orthodox Bishop of Kitium, to his official residence in Larnaca on the southeast coast.

U.S., India Close Deal In Surplus

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 29 (AP)—The United States today made the biggest deal in the history of its farm surplus disposal program. It signed an agreement with India involving $360,100,000 and millions of tons of U.S. farm products.

The agreement provides for the United States to sell India wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and dairy products, take payment in rupees by grants, loans and spending them inside India.

U.S. Charge D'Affaires Frederic Bartlett and Joint Secretary C. V. Narasimhan of the Indian Finance Ministry signed the agreement at a ceremony in the ministry.

Total U.S. aid to India, government and private, thereby climbed above a billion dollars, compared with an estimated 200 million from Communist countries.

Smashup Kills Two, Injures Seven Others

Two Prisoners Shot By Pursuing Guards; All Are Recaptured

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 29 (AP)—Despite a heavy guard, 30 convicts fled from a Kilby Prison gravel pit today in a bold dash that ended in death for two prisoners.

The two men died and seven others were injured when a prison truck the prisoners had stolen was wrecked only a few miles from the prison. All the prisoners were recaptured.

Two others were shot by pursuing guards in an attempt to halt the speeding truck.

Men Shot In Legs

Shot in the legs during the wild chase were George Porter and Julius Christian.

The prison director said the 30 white prisoners, all "maximum security" convicts, were en route under armed guard to the prison gravel pit. The prisoners were in one truck, guards W. T. Smith and G. E. Moore trailed behind in another.

When they reached the gravel pit, McCullough said, two of the convicts jumped from the truck and overpowered the driver, a prison trusty, and sped away.

Firing at the tires and at the convict who was driving, the guards chased the prisoners three or four miles before the fleeing men wrecked their truck.

Wheel-To-Wheel Race

The guards tried several times to pass the other truck to block the road but the convicts cut into their path. At times the two trucks were racing wheel to wheel, McCullough said.

The director said the guards were "highly commended" for their "alertness" in preventing what would have been the greatest mass getaway in Alabama in years.

The most recent mass prison break in Alabama was in September 1951 when 21 convicts overpowered guards, captured the prison arsenal and escaped from inside Draper Prison at nearby Speigner, Ala.

480 Holiday Auto Deaths Forecast

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today 480 persons may be killed in auto crashes over the Labor Day weekend unless unusual caution is observed.

The figure covers only immediate deaths during the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday. It excludes deaths resulting later from injuries suffered in holiday travel.

If motorists and law enforcement officers team together to hold the toll down, the council said, the figure might be kept at 350, a normal death toll for a nonholiday Saturday, Sunday and Monday in late summer.

Rackets Artist Held As 'Brains' In Riesel Attack

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—A perspiring Johnny Dio, 42, ordinarily tough rackets czar, was held in $100,000 bail today as the mastermind in the acid blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel.

The notorious shakedown artist of the trucking and garment industries was charged with conspiring to intimidate Riesel from telling a federal grand jury what he knew about the rackets.

Three other hoodlums arraigned with Dio on the same charge were held in bail totaling $375,000. U.S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp set a hearing next Wednesday for all four.

Specter Of Chair Raised

U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams described Dio to Bishopp as "the mastermind of the whole thing and one of the masterminds of racketteering in this city."

Williams raised the specter of the electric chair by declaring the case "involves the blinding of one man and possibly the murder of another."

This was a reference to Abraham Telvi, allegedly the hired acid thrower, who was found slain July 28.

Williams said Telvi was killed because he "became a nuisance by demanding more money" for "doing the job."

"Also," said Williams, "he was very hot and was probably talking too much."

$500 To $50,000 For Job

Williams had told newsmen Telvi had taken the acid-throwing assignment for $500, thinking it was only "a husband and wife job," but later demanded $50,000 on learning the prominence of the victim.

Riesel was blinded as he walked out of Lindy's restaurant in the Broadway theater district last April 5.

Also held in $100,000 bail each were Charles Tuso, 44; Deomenic Brando, 47; and Charles Carlino, 43. Bail was set at $75,000 for Tommy Dio, 40, Johnny's brother.

Demos Ask Truman To Make Speeches

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 28 (AP)—Harry S. Truman said today the Democratic National Committee has asked him to make two or three speeches a week during the presidential election campaign.

The former President told of the request as he announced he had accepted an invitation to make a nonpolitical speech Sept. 7 at Washington before the American Political Science Foundation.

Truman has two political speeches already scheduled, one Saturday at Ottumwa, Iowa, before a party rally for Herschel Loveless, Democratic nominee for governor of Iowa.

His other one will be at a Labor Day gathering in Milwaukee next Monday.

Sioux War Bonnet For Adlai, Peace Pipe For Estes

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 29 (AP)—Chief Lame Deer and Chief White Horse from the Rosebud Sioux Indian Reservation of South Dakota, presented Adlai Stevenson today with an Indian war bonnet and dubbed him "Chief Charging Thunder."

They gave Sen. Estes Kefauver a peace pipe, along with the name, "Chief Good Rainbow," and their assurances of support from their tribe.

Nixon Begins His Jersey Vacation

MANTOLOKING, N. J., Aug. 29 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived here today with his wife and two daughters for a six-day vacation at the shore front home of former Ambassador Amos J. Peaslee.

He plans no public appearances and will devote two days to swimming and beach parties with his family before starting work on campaign talks he plans to deliver next month.

"This is the first full vacation I've had with my family since last spring," the vice president said after motoring here from Washington.

Before leaving the capital, Nixon learned that his ailing 77-year-old father, Frank A. Nixon, is back on the critical list at Whittier, Calif. An aide said Nixon is keeping in touch with his family in California, but has no immediate plans for flying to the West Coast.

At Washington, Nixon issued a statement saying he is "confident" American workers will suport the Eisenhower administration on election day despite opposition from the AFL-CIO leadership.

Seven Britons Now On Egypt's 'Spy Ring' List

CAIRO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Egypt tonight named two more Britons—making seven in all—as members of an alleged spy ring operating in Egypt.

The government charged that the British with Egyptian accomplices, had pried into Egyptian military secrets for the past four years.

Cairo newspapers reported they planned to overthrow the regime of President Nasser.

Confession Reported

Two new British names added to the list of the accused were reported by authorities to have been taken from a hand-written confession of one of three Britons under arrest and charged with spying.

Of the seven accused Britons, two are embassy secretaries with diplomatic immunity. They have been given until Friday night to leave Egypt. The two were accused of being spy contact men.

Egyptian authorities said a purported confession from the alleged spy ringleader, James Swinburn of the British-owned Arab News Agency, named "Mr. O. Saint John and Mr. Cox" as former contact men.

British Trader Arrested

No details of these two were available immediately.

Earlier in the day, James Zarb, a British subject in the export-import trade, was arrested and charged with being a spy, the British Embassy reported.

Details on the charges against him were not available but the Egyptians promised "sensational disclosures" soon in their investigation.

Desegregation Brings Violence

CLINTON, Tenn., Aug. 29 (AP)—Sheriff Joe Owen took 11 Negro students out of newly integrated Clinton High School today to protect them from what he described as a "mob."

"There was such a milling mob around the school I thought it best to take them home," the sheriff declared. "There were about 500 people outside and I thought somebody might get hurt."

Owen said the Negroes are at liberty to return to school tomorrow if they wish.

Earlier, there had been three unrelated flareups between whites and Negroes which police said stemmed from mixing of the races in the previously all-white school.

Four persons, including one Negro student, were placed in jail, but only three were charged. The fourth, a Negro, was held for his own protection after being chased down a street by a group of white persons.

Twelve Negroes were admitted to Clinton High Monday along with nearly 800 white students. A handful of students and parents had picketed the school but the vast majority of the students ignored the pickets and reported for classes.

Detectives Receive 15 More Complaints Of Baby Mishandling By Husky Nurse

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 29 (AP)—Police plunged today into the growing problem of separating fact from fiction, accurate recall from memory colored by hindsight, among former employers of Virginia Jaspers, the muscular baby nurse.

The 6-foot, 220-pound nurse has admitted, police say, that on separate occasions dating back to 1948 she shook three infants to death and injured two others when they snapped her patience.

Detectives received 15 new complaints of baby mishandling—complaints which thus far they class as "unofficial." Some of the callers say they now recall that their children were bruised, cut and even punched. Why the complainants never spoke up before was not explained.

One West Haven father claimed that his child, once under Miss Jaspers' care, is now mentally retarded. He said he didn't know whether the child's present condition was related to the type of care the nurse gave him. A similar report was received yesterday from a former New Haven man now living in Detroit.

Another new caller alleged that Miss Jaspers fed his child whisky but the nurse, when confronted with this complaint today, specifically denied it, police said.

One complaint now getting the serious attention of detectives came from Marvin Schaefer, 29, whose baby boy suffered a broken leg early last year during Miss Jaspers' care. The nurse admitted Monday to police she caused the injury by shaking the baby violently in a fit of "uncontrollable" temper.

Schaefer didn't know this then but he had his strong suspicions, he said.

"From the beginning," he said, "we sensed something was wrong with the nurse, but we had nothing to go on. Besides, people we knew had recommended her. But we wondered about her emotional stability from the way she talked to us and the harsh manner she used toward our older child.

"Then one night we heard the baby cry out in pain while alone with the nurse. Another night we heard the nurse crying in the baby's room. We rushed in and asked what was the matter and she said merely that baby had spit up and that upset her."

From then on, the Schaefers decided the baby would never be alone with the nurse. But one day, while her husband was at work, Mrs. Schaefer had to take her older child to a birthday party. Before she left, she made certain the baby was fed and put to bed.

"When she came back," Schaefer said, "the baby was awake and cranky. Then the nurse—and I have to admit it was the nurse who pointed it out—noticed a swelling on the baby's leg. We had the doctor in immediately. It turned out, at the age of 3 weeks, the baby had a fractured leg. Thank God, it healed completely.

"Miss Jaspers was supposed to leave that night, anyway, and she did. We called her at home and pleaded with her for an explanation of the injury but she said she knew nothing about it. I complained to our pediatrician, who complained to police, but they did nothing about it. Why? Why?"

Russian's Conduct Leads To U.S. Expulsion Demand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The State Department disclosed today it has demanded the expulsion of a secretary to the Soviet delegation at United Nations and protested about the conduct of another Russian employed by the U.N.

Its disclosure, in a letter to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, said the actions were taken on the basis of charges by the subcommittee that the two Russians had attempted to apply pressure on a refugee former Red army captain to return to Moscow. The former captain, Michael Shatov, had testified before the subcommittee.

The State Department announcement came on the heels of disclosure in New York that the Soviet secretary, Rostislav E. Shapovalov, has booked passage to sail for home Sept. 12 on the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) made public a letter from Rorderic L. O'Connor, acting assistant secretary of state, which said the department "has requested the immediate departure of Shapovalov from the United States" in a formal complaint to the Soviet U.N. Mission.

The letter said the department has also complained to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold against the conduct of Aleksei Petukhov, a member of the staff of the U.N. Technical Assistance Administration Office for Asia and the Far East, on the basis of testimony the subcommittee had received about him.

O'Connor wrote that the department "has taken steps to advise the secretary general of the United Nations that any further indication that Petukhov is attempting to persuade former Soviet citizens to return to the Soviet Union will result in a request for his release from United Nations employment and consequent departure from the United States."

Island Will Be Used As Base In Suez Crisis

Egypt Sets Monday For Starting Talks On Future Of Canal

LONDON, Thursday, Aug. 30 (AP)—Britain and France arranged today to use troubled Cyprus as an Allied springboard military base in the Suez crisis. French troops are presumably en route to Cyprus by sea.

The eastern Mediterranean British island colony is 250 miles from the north end of the Suez Canal and within easy parachutist range of the 103-mile waterway and Egypt's big cities.

The French entry into the Cyprus scene was described as temporary and intended to protect French nationals in the Middle East.

Britain has a new fight on its hands on Cyprus itself.

The EOKA underground, fighting for independence from the British and union with Greece, ended an 11-day truce early this week with a renewal of terror bombings. EOKA said there would be no peace for the British until they reopen negotiations with exiled Archbishop Makarios.

Nasser Sets Date For Talks

There was no immediate indication of the size or character of the contingent the French are posting on Cyprus.

The action by the two Western powers came as Egyptian President Nasser's government fanned anti-British feeling by arresting three Britons on espionage charges and ordering two British diplomats out of the country.

Nasser himself, moving slowly, finally fixed Monday as the day to begin talks in Cairo with a five-nation committee on the future of the Suez Canal.

As tension mounted in the Suez dispute Cairo dispatches pictured Russia as the only non-Arab power now urging Nasser to spurn any compromise on the canal.

Britain and France obviously were clearing for action in case the negotiations on the canal fall through and their nationals are subjected to attacks in Middle East countries.

British Readily Agree

The French, who are having their own troubles with Arab nationalists in North Africa, got prompt British agreement to their suggestion of putting troops on Cyprus.

When Nasser nationalized the canal on July 26, Britain and France began rushing naval, military and air force units to the Mediterranean.

In Paris, the French Defense Ministry would offer no information on troop movements. Observers at the southern embarkation ports at Toulon and Marseille have noted no unusual troop activity.

However, it was noted that the steamships Aulne and Brest sailed from Marseilles Monday for secret destinations. The aircraft carrier Arromanches sailed the same day.

Rackets Artist Held As 'Brains' In Riesel Attack

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—A perspiring Johnny Dio, 42, ordinarily tough rackets czar, was held in $100,000 bail today as the mastermind in the acid blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel.

The notorious shakedown artist of the trucking and garment industries was charged with conspiring to intimidate Riesel from telling a federal grand jury what he knew about the rackets.

Three other hoodlums arraigned with Dio on the same charge were held in bail totaling $375,000. U.S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp set a hearing next Wednesday for all four.

Specter Of Chair Raised

U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams described Dio to Bishopp as "the mastermind of the whole thing and one of the masterminds of racketteering in this city."

Williams raised the specter of the electric chair by declaring the case "involves the blinding of one man and possibly the murder of another."

This was a reference to Abraham Telvi, allegedly the hired acid thrower, who was found slain July 28.

Williams said Telvi was killed because he "became a nuisance by demanding more money" for "doing the job."

"Also," said Williams, "he was very hot and was probably talking too much."

$500 To $50,000 For Job

Williams had told newsmen Telvi had taken the acid-throwing assignment for $500, thinking it was only "a husband and wife job," but later demanded $50,000 on learning the prominence of the victim.

Riesel was blinded as he walked out of Lindy's restaurant in the Broadway theater district last April 5.

Also held in $100,000 bail each were Charles Tuso, 44; Deomenic Brando, 47; and Charles Carlino, 43. Bail was set at $75,000 for Tommy Dio, 40, Johnny's brother.

Demos Ask Truman To Make Speeches

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 28 (AP)—Harry S. Truman said today the Democratic National Committee has asked him to make two or three speeches a week during the presidential election campaign.

The former President told of the request as he announced he had accepted an invitation to make a nonpolitical speech Sept. 7 at Washington before the American Political Science Foundation.

Truman has two political speeches already scheduled, one Saturday at Ottumwa, Iowa, before a party rally for Herschel Loveless, Democratic nominee for governor of Iowa.

His other one will be at a Labor Day gathering in Milwaukee next Monday.

Sioux War Bonnet For Adlai, Peace Pipe For Estes

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 29 (AP)—Chief Lame Deer and Chief White Horse from the Rosebud Sioux Indian Reservation of South Dakota, presented Adlai Stevenson today with an Indian war bonnet and dubbed him "Chief Charging Thunder."

They gave Sen. Estes Kefauver a peace pipe, along with the name, "Chief Good Rainbow," and their assurances of support from their tribe.

Nixon Begins His Jersey Vacation

MANTOLOKING, N. J., Aug. 29 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived here today with his wife and two daughters for a six-day vacation at the shore front home of former Ambassador Amos J. Peaslee.

He plans no public appearances and will devote two days to swimming and beach parties with his family before starting work on campaign talks he plans to deliver next month.

"This is the first full vacation I've had with my family since last spring," the vice president said after motoring here from Washington.

Before leaving the capital, Nixon learned that his ailing 77-year-old father, Frank A. Nixon, is back on the critical list at Whittier, Calif. An aide said Nixon is keeping in touch with his family in California, but has no immediate plans for flying to the West Coast.

At Washington, Nixon issued a statement saying he is "confident" American workers will suport the Eisenhower administration on election day despite opposition from the AFL-CIO leadership.

Seven Britons Now On Egypt's 'Spy Ring' List

CAIRO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Egypt tonight named two more Britons—making seven in all—as members of an alleged spy ring operating in Egypt.

The government charged that the British with Egyptian accomplices, had pried into Egyptian military secrets for the past four years.

Cairo newspapers reported they planned to overthrow the regime of President Nasser.

Confession Reported

Two new British names added to the list of the accused were reported by authorities to have been taken from a hand-written confession of one of three Britons under arrest and charged with spying.

Of the seven accused Britons, two are embassy secretaries with diplomatic immunity. They have been given until Friday night to leave Egypt. The two were accused of being spy contact men.

Egyptian authorities said a purported confession from the alleged spy ringleader, James Swinburn of the British-owned Arab News Agency, named "Mr. O. Saint John and Mr. Cox" as former contact men.

British Trader Arrested

No details of these two were available immediately.

Earlier in the day, James Zarb, a British subject in the export-import trade, was arrested and charged with being a spy, the British Embassy reported.

Details on the charges against him were not available but the Egyptians promised "sensational disclosures" soon in their investigation.

Desegregation Brings Violence

CLINTON, Tenn., Aug. 29 (AP)—Sheriff Joe Owen took 11 Negro students out of newly integrated Clinton High School today to protect them from what he described as a "mob."

"There was such a milling mob around the school I thought it best to take them home," the sheriff declared. "There were about 500 people outside and I thought somebody might get hurt."

Owen said the Negroes are at liberty to return to school tomorrow if they wish.

Earlier, there had been three unrelated flareups between whites and Negroes which police said stemmed from mixing of the races in the previously all-white school.

Four persons, including one Negro student, were placed in jail, but only three were charged. The fourth, a Negro, was held for his own protection after being chased down a street by a group of white persons.

Twelve Negroes were admitted to Clinton High Monday along with nearly 800 white students. A handful of students and parents had picketed the school but the vast majority of the students ignored the pickets and reported for classes.

Detectives Receive 15 More Complaints Of Baby Mishandling By Husky Nurse

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 29 (AP)—Police plunged today into the growing problem of separating fact from fiction, accurate recall from memory colored by hindsight, among former employers of Virginia Jaspers, the muscular baby nurse.

The 6-foot, 220-pound nurse has admitted, police say, that on separate occasions dating back to 1948 she shook three infants to death and injured two others when they snapped her patience.

Detectives received 15 new complaints of baby mishandling—complaints which thus far they class as "unofficial." Some of the callers say they now recall that their children were bruised, cut and even punched. Why the complainants never spoke up before was not explained.

One West Haven father claimed that his child, once under Miss Jaspers' care, is now mentally retarded. He said he didn't know whether the child's present condition was related to the type of care the nurse gave him. A similar report was received yesterday from a former New Haven man now living in Detroit.

Another new caller alleged that Miss Jaspers fed his child whisky but the nurse, when confronted with this complaint today, specifically denied it, police said.

One complaint now getting the serious attention of detectives came from Marvin Schaefer, 29, whose baby boy suffered a broken leg early last year during Miss Jaspers' care. The nurse admitted Monday to police she caused the injury by shaking the baby violently in a fit of "uncontrollable" temper.

Schaefer didn't know this then but he had his strong suspicions, he said.

"From the beginning," he said, "we sensed something was wrong with the nurse, but we had nothing to go on. Besides, people we knew had recommended her. But we wondered about her emotional stability from the way she talked to us and the harsh manner she used toward our older child.

"Then one night we heard the baby cry out in pain while alone with the nurse. Another night we heard the nurse crying in the baby's room. We rushed in and asked what was the matter and she said merely that baby had spit up and that upset her."

From then on, the Schaefers decided the baby would never be alone with the nurse. But one day, while her husband was at work, Mrs. Schaefer had to take her older child to a birthday party. Before she left, she made certain the baby was fed and put to bed.

"When she came back," Schaefer said, "the baby was awake and cranky. Then the nurse—and I have to admit it was the nurse who pointed it out—noticed a swelling on the baby's leg. We had the doctor in immediately. It turned out, at the age of 3 weeks, the baby had a fractured leg. Thank God, it healed completely.

"Miss Jaspers was supposed to leave that night, anyway, and she did. We called her at home and pleaded with her for an explanation of the injury but she said she knew nothing about it. I complained to our pediatrician, who complained to police, but they did nothing about it. Why? Why?"

Russian's Conduct Leads To U.S. Expulsion Demand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The State Department disclosed today it has demanded the expulsion of a secretary to the Soviet delegation at United Nations and protested about the conduct of another Russian employed by the U.N.

Its disclosure, in a letter to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, said the actions were taken on the basis of charges by the subcommittee that the two Russians had attempted to apply pressure on a refugee former Red army captain to return to Moscow. The former captain, Michael Shatov, had testified before the subcommittee.

The State Department announcement came on the heels of disclosure in New York that the Soviet secretary, Rostislav E. Shapovalov, has booked passage to sail for home Sept. 12 on the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) made public a letter from Rordcric L. O'Connor, acting assistant secretary of state, which said the department "has requested the immediate departure of Shapovalov from the United States" in a formal complaint to the Soviet U.N. Mission.

The letter said the department has also complained to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold against the conduct of Aleksei Petukhov, a member of the staff of the U.N. Technical Assistance Administration Office for Asia and the Far East, on the basis of testimony the subcommittee had received about him.

O'Connor wrote that the department "has taken steps to advise the secretary general of the United Nations that any further indication that Petukhov is attempting to persuade former Soviet citizens to return to the Soviet Union will result in a request for his release from United Nations employment and consequent departure from the United States."

Cab Driver Indicted In Weinberger Case

MINEOLA, N.Y., Aug. 29 (AP) — Poker-faced and silent, Angelo John LaMarca was formally accused today of kidnaping and bringing death to tiny Peter Weinberger.

A 23-member Nassau County grand jury indicted LaMarca after a session of only two hours. Moments later, he was led into court by two jailers.

LaMarca was neatly dressed in a light blue shirt and dark gray slacks, his heavy shock of black hair carefully brushed. He stood glumly, his eyes downcast, during the brief proceedings.

His attorney, David Markowitz, asked for a delay in arraignment to "study the indictment." The prosecution didn't object. County Judge Cyril J. Brown, then set Sept. 5 to hear the defense plea.

Markowitz has indicated it will be "temporary insanity." He says LaMarca's deed was brought on by "his desperation over debts. We believe that he was unable to distinguish right from wrong."

LaMarca allegedly snatched the month-old infant from a crib in the yard of the Weinberger's Westbury home July 4. Then, frightened while trying to collect $2,000 ransom, he is alleged to have abandoned the child the next day in brush along a busy parkway.

How long the baby may have lain there in the shade, hungering and whimpering, is not known. The remains were found 51 days later amid vines and fallen leaves.

The indictment charges LaMarca, a 31-year-old cab driver and mechanic, with kidnaping and felony murder.

Felony murder, differing technically from premediated first-degree murder, accuses a person of causing the death of another while cpmmitting a felony—in this case, kidnaping.

Either charge, under New York State law, can mean the death penalty.

However, unlike first-degree murder in which the death sentence is mandatory, a jury may recommend mercy on conviction of felony murder. A kidnaper can get death, if it's proved his deed caused his victim to die.

Footprints Spur Search For Boy

EDGEWOOD, Md., Aug. 29 (AP)—Footprints at the water's edge spurred an air and water search today for a 12-year-old Edgewood boy.

State Police said Mrs. Elizabeth Harman asked for help in locating her son, Rondie F. Hinegardner.

Searchers believed he may have taken an oarless rowboat out into Bush River late yesterday and fear he may have drifted into Chesapeake Bay.

In addition to State Police, Coast Guard and Tidewater Fisheries Commission boats and an army helicopter were looking for the boy.

Stevenson Raps Farm And Labor Policies Of GOP

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 29 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson sought to fan the flames of a Midwestern farm revolt against President Eisenhower today even as he accused the President of backing down on his promises to labor.

The Democratic presidential nominee offered to help the farmer get his "fair share of our national abundance" which he said the Republican administration is denying him.

And, in a recess between conferences on farm issues, he got out a statement accusing Eisenhower of having "only a deaf ear for labor."

The labor statement came after Stevenson told party workers, from seven agricultural states, the farmer is not getting his share because "there's nobody in Washington looking out for his just interests."

Stepping up his personal criticism of Eisenhower, the Democratic nominee used the majority endorsement of the national CIO-AFL Executive Committee of a Stevenson-Kevauver ticket as a springboard for saying the President has reneged on his 1952 campaign pledges to labor.

The working people, the statement said, have voted "no confidence" in Eisenhower because he has:

"1. Backed down on his promises to amend the Taft-Hartley Act.

"2. Stacked the National Labor Relations Board against labor.

"3. Opposed the Democrats' fight for a fair minimum wage."

Stevenson's statement said these three points don't constitute the "total indictment of the Eisenhower administration in this field."

"The plain fact is that in any issue between the boss and the worker, it is clear that Gen. Eisenhower has only a deaf ear for labor," he added.

Earlier, making his heaviest pitch for the farm vote, Stevenson spoke at a closed door strategy meeting with Sen. Estes Kefauver, his vice - presidential running mate. Speaker after speaker said party prospects are bright for capturing Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin and Kansas. Eisenhower carried them all four years ago.

Stevenson formally announced he will return to Iowa Sept. 22 for a speech at the National Plowing Contest near Newton.

Y., courthouse in police custody for arraignment on kidnaping charges. The arraignment was postponed until Sept. 5 but LaMarca was indicted by a grand jury on kidnap and felony murder charges. AFL-CIO Hopes To Raise $3,000,000 Political Fund

FOREST PARK, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—AFL-CIO spokesmen said today they expect to collect and spend the biggest labor political fund in history in the coming campaign.

James McDevitt and Jack Kroll, codirectors of the AFL-CIO's Committee On Political Education, told a news conference they plan to spend the money to help elect Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, and labor-favored candidates for other offices.

Their goal is three million dollars. But Kroll said he didn't think the fund would be built up to that size. "We won't get that kind of dough in voluntary dollar contributions from the AFL-CIO's 15 million members or in allocations from union treasuries," he said.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, meanwhile, struck a new blow at racketeers in the labor movement. It ordered all affiliated unions to stop issuing phony charters that "can be used to shake down" employers and give "a black eye to the labor movement."

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said the practice of racketeers wrangling charters for nonexistent "paper locals" began several years ago when John Dioguardi—Alias Jonny Dio—obtained some from the former AFL Auto Workers Union. The AFL stepped in then to cancel them.

Dio, a New York rackets czar, was arrested last night by the FBI in connection with the blinding of Victor Riesel, crusading newspaper colnmnist. Riesel was blinded by acid thrown in his face on a New York street.

Dio reportedly has been the kingpin behind a number of Teamsters Union "paper locals" in New York City.

Nine Polio Cases Reported In W.Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 29 (AP)—Nine cases of polio in West Virginia were reported to the State Health Department last week, Director N. H. Dyer said today.

Dr. Dyer explained that the number was only one less than the high reported this year during the week of Aug. 11.

So far, 57 cases of polio have been reported this year, compared with 78 for the same period last year.

Three of last week's polio cases were reported in Greenbrier County, two each in Marshall and Nicholas and one each in McDowell and Raleigh counties.

Boy Finds Bomb Warhead In Potomac

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — A mysterious object, described as a loaded explosive warhead, was found floating in the Potomac River off Indian Head, Md. last week, the Washington Evening Star reported today.

The 13-year-old boy who found it said today he was unable to discuss it because of a promise to naval personnel at the Indian Head Powder Factory, the newspaper said.

Officers at the factory refused to comment immediately.

The Star said the object was described by friends of the boy as "an armed warhead from a 1,000-pound Japanese bomb" left over from World War II.

One source told the Star that the boy's father found him attempting to dismantle the object, and called in Navy bomb disposal workers from the powder factory.

Road Bids Asked

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP) — The State Roads Commission today advertised for bids on a project to make a dual highway of more than six miles of the Rockville Pike, U.S. 240.

Bids will be opened Sept. 18.

Brink's Robbery Jury Completed

BOSTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — The Brink's robbery jury, completed after 17 days, was told today that the prosecution can't say whether the principal defendant, Joseph F. McGinnis, 53, was present when the holdup occurred in 1950.

The information came in answer to a defense request for particulars. The commonwealth's answer, read to the all-male jury, said the prosecution "is unable to say at this time whether the defendant McGinnis was present."

McGinnis, a Boston liquor store owner, is one of eight defendants who went to trial in Suffolk County Superior Court Aug. 7 charged with the $1,219,000 armed holdup of the money transfer firm's Boston office on the night of Jan. 17, 1950.

The 14th and last juror—Cornelius A. Leary, 49, a postal clerk—was sworn shortly before noon. Leary was the 1,621st prospective juror checked out of 2,000 summoned in daily lots of 100.

Two of the 14 will serve as alternates, held in reserve in case of incapacity among the others.

Tomorrow, after a brief preliminary statement by the prosecution, the jury will be taken for a "view" of the Brink's garage. The defendants will not go along.

Autherine Rebuffed By Federal Court

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 29 (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms today refused to intervene in the University of Alabama's expulsion of its first Negro student, but left the door open for further legal action on her part.

His refusal to order the Deep South college to readmit Mrs. Autherine Lucy Foster for the fall term was one of the few court rebuffs in four years of litigation. The long struggle has made her a national figure in the eyes of her race.

Arthur D. Shores, attorney for the former Birmingham resident, said he would study Grooms' ruling before deciding upon his next step.

Mrs. Foster said at Chicago yesterday that she will "continue to seek the right to attend a school of my choice and to study the field of my choice." She reiterated this position today while en route to visit relatives at Tyler, Tex.

Stevenson Raps Farm And Labor Policies Of GOP

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 29 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson sought to fan the flames of a Midwestern farm revolt against President Eisenhower today even as he accused the President of backing down on his promises to labor.

The Democratic presidential nominee offered to help the farmer get his "fair share of our national abundance" which he said the Republican administration is denying him.

And, in a recess between conferences on farm issues, he got out a statement accusing Eisenhower of having "only a deaf ear for labor."

The labor statement came after Stevenson told party workers, from seven agricultural states, the farmer is not getting his share because "there's nobody in Washington looking out for his just interests."

Stepping up his personal criticism of Eisenhower, the Democratic nominee used the majority endorsement of the national CIO-AFL Executive Committee of a Stevenson-Kevauver ticket as a springboard for saying the President has reneged on his 1952 campaign pledges to labor.

The working people, the statement said, have voted "no confidence" in Eisenhower because he has:

"1. Backed down on his promises to amend the Taft-Hartley Act.

"2. Stacked the National Labor Relations Board against labor.

"3. Opposed the Democrats' fight for a fair minimum wage."

Stevenson's statement said these three points don't constitute the "total indictment of the Eisenhower administration in this field."

"The plain fact is that in any issue between the boss and the worker, it is clear that Gen. Eisenhower has only a deaf ear for labor," he added.

Earlier, making his heaviest pitch for the farm vote, Stevenson spoke at a closed door strategy meeting with Sen. Estes Kefauver, his vice - presidential running mate. Speaker after speaker said party prospects are bright for capturing Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin and Kansas. Eisenhower carried them all four years ago.

Stevenson formally announced he will return to Iowa Sept. 22 for a speech at the National Plowing Contest near Newton.

New D.C. Roadway

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — A $5,700,000 roadway, connecting the new East Capitol Street Bridge with East Capitol street and major Maryland highways, will be opened to traffic at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

INDICTED—Angelo LaMarca, 31-year-old Plainview, N. Y., cab driver whom police have quoted as confessing to the kidnapping and abandonment of month-old Peter Weinberger, enters the Mineola, N. Y., courthouse in police custody for arraignment on kidnaping charges. The arraignment was postponed until Sept. 5 but LaMarca was indicted by a grand jury on kidnap and felony murder charges. AFL-CIO Hopes To Raise $3,000,000 Political Fund

FOREST PARK, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP) —AFL-CIO spokesmen said today they expect to collect and spend the biggest labor political fund in history in the coming campaign.

James McDevitt and Jack Kroll, codirectors of the AFL-CIO's Committee On Political Education, told a news conference they plan to spend the money to help elect Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, and labor-favored candidates for other offices.

Their goal is three million dollars. But Kroll said he didn't think the fund would be built up to that size. "We won't get that kind of dough in voluntary dollar contributions from the AFL-CIO's 15 million members or in allocations from union treasuries," he said.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, meanwhile, struck a new blow at racketeers in the labor movement. It ordered all affiliated unions to stop issuing phony charters that "can be used to shake down" employers and give "a black eye to the labor movement."

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said the practice of racketeers wrangling charters for non-existent "paper locals" began several years ago when John Dio-guardi—Alias Jonny Dio—obtained some from the former AFL Auto Workers Union. The AFL stepped in then to cancel them.

Dio, a New York rackets czar, was arrested last night by the FBI in connection with the blinding of Victor Riesel, crusading newspaper colnmnist. Riesel was blinded by acid thrown in his face on a New York street.

Dio reportedly has been the kingpin behind a number of Teamsters Union "paper locals" in New York City.

Nine Polio Cases Reported In W.Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 29 (AP)—Nine cases of polio in West Virginia were reported to the State Health Department last week, Director N. H. Dyer said today.

Dr. Dyer explained that the number was only one less than the high reported this year during the week of Aug. 11.

So far, 57 cases of polio have been reported this year, compared with 78 for the same period last year.

Three of last week's polio cases were reported in Greenbrier County, two each in Marshall and Nicholas and one each in McDowell and Raleigh counties.

Boy Finds Bomb Warhead In Potomac

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — A mysterious object, described as a loaded explosive warhead, was found floating in the Potomac River off Indian Head, Md. last week, the Washington Evening Star reported today.

The 13-year-old boy who found it said today he was unable to discuss it because of a promise to naval personnel at the Indian Head Powder Factory, the newspaper said.

Officers at the factory refused to comment immediately.

The Star said the object was described by friends of the boy as "an armed warhead from a 1,000-pound Japanese bomb" left over from World War II.

One source told the Star that the boy's father found him attempting to dismantle the object, and called in Navy bomb disposal workers from the powder factory.

Road Bids Asked

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP) — The State Roads Commission today advertised for bids on a project to make a dual highway of more than six miles of the Rockville Pike, U.S. 240.

Bids will be opened Sept. 18.

Brink's Robbery Jury Completed

BOSTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — The Brink's robbery jury, completed after 17 days, was told today that the prosecution can't say whether the principal defendant, Joseph F. McGinnis, 53, was present when the holdup occurred in 1950.

The information came in answer to a defense request for particulars. The commonwealth's answer, read to the all-male jury, said the prosecution "is unable to say at this time whether the defendant McGinnis was present."

McGinnis, a Boston liquor store owner, is one of eight defendants who went to trial in Suffolk County Superior Court Aug. 7 charged with the $1,219,000 armed holdup of the money transfer firm's Boston office on the night of Jan. 17, 1950.

The 14th and last juror—Cornelius A. Leary, 49, a postal clerk—was sworn shortly before noon. Leary was the 1,621st prospective juror checked out of 2,000 summoned in daily lots of 100.

Two of the 14 will serve as alternates, held in reserve in case of incapacity among the others.

Tomorrow, after a brief preliminary statement by the prosecution, the jury will be taken for a "view" of the Brink's garage. The defendants will not go along.

Autherine Rebuffed By Federal Court

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 29 (AP) —U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms today refused to intervene in the University of Alabama's expulsion of its first Negro student, but left the door open for further legal action on her part.

His refusal to order the Deep South college to readmit Mrs. Autherine Lucy Foster for the fall term was one of the few court rebuffs in four years of litigation. The long struggle has made her a national figure in the eyes of her race.

Arthur D. Shores, attorney for the former Birmingham resident, said he would study Grooms' ruling before deciding upon his next step.

Mrs. Foster said at Chicago yesterday that she will "continue to seek the right to attend a school of my choice and to study the field of my choice." She reiterated this position today while en route to visit relatives at Tyler, Tex.

McKeldin Fails To Carry Out Mahoney Attack

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 29 (AP) —Gov. McKeldin had planned to attack Democratic senatorial nominee George P. Mahoney tonight, but it didn't happen that way.

In an address at the annual Republican family picnic here, the governor lavished praise on President Eisenhower, the Republican administration, Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler, and Republican Rep. DeWitt Hyde. He didn't mention Mahoney.

In a copy of his prepared speech, released earlier today, McKeldin had said Mahoney "has been so busy for so many years seeking high office that he never has found time to acquaint himself with the problems of the nation."

"It matters not to him whether he is running for governor or for senator. It matters not to him what the big issues are, or whether they concern the nation or the state. It matters only that he obtain one of the two highest offices within the gift of the people of Maryland—and that he attach to his name the title that goes therewith."

Mahoney has made two bids for governor and two for U. S. Senate since 1950, polling heavy votes in each campaign although never gaining office. He was defeated in a close primary this year by former U. S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings and was chosen to run for the Senate after Tydings dropped out because of ill health.

In criticizing Mahoney tonight, McKeldin had warm praise for Butler, who ousted Tydings in a controversial 1950 campaign.

He said in his prepared speech that in contrast to Mahoney "John Butler . . . always has been a student of government—long before he decided to seek elective office."

"When I was mayor of Baltimore, I appointed him to the City Service Commission and I was proud of the job that he did for the municipality and its citizens," the governor continued.

"As a senator of the United States, he is a full-time representative in the Senate of the people of Maryland, a full-time observer of the affairs of the nation and of the world, and a full-time participant in the deliberations and actions of the Senate."

McKeldin also praised Western Maryland's congressman, Rep. Dewitt Hyde as "building for himself an outstanding record of attention to the problems of the nation, the state and this district."

Encephalitis Death Probed

SALISBURY, Aug. 29 (AP) — A four-year-old boy's death was being checked today for a possible relationship with the outbreak of sleeping sickness on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

Dr. Seth H. Hurdle, Wicomico County health officer, said an autopsy had been performed on the body of young Gary James Horner of Bivalve, Md.

The boy died in Peninsula General Hospital yesterday after being admitted last week with what doctors diagnosed as encephalitis, an inflammation of the brain.

Sleeping sickness, a form of encephalitis, has stricken at least 27 horses on the Shore in recent weeks. The virus which causes the disease is transmitted to animals and humans by mosquitoes. It is believed to be harbored by wild birds which are immune to the disease.

The young encephalitis victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horner, parents of three other children.

Attendance Mark Set At State Fair

TIMONIUM, Md., Aug. 29 (AP)— A new opening day attendance record was established today as 21,648 persons moved through the turnstiles of the 75th Maryland State Fair.

The previous mark was 19,344 on opening day of the 1955 fair.

The diamond jubilee fair opened officially at noon, three hours after the gates had unofficially opened and judging begun.

Fair President William F. Schluderberg and members of the Baltimore County Board of Commissioners took part in the ribbon-snipping ceremony.

A 13-year-old Frederick County boy, Randolph E. Valentine of Rocky Ridge, claimed the distinction of winning the fair's first blue ribbon. His "Our Own Swanky Pauline" took first place in the junior heifer calf for Ayrshires in the 4-H Club and Future Farmer of America dairy cattle judging.

Our Own Swanky Pauline was later judged the junior champion of the class. And in other competition, Randolph won two seconds and a third.

Brown Receives Md. Employment Security Post

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP)-James Robert Brown was named today to the newly created $10,000 position of general counsel to the State Department of Employment Security.

The post was recommended after federal and state studies of the employment security agency last year.

Brown, 30, and a native of Baltimore, has been working as an assistant State's attorney for Baltimore.

Robert B. Kimble, chairman of the Employment Security Board, said three leading Baltimore attorneys served as an examining panel and picked Brown from among 11 applicants.

Joseph Sherbow, former Baltimore judge who made a lengthy investigation of the department, recommended that the agency's legal department be headed by a qualified attorney "free from political influence, not amenable to outside pressures, with no interest in conflicting business enterprises and whose law partners and associates will not be allowed to try cases before the department."

Kimble said Brown will have complete charge of legal activities of the agency, including criminal prosecution of cases involving unemployment compensation payments obtained by fraud.

To be maintained, Kimble said, is the post of special assistant attorney general assigned to the Employment Security Board, a job now held by former State Sen. Bernard Melnicove. He will continue to guide the ESB in interpretation of the State Unemployment Compensation Act, Kimble said.

It is estimated that cancer will kill some 250,000 Americans in 1956.

Oil Coats Boats After Line Break

CAMBRIDGE, Aug. 29 (AP) — A broken oil line sent hundreds of gallons of black goo gushing into Cambridge Creek, leaving scores of boats coated with the messy stuff today.

Boatmen moaned as the oil, turning to tar-like consistency upon contact with water and air, oozed against the banks, clung to boat hulls in two-inch thick layers, and cast a pall of despair over this Chesapeake Bay port.

The coated craft included about 200 yachts, oyster boats, fishing cruisers and a big freighter just returning to service after a $50,000 overhaul. Not even the Maryland State yacht Potomac escaped.

"It's terrible," muttered Potts Roberts after surveying the scene at his shipyard. "This is the worst thing I've ever seen in the creek."

City officials said the underground line, which feeds fuel to a vegetable packing plant, was believed to have sprung a leak Monday.

Negroes Will Enter Indian Head School

LA PLATA, Md., Aug. 29 (AP)— Five Negro children will enter the first grade at Indian Head School next Wednesday under Charles County's program of integration started this year.

C. Paul Barnhart, county superintendent of schools, said only five applications were received from parents of Negro first graders to enter schools previously restricted to whites. All were approved.

The county expects a total enrollment of approximately 6,600 children of which about 2,500 are Negro.

Russian Grain Crop Good But Officials Fear Heavy Loss In Dilatory Harvesting

AP correspondent Stanley Johnson is one of a group of Western newsmen from Moscow who have been on a tour of Siberia. Following is another of his dispatches sent via Moscow.

PROLETARSKY STATE FARM, Ordinsky District, Siberia (Delayed) (AP)—Siberian virgin lands have had sensationally good crops this year but Soviet officials fear much may be lost through dilatory harvesting.

Moscow officials complained Monday that on Aug. 20, only 16 per cent of the wheat crop in this area had been harvested. However, Ivan Vasilyevich Khromov, deputy chief of state farms in the Novosibirsk District, told this correspondent:

"The harvest has only just begun. We already have 18 per cent in and will finish before Sept. 10, when we expect the first frost."

Khromov said he was sure the entire crop would reach government warehouses but said "our greatest drawback is a lack of trucks for hauling."

On this remote state farm plowed out of virgin lands on the border of Siberian Kazakhstan, 59,798 acres are planted in wheat. The crop is being harvested around the clock by 100 combines. Some of the individual farms in the big acreage have 500 employes each.

Because of the lack of trucks, big concrete and clay pits have been dug to hold the crops until all the grain can reach the elevators. The farm manager estimated that would be Oct. 1.

But Moscow is far from satisfied. Complaints received here say the efficiency of combines and reapers must be improved.

Then great grain losses were sustained in this area, owing to what was called "procrastinated reaping."

So far not much more than a third of the estimated Siberian crop has been harvested. Local authorities claim that is normal for this time of year.

In the Russian Soviet Federal Socialist Republic, largest unit of the Soviet Union, 11,366,600 acres had been harvested by Aug. 25, compared with 14,826,000 acres at the same time last year.

The central authorities claim if efficient use of the harvesting machines is stepped up, the job could be done two or three times faster.

"The Novosibirsk Oblast — the region where this farm area is situated—has mowed 494,200 acres of grain less than its neighbor—Omsky—Pravda complained in a recent issue.

Pravda pointed out that Novosibirsk was ahead of Omsk last year.

Medical Expert Believes Space Flight Now Near

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 29 (AP)—An aviation medicine expert at Ohio State University believes the first space flight will be made within 20 years.

Dr. Earl T. Carter, an aviation medicine instructor, says physiologists and engineers are working together to prepare men and machines for travel into outer space.

"Man was not created for space travel," explains Dr. Carter, who has spent six years doing research on the effect on humans of breathing under abnormal conditions.

"The human cannot live without his natural environment," he says. "So we must create a portable natural environment."

Dr. Carter cites Dr. I. M. Levitt, director of Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia, and Dr. H. H. Koeller, a German rocket expert, as predicting the first man-carrying satellites will be launched about 1968. They say the first trip to the moon will come about 2000.

Man's inability to exist in the "hostile environment" of outer space is proof positive that no human beings as we know them inhabit the planets, Dr. Carter adds.

The university's new aviation medicine department, the first in the country and headed by Dr. Fred A. Hitchcock, will sponsor a postgraduate course for aviation physiologists Sept. 10-14. Its speakers will include pioneers in the field from throughout the world.

Dr. Carter explains that conditions of jet flight are similar to those of rocket flight. In either case, man must exist in a sealed cabin and research now is concerned primarily with how long man can tolerate such conditions.

Leaders in such research are the Royal Air Force's School of Aviation Medicine at Farnborough, England, near London; and the U.S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Dr. Carter spent five years at Randolph before joining the Ohio State faculty.

"It's only a matter of time," says Dr. Carter, "until space travel will advance so that it is as safe as jet travel."

Dr. Carter believes space travel will follow closely behind jet travel, but that first flights will "sacrifice human comforts." The pressurized cabins must be designed to cope with solar radiation, cosmic rays, acceleration forces, accumulated gases, etc.

While jet flights prove man can tolerate unnatural conditions for a certain length of time, there have been tto few tests that would indicate the limitations of human endurance.

Another phase of space travel yet to be thoroughly explored is how it mentally affects rocket passengers, Dr. Carter adds.

"Just how much monotony and boredom can man endure?" he asks, citing the months, maybe years, that the traveler would be cooped up in the ship, depending entirely on machines for his existence.

"It wouldn't be hard workd," he says. "But we don't know how long it would take for his system to exhaut itself."

Moscow officials complained Monday that on Aug. 20, only 16 per cent of the wheat crop in this area had been harvested. However, Ivan Vasilyevich Khromov, deputy chief of state farms in the Novosibirsk District, told this correspondent:

"The harvest has only just begun. We already have 18 per cent in and will finish before Sept. 10, when we expect the first frost."

Khromov said he was sure the entire crop would reach government warehouses but said "our greatest drawback is a lack of trucks for hauling."

On this remote state farm plowed out of virgin lands on the border of Siberian Kazakhstan, 59,798 acres are planted in wheat. The crop is being harvested around the clock by 100 combines. Some of the individual farms in the big acreage have 500 employes each.

Because of the lack of trucks, big concrete and clay pits have been dug to hold the crops until all the grain can reach the elevators. The farm manager estimated that would be Oct. 1.

But Moscow is far from satisfied. Complaints received here say the efficiency of combines and reapers must be improved.

Then great grain losses were sustained in this area, owing to what was called "procrastinated reaping."

So far not much more than a third of the estimated Siberian crop has been harvested. Local authorities claim that is normal for this time of year.

In the Russian Soviet Federal Socialist Republic, largest unit of the Soviet Union, 11,366,600 acres had been harvested by Aug. 25, compared with 14,826,000 acres at the same time last year.

The central authorities claim if efficient use of the harvesting machines is stepped up, the job could be done two or three times faster.

"The Novosibirsk Oblast — the region where this farm area is situated—has mowed 494,200 acres of grain less than its neighbor—Omsky—Pravda complained in a recent issue.

Pravda pointed out that Novosibirsk was ahead of Omsk last year.

Medical Expert Believes Space Flight Now Near

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 29 (AP)—An aviation medicine expert at Ohio State University believes the first space flight will be made within 20 years.

Dr. Earl T. Carter, an aviation medicine instructor, says physiologists and engineers are working together to prepare men and machines for travel into outer space.

"Man was not created for space travel," explains Dr. Carter, who has spent six years doing research on the effect on humans of breathing under abnormal conditions.

"The human cannot live without his natural environment," he says. "So we must create a portable natural environment."

Dr. Carter cites Dr. I. M. Levitt, director of Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia, and Dr. H. H. Koeller, a German rocket expert, as predicting the first man-carrying satellites will be launched about 1968. They say the first trip to the moon will come about 2000.

Man's inability to exist in the "hostile environment" of outer space is proof positive that no human beings as we know them inhabit the planets, Dr. Carter adds.

The university's new aviation medicine department, the first in the country and headed by Dr. Fred A. Hitchcock, will sponsor a postgraduate course for aviation physiologists Sept. 10-14. Its speakers will include pioneers in the field from throughout the world.

Dr. Carter explains that conditions of jet flight are similar to those of rocket flight. In either case, man must exist in a sealed cabin and research now is concerned primarily with how long man can tolerate such conditions.

Leaders in such research are the Royal Air Force's School of Aviation Medicine at Farnborough, England, near London; and the U.S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Dr. Carter spent five years at Randolph before joining the Ohio State faculty.

"It's only a matter of time," says Dr. Carter, "until space travel will advance so that it is as safe as jet travel."

Dr. Carter believes space travel will follow closely behind jet travel, but that first flights will "sacrifice human comforts." The pressurized cabins must be designed to cope with solar radiation, cosmic rays, acceleration forces, accumulated gases, etc.

While jet flights prove man can tolerate unnatural conditions for a certain length of time, there have been tto few tests that would indicate the limitations of human endurance.

Another phase of space travel yet to be thoroughly explored is how it mentally affects rocket passengers, Dr. Carter adds.

"Just how much monotony and boredom can man endure?" he asks, citing the months, maybe years, that the traveler would be cooped up in the ship, depending entirely on machines for his existence.

"It wouldn't be hard workd," he says. "But we don't know how long it would take for his system to exhaut itself."

Augustus Bender Descendants Meet

Highlights of the family history were read and plans were made for a get-together August 18, 1957, at the first reunion of the descendents of the late Augustus Bender, held at Constitution Park. Next year's reunion will be at Cacapon State Park, Cacapon, W. Va.

It was noted that Augustus at the age of 12 came to America with his father David Bender, from Darmstad, Prussia, around 1830. The elder Bender had sold his book binding business and other possessions to come to the New World so that his sons need not serve in the Prussian Army. The family crossed the Atlantic in a sailing vessel and entered the United States through the Port of Baltimore, but pushed westward, settling in the Green Ridge Mountain section. There they set out some of the first orchards in the section. An old Bible brought from Prussia, an iron coffee grinder and naturalization papers of Augustus are still family possessions.

Attending the reunion were Mrs. Adeline Bender Linthicum, Miss Helen Linthicum, Ellicott City and Flintstone; Mrs. Elsie Rice Urmison, Mrs. Emma Rickenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walizer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bender and children, Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Blubaugh and sons, RFD 3, Sykesville; Mr. and Mrs. Niel Bender and children, Oldtown; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith, Norman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Werdebaugh, Miss Margaret Fogle, Miss Mary Ann Fogle, Little Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. James G. Jones, Hancock; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weddle, Miss Donna Weddle, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Weddle and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weddle, Mrs. Virginia Helmick and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bender, Alpha Bender, Harold Bender, Mrs. Margaret Rice, Ronald Rice, Gwenn Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walizer, Kay Roach, Flintstone; and Mrs. Ruth Ann Rice, Narrows Park.

Local leaders and Girls 4-H Trail officers will meet at 10:30 tomorrow in the extension office.

Highway Project On Martin Mt. Shows Progress

The new highway on the east slope of Martin Mountain is beginning to take shape.

The Bero Construction Company of Hampden, Va., is ahead of schedule on the big project that calls for one fill 143 feet deep and another 105 feet deep.

The project, according to G. Bates Chaires, district State Roads Commission engineer, is 33 per cent complete while the contractor has only used up 28 per cent of his allotted time.

The big graders, pushed by a bulldozer as they scoop up their loads of dirt, are nearly finished on an 80-foot cut off the top of the mountain.

Wolford's tavern will be moved across the new route and relocated on the south side of the highway. It is now sitting in about what will be the center line of the new highway.

Just over the brow of the mountain is the biggest fill. Here the contractor is in the process of building up the ravine to a height of 143 feet.

On down the mountain a sharp curve is being removed the hard way. Four pneumatic drills are constantly hammering into the solid limestone layers so that it can be blasted out with dynamite.

J. E. Wagoner, superintendent for Bero, said there are seven huge Diesel-powered scrapers, four bulldozers and two power shovels busy moving the thousands of yards of dirt and rock.

From the bottom of the mountain to the point where the contractor is drilling through the limestone ledges, most of the new road is on what is termed very close to subgrade.

Chaires noted that the contractor has run into two caverns in what was thought to be solid limestone.

One was located at the old quarry on Route 40, and the other on the grade. The district engineers said the Federal Bureau of Public Roads is bringing an electronic instrument to see if there are any more caverns.

The two caves found were about 10 to 12 feet deep and about 15 feet in diameter.

The McGill housemoving concern is getting the Wolford building ready to be moved about 100 feet to its new location.

Chaires said the state will build entrances to the tavern, but the owners must assume the cost of moving the structure.

The east slope of Martin Mountain is the first of a series of projects slated for the four Mountains between Cumberland and Sideling Hill Mountain.

Test borings are being made on the west slope of Polish Mountain, generally regarded with the east slope of Martin as the two worst grades on Route 40 on the five mountains between here and Hancock.

The State Roads Commission had hoped to advertise for bids for the Polish Mountain work this fall.

Building Permit Issued

A permit has been granted to Ralph W. Ballin to construct a one-story dwelling 74 by 45 feet on Lots 36-37 Camden Avenue. The building engineer's office said cost is estimated at $15,000.

The structure will have concrete block foundation, stone veneer walls and asphalt shingle roof.

County Has No Trouble Filling Teaching Posts

While some Maryland counties appear to be having extensive trouble filling all public school teacher positions by September 4, the starting date for the school term, Allegany County is sitting pretty.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools, said the only pinch being felt in this county is in the special studies field of the high school grades.

There is no problem in the elementary grades as the supply is more than adequate, the superintendent said.

One of the reasons for the sufficient number of elementary teachers is the location of Frostburg State Teachers College in this county.

Another, Webster said, is the number of persons moving to this section who have had experience in county school systems in other parts of Maryland.

The elementary school principals will meet with Webster Tuesday, September 4, at 9:30 a.m. in the Board of Education Building.

That same day at 1:30 p.m. Webster will confer with high school principals.

Wednesday, September 5, the faculties will meet with principals in their respective schools.

The approximately 16,000 school children of this county will go back to classes, Thursday, September 6, and Friday, September 7, for half-day morning sessions.

City To Push Paving Plans

Four ordinances calling for paving and curbing of streets between Frederick and Bedford streets will be on the agenda of the Mayor and Council at its meeting next Tuesday.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said council will meet Tuesday at 10 a. m. instead of Monday because of the Labor Day holiday.

Streets affected are Regina, Fectig, Pearre and Conrad. Notices of the pending action by council was given at the August 13 meeting.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said yesterday the streets are among 13 which he wants to pave because of one-way traffic regulations in effect on Frederick and Bedford streets. The change, he said, will increase the use of the intersecting streets and paving is necessary because maintaining them as they are under such conditions would be almost impossible, as well as costly.

Whether any one street is paved will depend upon the people who reside there, Buchholtz said, in adding he wants "to be fair" about the matter. He said he would follow this course: "If more than 50 per cent of those residing on one of the streets want paving, the job will be done; but if more than 50 per cent oppose it, then we will have to forego it."

No target date has been set for start of the paving projects. Buchholtz said "We have to see where we're going, how much is available in the General Improvement Bond Account and then proceed as fast as we can."

All the ordinances probably will be acted upon before the end of next month. Ten notices have been posted and three more are to be enacted at next Tuesday's meeting, Buchholtz said.

Graduation Date Set For Memorial Nurses

Graduation exercises for the School of Nursing of Memorial Hospital will begin Sunday with a service at 11 a. m. at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Ridgeley Lions To Lend Equipment

The Ridgeley Lions Club at a meeting Monday evening at the Parabee Lounge voted to lend its playground equipment to the Mayor and Council for use on the West Side playlot in that town.

Aden Everstine, president, said the equipment had been in use on the playground in back of Ridgeley High School, but work on the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project had forced the closing of the playsite.

The meeting was opened with invocation by M. M. Heiskell. There were nine members present. A balance of $298.18 was reported in the club treasury by E. B. Spiker, treasurer.

Directors of the club will meet Tuesday, September 4, at 7:30 p. m. at the Everstine residence to audit the organization's books.

He is married to the former Miss Marion McKenzie of Cresaptown, and they have a son, Randy Lee Herring, and reside in Washington.

Ministerial Student To Speak Here

Jack Stouffer, ministerial student at Lutheran Seminary, Gettysburg, Pa., will preach at St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church on Sunday.

Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor, will be in Lancaster, Pa., this weekend attending a meeting of the General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, representing the Pittsburgh Synod as a delegate.

One of the subjects to be discussed at the conference will be the merger of the Evangelical and Reformed Church with the Congregational Christian Church. If the merger is approved the church will be known as the Church of Christ and will have more than a million and a half members.

County Treasurer Issues Report

The quarterly report of the Allegany County treasurer for the period ending June 30, shows a bank balance of $2,007,638.51 as compared to $547,242.21 as of March 31.

Some of the larger receipts listed include $352,053.93 from 1956 school construction bond, $150,851 from 1956 Memorial nursing home bond, $147,992.52 from motor vehicle and gasoline tax, $68,396.79 from liquor licenses, $95,388.75 from auto tax, $163,410.29 from Maryland income tax, $960,000 from State of Maryland bulding fund, and $54,790.61 from county taxes past due.

There is $82,203.81 in outstanding county taxes, which also include some of the special taxing areas such as the LaVale Sanitary Commission, Potomac Park, Mt. Savage and Cresaptown special taxing areas.

Accident Suit Filed In Court Here

A damage suit over an accident was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

A milk delivery truck was hit by a utility pole, after a car hit a guy wire hooked to the pole and caused it to fall across the highway.

According to the petition filed by the law firm of Cobey, Carscaden and Gilchrist, Mason's Dairy is seeking $2,000 from Claude Gilmore Ray of 2157 Troy Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The unusual series of events occurred on June 18 nine miles south of Cumberland on Route 220.

The car ran off the highway, hit the guy wire, and caused the pole to fall on the top of the dairy delivery truck, the suit declares.

Because of the alleged negligence of the Brooklyn man, the dairy is seeking compensation for the total damages to the truck and its contents.

The British railways use police dogs to herd sheep grazing near the tracks. Alerted by the whistles of approaching trains, the dogs chase the sheep away from the tracks.

State Board Recommends Boost In Teacher Salaries

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP)—The State Board of Education today recommended increases in the salaries of Maryland school teachers totaling 21 to 22 million dollars during the next two years.

The board requested that the General Assembly increase minimum salaries from $2,800 to $3,600 and the maximum from $4,600 to $5,400.

The increase would be given at the rate of $400 a year until the new schedule went into effect on July 1, 1958. After that, the increases would be at the rate of $200 a year.

The State would bear the cost of the increases. The funds would be distributed to the counties through basic aid.

This would mean increasing the basic aid per teacher from $600 to $1,000 the first year and to $1,400 the second. Last year the Legislature increased the basic aid per teacher from $400 to $600.

The board made its recommendation following a report on teachers salaries by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State superintendent of schools.

Pullen said, "A realistic minimum salary scheduled, in the opinion of those who have studied the problem, should begin with an annual salary of at least $4,000.

In proposing to set the State's basic pay for teachers at $3,600, Dr. Pullen said, "it was anticipated that the counties would probably continue to supplement that amount as they are presently doing.

He said the 21 to 22 million dollar figu provides for retirement payments, but not for dependency allowances or the salaries of supervisory and administrative personnel.

Missile Unit To Be Built In Nearby W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 29 (AP)—Rep. Bailey (D-WVa) said today West Virginia will be the site of a 20-million-dollar defense installation connected with the nation's guided missile program.

He told Radio Station WCHS he understood the federal government already has bought the necessary land east of Keyser in the Eastern Panhandle, and that the big installation would be built almost entirely underground.

Bailey, whose information came from what he termed an "official" source, said he did not know whether it would be a missile base, producing plant, or other details of the project.

WCHS said the project presumably was one referred to guardedly several months ago by Chairman Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee.

At that time, Vinson was answering complaints about lack of defense contracts for West Virginia when he said a major military project was being planned for the state. Vinson gave no details, however, nor would the Defense Department.

Mrs. Florence Liller, who has been renamed principal, will teach the eighth grade; Mrs. Anna Logsdon will continue as third and fourth grade teacher, and Miss Mary P. Wilt as first and second grade teacher.

Marines Talking About Christmas

It isn't too early to start talking and thinking about Christmas. At least local Marine Corps recruiters believe not.

S/Sgt. R. J. Branson said yesterday that men who enlist in the Marine Corps between now and September 21, are assured Christmas leave at home.

The recruiter explained that a number of applicants are contemplating enlistment, but if they wait until after the September 21 deadline they will be denied Christmas holiday leave at home.

In order to assure recruits of the chance to spend the Yuletide season with their families, Sgt. Branson said he has received permission from the Corps to exceed his current quota of enlistments if necessary.

Branson also noted that any Marine recruit who brings in another acceptable applicant will be given an additional five days' leave on his regular furlough.

State Board Recommends Boost In Teacher Salaries

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP)—The State Board of Education today recommended increases in the salaries of Maryland school teachers totaling 21 to 22 million dollars during the next two years.

The board requested that the General Assembly increase minimum salaries from $2,800 to $3,600 and the maximum from $4,600 to $5,400.

The increase would be given at the rate of $400 a year until the new schedule went into effect on July 1, 1958. After that, the increases would be at the rate of $200 a year.

The State would bear the cost of the increases. The funds would be distributed to the counties through basic aid.

This would mean increasing the basic aid per teacher from $600 to $1,000 the first year and to $1,400 the second. Last year the Legislature increased the basic aid per teacher from $400 to $600.

The board made its recommendation following a report on teachers salaries by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State superintendent of schools.

Pullen said, "A realistic minimum salary scheduled, in the opinion of those who have studied the problem, should begin with an annual salary of at least $4,000.

In proposing to set the State's basic pay for teachers at $3,600, Dr. Pullen said, "it was anticipated that the counties would probably continue to supplement that amount as they are presently doing.

He said the 21 to 22 million dollar figu provides for retirement payments, but not for dependency allowances or the salaries of supervisory and administrative personnel.

Both Sides Losers With Nationalization

Right of any country to nationalize foreign property within its borders, subject only to any restrictions that may be in its own legal codes, had been a fairly well established principle of international law before the United Nations expressed support of it four years ago. The right is recognized, however, only when the owners of the property are paid what it is worth.

Countries which nationalize are likely to be in no shape to pay cash on the barrelhead. They claim the right to set the price themselves, and the terms of payment, subject to no international authority. They reject proposals to arbitrate the amount or submit it to the World Court for adjudication.

They propose to pay for the property not only at their own price, but on the installment plan, out of the profits of the nationalized enterprise. When, as its usually the case, they lack an adequate supply of competent administrators and technicians, the profits may not materialize.

This is the pattern that has been followed, with few variations, in a long series of nationalizations—Mexican oil a generation ago, Iranian oil, Bolivian tin, and so on. In many cases it reacts against the country doing the nationalizing, by scaring off needed foreign investment. Because it is done unilaterally, it rarely treats the victim companies fairly. And because there is no redress through international agencies it is likely to lead to retaliatory actions.

Iran discovered that. Having nationalized the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, she had trouble marketing her oil and finally came down off her high horse. Egypt, nationalizing the Suez Canal Company, has already run into retaliatory moves and will be the poorer for it if enough shippers find ways of by-passing the canal. If, indeed, Egypt is permitted to get away with what amounts to an outright steal.

Already huge American tankers have been bringing oil from the Middle East around the Cape of Good Hope profitably in competition with the smaller tankers paying Suez Canal tolls.

One of the most foolish recent nationalization threats has come from Lebanon. This little country exports no oil of its own, but receives income from the 25 miles of a 1,068-mile pipeline from Saudi Arabia that traverses its territory. Lately Lebanon has been charging excessive taxes and threatening nationalization of the 25-mile line. The upshot could be the use of some other route and loss of income for Lebanon.

Nationalization creates problems such as these, and in the end both sides are losers. This is the argument for calm, objective and reasonable efforts to solve the problems involved through negotiation.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A New Generation

What both the Chicago and San Francisco conventions established is that a new generation has taken over in this country and that that generation has a different outlook from the generation that was politically active in 1932 or even in 1952. The generation now in command had a tough start in life because it reached maturity during the depression; it had a tough time getting started; then it went to war.

The New Deal was a revolutionary concept. The present generation is not revolutionary. It seeks to be efficient, but it has no desire to remake anything. Neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson is a Franklin D. Roosevelt, or even a Robert A. Taft. They are not extremists of the left or of the right. They both describe themselves as moderates, a characteristic which they do not define, because neither is a philosopher. Both reject the significance of the pull toward Marxism which characterized the 1930s and the early 1940s. The moderates are opposed to communism for the United States, but they do not regard it as a present menace in this country. They accept Soviet Russia as a peril, but make no attempt to understand the international Communist movement and most of their associates do not really believe that it exists and if it does exist, it is not important.

The fact is that these are smiling, affable people who have escaped the 1930s and 1940s and are pleased that they have. There was not a speech at either the Democratic or Republican convention which contained either the promise of the New Deal or a renunciation of it. Rather the attack was on the practical accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration or a defense of them.

It is interesting to watch a new and different generation finding itself and to try to understand what it really means. In the 1920s, Americans believed that this is God's country and that everybody could become a millionaire if he hit the market right. The 1920s were also the era of prohibition and of the racketeer and the flapper. It was the period when "anything goes."

In the 1930s that was all over. Everybody thought that he was broke. The United States was a terrible disappointment. It was a period when Communists and Technocrats and Fascists exhibited their wares. It was a period when young Americans went to Spain (1936-39) to fight in a civil war in a country about which they knew nothing. It was a time when conservatives believed that the world was coming to the end and that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the devil incarnate.

Then came war and the new internationalism and Soviet Russia was actually an ally of the United States and whoever opposed communism was a friend of Hitler and Mussolini and somebody that became famous as Tojo. It was an oppressive period, as wars always are, but even more so because the direction that the United States was taking was obscure.

But the amazing fact is that the country did not go to the dogs. Actually, by the 1950s, for most people the intricate problems of government and politics had become a bore, a repetitious bore. Who wants to hear the same talk for 20 years? So what the intellectuals like to call escapism took the place of life-and-death struggles. Nobody wants to struggle. This generation just wants to live. It wants a good time. It cooks steak on charcoals, outside in the backyard. It builds homes on Veterans or FHA mortgages. It is curiously an unafraid generation, but it does not expect to produce a crop of millionaires, what with current taxes. This generation wants to live—to live it up, as the expression is.

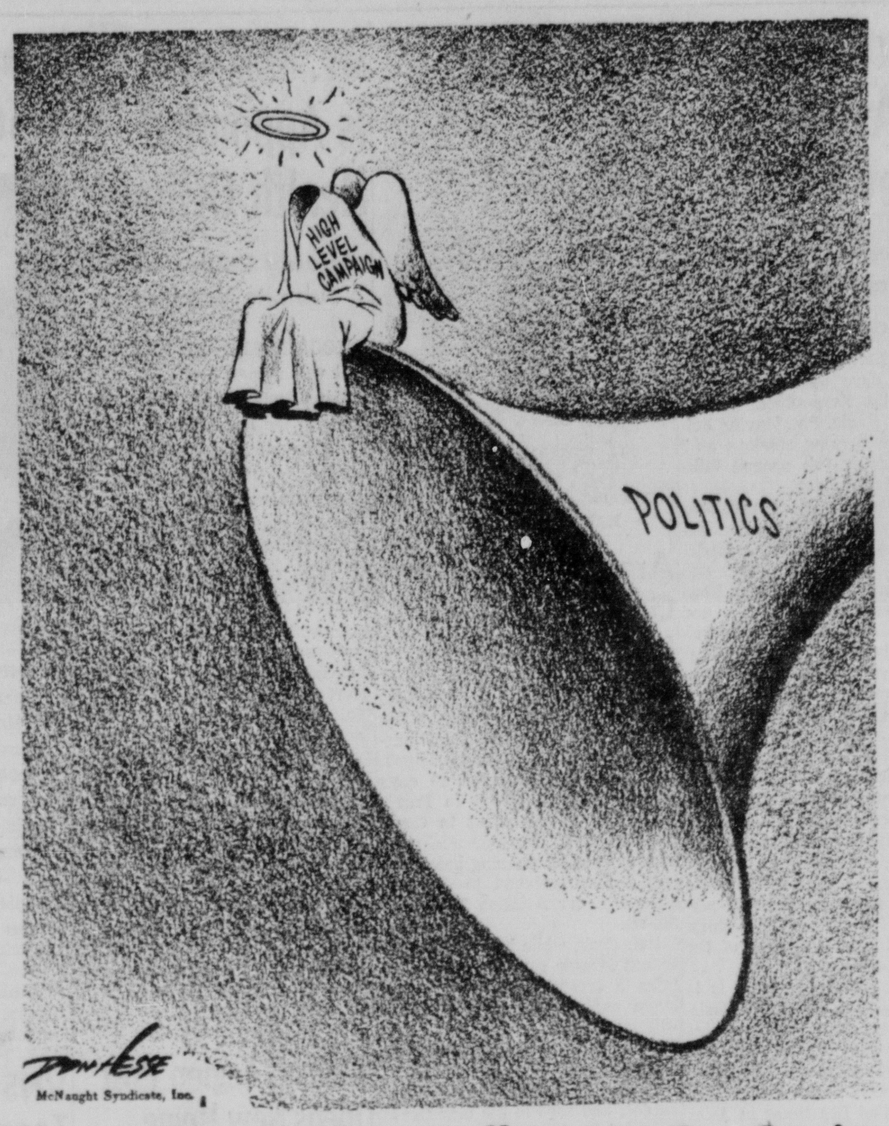
Will He Survive?



Issues Are Major Influence In Swinging Elections

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Some strange things are being written, or said over the radio, these days about national politics. They seem strange to anyone who has followed politics at the grass roots in contrast to those theorists—most of them college professors—who sit in cloistered places and rationalize modern political behavior to suit their own preconceived ideas of what the pattern has been or should be.

There is, for instance, the constant use of the word "independents." The picture usually given is of a voter who reads all that is written on politics, listens to all the campaign speeches, keeps up with national and international affairs every day and finally renders a profound judgment at the polls as if he were some sort of judge handing down a decision from the bench.

There are tens of millions of independents and they are not a minority of the electorate by any means. There are probably in the Northern states more independents than there are "non-independents" if by the latter term is meant those who vote regularly for all the candidates of one political party or the other.

True Definition

For the true definition of an "independent" is a person capable of voting in secret for candidates who express his own ideas regardless of how some political organization has told him or urged him to vote. In Britain they call it a "switch" when persons who voted for one party in a previous election shift to the other party. An "independent" really is one who in the past has switched, or is ready now to go from one party to the other.

The fact, however, that a voter finds in one party for a considerable period of time an expression of his basic convictions on public affairs doesn't make him less of an "independent" than one who shifts from time to time. Very often there is a switch at the state or local level, and not at the national level, or vice versa.

This writer, for example, considers himself an independent because he has voted for the Democratic candidates for governor and for Congress in Virginia in the last 10 years, but out of the last 11 nominees for the presidency, has preferred Democrats in five elections and Republicans in the other six.

The "switch" in voting in America—the rise in the use of the term "independent"—really dates from the time that several states began to use the split ballot. Up to that time a voter had to vote the straight ticket for all candidates in one party or the other—he had little chance to choose. The introduction of voting machines in many cities has helped materially to encourage split-balloting or switch-voting. In the rural districts the use of separate ballot for state and national offices and, indeed, for the presidency and vice presidency as differentiated from candidates for Congress, has done more than anything else to foster the "switch" idea.

Electorate Has Grown

What probably accounts for the greater preponderance of "independents" or "switch" voters today over those who vote straight tickets all along the line is the numerical increase in the voting population itself. Perhaps the biggest single factor in this was woman suffrage, which was introduced in a national election for the first time in the Harding-Cox campaign of 1920. In that year, despite the huge increase in the number of potential voters, only 44 per cent of those eligible to vote participated at the polls in contrast to 62.7 per cent in the 1952 presidential election. Yet Harding won by the biggest landslide of electoral votes ever recorded up to that time.

It is also to be noted that, with the growth in the electorate, political organizations as such have lost much of their influence and power. This is because the total number of voters, except in the smaller cities, has become too unwieldy to reach by the usual methods of organization. Some intensive and extensive efforts through precinct workers still are made, but the total number of voters really convinced by personal canvass of some kind—including the telephone—is, on the whole, small.

What then influences the voter? The other evening this writer heard a so-called expert interviewed on the radio who said that in the present campaign personalities would count for more than issues—in fact, he thought issues would not be of much importance.

To anyone who has studied many campaigns, this is a surprising statement. For very few voters, relatively speaking, get to know the candidates or their personalities.

Cox was much the better man in 1920. He made a coast-to-coast campaign while Harding spoke from his front porch in Ohio and made less than a half dozen speeches away from his home. John W. Davis was a better man than Coolidge in 1924. Again and again the more capable man or the more colorful personality—as, for example, William Jennings Bryan versus William Howard Taft in 1908—made a better campaign, but lost.

Issues Are Paramount

Issues are paramount and they have to be down-to-earth or elemental issues to affect 60 million voters. The voters get the "feel" of things and often rationalize their conclusions from a pocketbook standpoint—whether times are good or bad. They are affected also by emotional issues such as communism in government, or crookedness in high places, or the question of peace and war.

Political trends are best gathered in the factory, on the farm, in the homes in town and country, and anyone who has himself made a personal canvass of individual sentiment in different sections of the country, in campaign after campaign, will find that basic issues—affirmative or negative—rather than personalities constitute the major influence in swinging elections.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Eastward the tide of empire skates on thin ice. The Spartan youth has been to the wars and returned on his cafeteria platter.

Four years ago this very date the first Republican flank scout emerged cautiously from Union Station disguised as an excursion of school teachers. He hung a lantern aloft in the belfry of Washington Monument. It meant Eisenhower was coming by land or MacArthur was wading ashore.

He advanced by short parades to Lafayette Square where he dug up a buried homburg.

The Republicans were in business. This time the Democrats say they have squared the heels on the other shoe.

Both sides are as confident as a bartender with a wet mustache. The accent is on youth if they can find one old enough.

We fail to gander where Stevenson, Kefauver, Eisenhower and Nixon matriculate as the cadre for a Cub den. All of them have been eating meat and potatoes for many semesters. They know it's no tougher to pull a rabbit out of a hat than a reindeer out of a chimney.

You have dialed, looked and listened to both power stations of the rival service companies. You have read accurate score-cards kept by efficient political reporters, who hit the bull's eye no matter which way the animal is facing.

We are glad to reaffirm that no mud has been slung so far. But the drought may be over. They've been practicing with handsfuls of dust.

Scandals Brewing In Three States, California, Delaware And Illinois

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Republican leaders aren't talking about it but they aren't at all happy about three scandals festering under the nose of the Grand Old Party. Only consolation is that the Democrats always seem either lazy or inept when it comes to investigating Republicans, at least since the days of Harry Truman.

Here are the three smells percolating up to the Republican nostrils:

Smell No. 1—is in Sacramento, just a few miles from the recent conclave of distinguished Republicans. Republican delegates at San Francisco ignored it. But Gus Johnson, long-time Republican treasurer of California, is in hot water. He's been in hot water since his son cashed 55 bad checks. Johnson, now 75, had given virtual control of the state treasury to his son.

It has also been revealed that Johnson placed $22,000,000 of state funds in the Crocker-Anglo National Bank, although he owned 100 shares of stock in that bank. Johnson has accused Governor Knight, a fellow Republican, of influencing him in depositing state funds in banks friendly to the Republican party. But Knight proved this to be wrong. Knight has welcomed the investigation.

Hire Strip Teaser

Smell No. 2—is on the East Coast, involving Republican members of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission, who now face criminal charges for allegedly paying themselves $78,591 and hiring strip tease dancer Mrs. Nony Brandt of Wayne, Pa., better known as "Miss TNT from Gay Paree." She was paid $715 allegedly for stenographic work.

Alexander R. Miller, a Republican member of the board, is also accused of financing trips to San Francisco, Atlantic City, Phoenix (Arizona) and Las Vegas with public funds.

Republicans are hoping these criminal charges will not be aired just before elections. But this may be wishful thinking.

Smell No. 3—flared up in Chicago while the Democrats were meeting there, but they were too busy to pay much attention. Also their own candidate for Governor, Herbert Paschen, was in political hot water over a "welfare fund."

There Republican State Auditor Orville Hodge has been sentenced to 20 years in jail for stealing a million and a half dollars from the Illinois State Treasury.

The interesting thing, however, is how Hodge managed to get away with this without being stopped by Illinois Governor Stratton and other members of his Republican administration.

Hodge had well-known gangster connections. He is reported to have received heavy campaign contributions from the underworld and may have siphoned some of the dough dipped out of the Illinois State Treasury into buying a night club in Las Vegas.

But the amazing fact is that the Stratton administration either was not alert or did nothing to stop him. Morton Hollingsworth, Illinois finance director, appointed by Governor Stratton, is supposed to get an accounting of state finances every three months. Under Gov. Adlai Stevenson, finances were audited. But under Stratton, either they were not audited or the shortages were overlooked.

Hall's Free Lodging

Warren Wright, state treasurer, was supposed to check on state funds and vouchers. Either he didn't check, or he overlooked the shortage. At any rate, Illinois voters would like to know what happened, and the chances are they will not be voting Republican in November.

One interesting national development is that Orville Hodge was quite a friend of GOP Chairman Len Hall. Hodge owned a motel, The Esquire, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where Hall was a nonpaying guest last spring. Just how Hall happened to go to Fort Lauderdale for a free sojourn with Orville Hodge instead of going to more popular Miami Beach has not been adequately explained and Democrats so far haven't done any investigating.

When Donald Dawson, a member of Harry Truman's White House staff, spent a couple free nights at the Saxony Hotel, Miami Beach, it was headline news all over the USA. It was investigated by Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, an ardent Democrat.

Today a Senate investigating committee is under another Arkansas Democrat, John McClellan, who has strong Republican leanings and isn't too anxious to investigate Republicans. So far, he hasn't moved decisively to probe the lobbying record of Murray Chotiner, Vice President Nixon's campaign manager. Republicans can probably sleep easily regarding the Illinois scandal.

Georgia Politics

E. M. Thompson is facing Herman Talmadge of Georgia for the Senate seat being vacated by the venerable and honorable Walter George. Thompson, who was elected lieutenant governor with Herman's father, Gene, has since sustained two defeats at the hands of son Herman.

There isn't much left for Thompson to run on, but he has one of the more humorous platforms in politics:

"If you want to get the mud out of the water, you've got to get the hog out of the spring."

Georgia pollsters are predicting that hog Talmadge will remain in the spring as long as he wants.

GOP-Go-Round

The famed advertising agency BBD&O has handled all the Republican campaign, except for election eve when Young & Rubicam will stage a giant spectacular. All three TV networks will be used. The GOP plans to spend about one million dollars on this one evening.

Contrast In Parties

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

SAN FRANCISCO

There was one virtue, at any rate, in having the Republican Convention begin just as the Democratic Convention ended. It made the contrast between the two parties singularly vivid and immediate. You could see the strengths and weaknesses of each with stereoscopic clarity.

For example, one of the great strengths of the Democrats is their rich riot of competing personalities. Chicago crawled with Democrats of note and stature. There were two front rank candidates, Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman. There was another, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, who is highly likely to be a front rank candidate four years from now. The strength of the second level was displayed in the exciting vice presidential race. And among the group of political organizers there were plenty of big men, including the important new face of Adlai Stevenson's able manager, James A. Finnegan.

One-Man Party

In contrast, the most obvious weakness of the Republicans is the fact that they have now become a one-man party. Dwight D. Eisenhower by no means typifies the Republican viewpoint as Robert A Taft used to do. A great many of the delegates who screamed themselves hoarse for him in the Cow Palace very sharply disagree with many of his policies. If he ever makes a really bold attempt to implement the foreign affairs sections of his acceptance speech, for instance, the President will surely be opposed by most of the Republican senators and congressmen who are now so desperately anxious to ride back into office on his coat-tails.

But the Republicans are a one-man party just the same, because Dwight D. Eisenhower is the only Republican candidate with a tinkers chance of winning a national election.

After four years in control of the White House, in fact, the Republican party has become poorer, not richer, in notable personalities of national stature. If Eisenhower wins again, the greatest Republican problem will be to develop men who can carry on where he leaves off. And it will not be an easy problem.

But it is the Democrats who are poor, and the Republicans who are rich in the other significant area of politics, the area of issues. This happy situation the Republicans owe to the singular political astuteness of Dwight D. Eisenhower. If the party as represented in Congress had been left to itself, it would quite certainly have spent its time generously manufacturing issues for the enemy, in the manner of the 80th Congress. But by wise and moderate action in many different fields, from social welfare to the administration of the labor laws, Dwight Eisenhower quietly captured the Democrats' issues.

No Issues For Democrats

Except for the health issue above all, plus the regionally important farm and public power issues, the Democrats now have no straw left to make electoral bricks with. And while one must always recognize politician Eisenhower's primary responsibility for this Democratic misfortune, it is also necessary to note that the Democrats have themselves to blame as well.

Many people have pointed out that their long experience of opposition left the Republicans, particularly the congressional Republicans, sadly unprepared to act as a party in power but it is also true that this long experience of power and responsibility left the Democrats sadly unprepared to act as an opposition.

Specifically, they forgot that political issues do not lead an independent, God-given existence of their own. They did not realize, any longer, that issues have to be made, and made in particular by the opposition. And they neglected to make several of the most important issues, for which there was ample raw material lying about, because the task of making issues is almost always unpleasant and controversial at the outset.

The classic example in our own time was Winston Churchill's handling of the issue presented by the rising menace of Nazi power. Churchill had to undergo years of ostracism and abuse because he insisted on the vital importance of that issue. But in the end, because he stood the racket when the going was rough, he was the sole, inevitable prime minister in England's darkest hour.

Didn't Make Issues

The Democrats did not have to be Churchills to make very great and stirring issues in the areas of defense and foreign policy. For instance, they only had to have some knowledge of the problem, to show some guts in discussing them and to hammer away until the country turned its attention to thte problems. But they did not do any of this because it would have been initially uncomfortable.

And so today, while Adlai Stevenson frankly regards the defense and foreign issues as far and away the most important of all, he has said with rueful frankness that he does not think "there is much mileage in them." And Stevenson is right, no doubt, because issues cannot be made at tthe last minute either.

New Approach To Arteriosclerosis Is Being Tried

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Sitosterol is the most promising remedy to date for hardening of the arteries. It is harmless and well tolerated. Nicotinic acid is reported to be of value along this line also but the results are less startling than with sitosterol. Research of this kind is part of the current search for a treatment for and a preventive of arteriosclerosis.

There is evidence that a relationship exists between this disorder and the concentration of certain fatty substances (cholesterol and lipoproteins) in the blood. These chemicals accumulate in the walls of the arteries which in turn affects circulation to heart, brain, and other organs and tissues throughout the body.

It is believed that lowering the amount of these substances will minimize the arteriosclerotic process and lessen the chance of developing coronary thrombosis or stroke. The low fat diet helps but this regimen is too monotonous for many to follow. Thyroid extract and the female sex hormones also reduce the blood cholesterol but these preparations have other undesirable effects upon the body.

Various chemicals have been advocated to decrease blood cholesterol and lipoproteins but none has withstood the test of time. Sitosterol passed through the laboratory stages with flying colors and is now on the market. It is a tasteless, slightly waxy, crystalline powder that can be made from soybean, cotton, corn, wheat, or other grain.

A recent report described the use of sitosterol by University of Minnesota physicians on 15 young men with arteriosclerotic heart disease. They all had an excess of cholesterol and lipoproteins in their blood and, within three weeks after starting medication, changes were noted.

A somewhat similar experiment was conducted at the Mayo Clinic with nicotinic acid, a part of the vitamin B complex. It was given to 18 patients with an average reduction of 10 per cent in the total fat content of the blood. To get these results, large doses were needed which produced unpleasant side reactions during the first few days of treatment. Nicotinic acid dilates blood vessels and causes mild to moderate flushing of the skin and itching of the rectum.

THICK HAIR

W. S. writes: The hair on my scalp grows so thick and fast I can hardly keep it under control. Does this indicate some body disturbance?

REPLY

No. Most men would be happy to have this complaint.

BOOKS ARE INNOCENT

F. N. writes: Would you consider the public library a great spreader of communicable diseases?

REPLY

No. The danger lies in people, not books.

THYROID AND MENOPAUSE

Mrs. J. writes: Is it normal to have a slight thyroid deficiency after the change of life?

REPLY

A slight thyroid deficiency is never normal.

MANY BURSAS

W. R. writes: How many bursas does the body have? The reason I ask is that I had bursitis in the right hip, then the left shoulder, and now the right elbow. Discouraged is not the word.

REPLY

You will be more discouraged when I tell you there are 24 bursas in the body.

TOMORROW: Rehabilitating the disabled.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A small boy invaded a big store's lingerie section and shyly presented his problem to a lady clerk. "I want to buy mom a surprise present of a slip," he said, "but I forgot what size she wears. "It would help to know if your mom is tall or short, fat or skinny."

"She's just perfect!" beamed the small boy, so the clerk wrapped up a size 34 for him.

Two days later, mom came to the store herself and changed it to a 52.

A blonde lady at Palm Beach amazed gossipers for months by her agility in keeping both a husband and a boy friend reasonably happy at the same time. Her Waterloo came when they joined forces against her. The husband bawled her out for 10 minutes straight while the boy friend nodded approval. She finally turned off the torrent by rasping, "And now it's time for a word from my alternate sponsor."

Both Sides Losers With Nationalization

Right of any country to nationalize foreign property within its borders, subject only to any restrictions that may be in its own legal codes, had been a fairly well established principle of international law before the United Nations expressed support of it four years ago. The right is recognized, however, only when the owners of the property are paid what it is worth.

Countries which nationalize are likely to be in no shape to pay cash on the barrelhead. They claim the right to set the price themselves, and the terms of payment, subject to no international authority. They reject proposals to arbitrate the amount or submit it to the World Court for adjudication.

They propose to pay for the property not only at their own price, but on the installment plan, out of the profits of the nationalized enterprise. When, as its usually the case, they lack an adequate supply of competent administrators and technicians, the profits may not materialize.

This is the pattern that has been followed, with few variations, in a long series of nationalizations—Mexican oil a generation ago, Iranian oil, Bolivian tin, and so on. In many cases it reacts against the country doing the nationalizing, by scaring off needed foreign investment. Because it is done unilaterally, it rarely treats the victim companies fairly. And because there is no redress through international agencies it is likely to lead to retaliatory actions.

Iran discovered that. Having nationalized the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, she had trouble marketing her oil and finally came down off her high horse. Egypt, nationalizing the Suez Canal Company, has already run into retaliatory moves and will be the poorer for it if enough shippers find ways of by-passing the canal. If, indeed, Egypt is permitted to get away with what amounts to an outright steal.

Already huge American tankers have been bringing oil from the Middle East around the Cape of Good Hope profitably in competition with the smaller tankers paying Suez Canal tolls.

One of the most foolish recent nationalization threats has come from Lebanon. This little country exports no oil of its own, but receives income from the 25 miles of a 1,068-mile pipeline from Saudi Arabia that traverses its territory. Lately Lebanon has been charging excessive taxes and threatening nationalization of the 25-mile line. The upshot could be the use of some other route and loss of income for Lebanon.

Nationalization creates problems such as these, and in the end both sides are losers. This is the argument for calm, objective and reasonable efforts to solve the problems involved through negotiation.

Issues Are Major Influence In Swinging Elections

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Some strange things are being written, or said over the radio, these days about national politics. They seem strange to anyone who has followed politics at the grass roots in contrast to those theorists—most of them college professors—who sit in cloistered places and rationalize modern political behavior to suit their own preconceived ideas of what the pattern has been or should be.

There is, for instance, the constant use of the word "independents." The picture usually given is of a voter who reads all that is written on politics, listens to all the campaign speeches, keeps up with national and international affairs every day and finally renders a profound judgment at the polls as if he were some sort of judge handing down a decision from the bench.

There are tens of millions of independents and they are not a minority of the electorate by any means. There are probably in the Northern states more independents than there are "non-independents" if by the latter term is meant those who vote regularly for all the candidates of one political party or the other.

True Definition

For the true definition of an "independent" is a person capable of voting in secret for candidates who express his own ideas regardless of how some political organization has told him or urged him to vote. In Britain they call it a "switch" when persons who voted for one party in a previous election shift to the other party. An "independent" really is one who in the past has switched, or is ready now to go from one party to the other.

The fact, however, that a voter finds in one party for a considerable period of time an expression of his basic convictions on public affairs doesn't make him less of an "independent" than one who shifts from time to time. Very often there is a switch at the state or local level, and not at the national level, or vice versa.

This writer, for example, considers himself an independent because he has voted for the Democratic candidates for governor and for Congress in Virginia in the last 10 years, but out of the last 11 nominees for the presidency, has preferred Democrats in five elections and Republicans in the other six.

The "switch" in voting in America—the rise in the use of the term "independent"—really dates from the time that several states began to use the split ballot. Up to that time a voter had to vote the straight ticket for all candidates in one party or the other—he had little chance to choose. The introduction of voting machines in many cities has helped materially to encourage split-balloting or switch-voting. In the rural districts the use of separate ballot for state and national offices and, indeed, for the presidency and vice presidency as differentiated from candidates for Congress, has done more than anything else to foster the "switch" idea.

Electorate Has Grown

What probably accounts for the greater preponderance of "independents" or "switch" voters today over those who vote straight tickets all along the line is the numerical increase in the voting population itself. Perhaps the biggest single factor in this was woman suffrage, which was introduced in a national election for the first time in the Harding-Cox campaign of 1920. In that year, despite the huge increase in the number of potential voters, only 44 per cent of those eligible to vote participated at the polls in contrast to 62.7 per cent in the 1952 presidential election. Yet Harding won by the biggest landslide of electoral votes ever recorded up to that time.

It is also to be noted that, with the growth in the electorate, political organizations as such have lost much of their influence and power. This is because the total number of voters, except in the smaller cities, has become too unwieldy to reach by the usual methods of organization. Some intensive and extensive efforts through precinct workers still are made, but the total number of voters really convinced by personal canvass of some kind—including the telephone—is, on the whole, small.

What then influences the voter? The other evening this writer heard a so-called expert interviewed on the radio who said that in the present campaign personalities would count for more than issues—in fact, he thought issues would not be of much importance.

To anyone who has studied many campaigns, this is a surprising statement. For very few voters, relatively speaking, get to know the candidates or their personalities.

Cox was much the better man in 1920. He made a coast-to-coast campaign while Harding spoke from his front porch in Ohio and made less than a half dozen speeches away from his home. John W. Davis was a better man than Coolidge in 1924. Again and again the more capable man or the more colorful personality—as, for example, William Jennings Bryan versus William Howard Taft in 1908—made a better campaign, but lost.

Issues Are Paramount

Issues are paramount and they have to be down-to-earth or elemental issues to affect 60 million voters. The voters get the "feel" of things and often rationalize their conclusions from a pocketbook standpoint—whether times are good or bad. They are affected also by emotional issues such as communism in government, or crookedness in high places, or the question of peace and war.

Political trends are best gathered in the factory, on the farm, in the homes in town and country, and anyone who has himself made a personal canvass of individual sentiment in different sections of the country, in campaign after campaign, will find that basic issues—affirmative or negative—rather than personalities constitute the major influence in swinging elections.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A New Generation

What both the Chicago and San Francisco conventions established is that a new generation has taken over in this country and that that generation has a different outlook from the generation that was politically active in 1932 or even in 1952. The generation now in command had a tough start in life because it reached maturity during the depression; it had a tough time getting started; then it went to war.

The New Deal was a revolutionary concept. The present generation is not revolutionary. It seeks to be efficient, but it has no desire to remake anything. Neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson is a Franklin D. Roosevelt, or even a Robert A. Taft. They are not extremists of the left or of the right. They both describe themselves as moderates, a characteristic which they do not define, because neither is a philosopher. Both reject the significance of the pull toward Marxism which characterized the 1930s and the early 1940s. The moderates are opposed to communism for the United States, but they do not regard it as a present menace in this country. They accept Soviet Russia as a peril, but make no attempt to understand the international Communist movement and most of their associates do not really believe that it exists and if it does exist, it is not important.

The fact is that these are smiling, affable people who have escaped the 1930s and 1940s and are pleased that they have. There was not a speech at either the Democratic or Republican convention which contained either the promise of the New Deal or a renunciation of it. Rather the attack was on the practical accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration or a defense of them.

It is interesting to watch a new and different generation finding itself and to try to understand what it really means. In the 1920s, Americans believed that this is God's country and that everybody could become a millionaire if he hit the market right. The 1920s were also the era of prohibition and of the racketeer and the flapper. It was the period when "anything goes."

In the 1930s that was all over. Everybody thought that he was broke. The United States was a terrible disappointment. It was a period when Communists and Technocrats and Fascists exhibited their wares. It was a period when young Americans went to Spain (1936-39) to fight in a civil war in a country about which they knew nothing. It was a time when conservatives believed that the world was coming to the end and that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the devil incarnate.

Then came war and the new internationalism and Soviet Russia was actually an ally of the United States and whoever opposed communism was a friend of Hitler and Mussolini and somebody that became famous as Tojo. It was an oppressive period, as wars always are, but even more so because the direction that the United States was taking was obscure.

But the amazing fact is that the country did not go to the dogs. Actually, by the 1950s, for most people the intricate problems of government and politics had become a bore, a repetitious bore. Who wants to hear the same talk for 20 years? So what the intellectuals like to call escapism took the place of life-and-death struggles. Nobody wants to struggle. This generation just wants to live. It wants a good time. It cooks steak on charcoals, outside in the backyard. It builds homes on Veterans or FHA mortgages. It is curiously an unafraid generation, but it does not expect to produce a crop of millionaires, what with current taxes. This generation wants to live—to live it up, as the expression is.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Eastward the tide of empire skates on thin ice. The Spartan youth has been to the wars and returned on his cafeteria platter.

Four years ago this very date the first Republican flank scout emerged cautiously from Union Station disguised as an excursion of school teachers. He hung a lantern aloft in the belfry of Washington Monument. It meant Eisenhower was coming by land or MacArthur was wading ashore.

He advanced by short parades to Lafayette Square where he dug up a buried homburg.

The Republicans were in business. This time the Democrats say they have squared the heels on the other shoe.

Both sides are as confident as a bartender with a wet mustache. The accent is on youth if they can find one old enough.

We fail to gander where Stevenson, Kefauver, Eisenhower and Nixon matriculate as the cadre for a Cub den. All of them have been eating meat and potatoes for many semesters. They know it's no tougher to pull a rabbit out of a hat than a reindeer out of a chimney.

You have dialed, looked and listened to both power stations of the rival service companies. You have read accurate score-cards kept by efficient political reporters, who hit the bull's eye no matter which way the animal is facing.

We are glad to reaffirm that no mud has been slung so far. But the drought may be over. They've been practicing with handsfuls of dust.

New Approach To Arteriosclerosis Is Being Tried

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Sitosterol is the most promising remedy to date for hardening of the arteries. It is harmless and well tolerated. Nicotinic acid is reported to be of value along this line also but the results are less startling than with sitosterol. Research of this kind is part of the current search for a treatment for and a preventive of arteriosclerosis.

There is evidence that a relationship exists between this disorder and the concentration of certain fatty substances (cholesterol and lipoproteins) in the blood. These chemicals accumulate in the walls of the arteries which in turn affects circulation to heart, brain, and other organs and tissues throughout the body.

It is believed that lowering the amount of these substances will minimize the arteriosclerotic process and lessen the chance of developing coronary thrombosis or stroke. The low fat diet helps but this regimen is too monotonous for many to follow. Thyroid extract and the female sex hormones also reduce the blood cholesterol but these preparations have other undesirable effects upon the body.

Various chemicals have been advocated to decrease blood cholesterol and lipoproteins but none has withstood the test of time. Sitosterol passed through the laboratory stages with flying colors and is now on the market. It is a tasteless, slightly waxy, crystalline powder that can be made from soybean, cotton, corn, wheat, or other grain.

A recent report described the use of sitosterol by University of Minnesota physicians on 15 young men with arteriosclerotic heart disease. They all had an excess of cholesterol and lipoproteins in their blood and, within three weeks after starting medication, changes were noted.

A somewhat similar experiment was conducted at the Mayo Clinic with nicotinic acid, a part of the vitamin B complex. It was given to 18 patients with an average reduction of 10 per cent in the total fat content of the blood. To get these results, large doses were needed which produced unpleasant side reactions during the first few days of treatment. Nicotinic acid dilates blood vessels and causes mild to moderate flushing of the skin and itching of the rectum.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A small boy invaded a big store's lingerie section and shyly presented his problem to a lady clerk. "I want to buy mom a surprise present of a slip," he said, "but I forgot what size she wears. "It would help to know if your mom is tall or short, fat or skinny."

"She's just perfect!" beamed the small boy, so the clerk wrapped up a size 34 for him.

Two days later, mom came to the store herself and changed it to a 52.

A blonde lady at Palm Beach amazed gossipers for months by her agility in keeping both a husband and a boy friend reasonably happy at the same time. Her Waterloo came when they joined forces against her. The husband bawled her out for 10 minutes straight while the boy friend nodded approval. She finally turned off the torrent by rasping, "And now it's time for a word from my alternate sponsor."

Gasoline Tax Brings W.Va. $24,000,000

CHARLESTON—It was 33 years ago last month that West Virginia first imposed its gasoline tax, according to J. F. Bedell Jr., chairman of the West Virginia Petroleum Association, who noted that the gasoline tax first imposed July 27, 1923 at the rate of two cents a gallon brought in only $1,277,000 the first full year it was in effect.

During 1955 the tax, at a rate of six cents a gallon, yielded an estimated $24,673,449.

Bedell said that part of this increased revenue can be attributed to increased use of automobiles. There are now four times as many vehicles registered in West Virginia as in 1923.

The other significant factor, he said, is the higher gasoline tax rate.

Commenting on the "amazing growth" in motor fuel taxation in this state through the years, Bedell pointed out that the recent increase in Federal gasoline tax, which was levied July 1, and the six-cent state tax would bring the total state and federal taxes on gasoline in West Virginia to 9 cents a gallon.

This, he said, is equivalent to about a 45 per cent sales tax on gasoline.

He added:

"Now, with this new increase in the federal tax, highway users of this state will be paying an estimated $40 million a year — about 31 times as much — in state and federal taxes on gasoline."

Gasoline Tax Brings W.Va. $24,000,000

He added:

"Now, with this new increase in the federal tax, highway users of this state will be paying an estimated $40 million a year — about 31 times as much — in state and federal taxes on gasoline."

FROSTBURG — The severe electrical storm which visited the city Tuesday evening caused considerable damage to electrical lines and television antennae here.

Automatic fuses which guard the boiler room equipment at Miners Hospital were all blown, and before they could be replaced, all heat and live steam used for sterilizing purposes had gone down.

The flagpole at Outpost 24B of the Ground Observer Corps was blown over by the high winds and heavy gusts of rain which accompanied the storm. A high voltage wire, which fell across East Mechanic Street caused traffic to be diverted until it could be repaired by a Potomac Edison maintenance crew.

Brooklyn Puts Pressure On Braves, Defeats Cubs, 11-4

Duke Snider, Campanella Sock Homers

Erskine Registers 12th Victory; Roy Has Five RBI's

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Catcher Roy Campanella smashed across five runs, including a three-run cluster on his No. 16 homer, to pace an 11-4 Dodger victory over the Chicago Cubs today which kept the Brooks hot on the heels of the pace-setting Milwaukee Braves.

Campanella doubled across two runs in a five-tally Brooklyn first which hung the defeat on Cub starter Don Kaiser, first of four Chicago hurlers.

With the game in the bag, Brooklyn's Duke Snider opened the seventh with his 37th homer to bolster his National League lead in that department.

Although shaken for 11 Cub hits, including a three-run homer by ex-Dodger Don Hoak in the third and Gene Baker's No. 12 homer in the sixth, Carl Erskine rode to his 12th victory against 7 losses.

Kaiser, who made his Cub starting debut June 2, with a two-hitter triumph over Erskine, couldn't survive the first inning against the pressing Dodgers today.

The first three Brooks to face Kaiser slashed singles to right. With an error and an intentional walk sandwiched between, Carl Furillo's single, good for two runs, and Campanella's double to center rounded out a five-run Brooklyn spree and chased Kaiser.

Lytle's Capture Rec Loop Opener, Top Cleaners, 11-6

Lytle's pushed over 11 runs in the first three innings then held on to defeat Tri-State Cleaners, 11-6, in the first of their three-game series for the Men's Rec League title at Post Field.

Banging 18-game winner Neil Toey for 14 assorted base knocks, the Sign Shoppers got the jump in the opener with six runs in the first, added three more in the second and tallied twice in the third on back-to-back homers by Niles Harper and Bill Metheod.

Niles Harper paced the victors with a pair of four-baggers, smashing his first in the initial inning with a man on. He also collected a double and single in a perfect day at the plate.

Buddy Meade had three for three including a triple for Lytle's and starred at third with the fielding gem of the game, a backhand catch of Deb Payton's hot smash.

Robert Harper won the game in relief, taking over when Tri-State rallied for six runs in the fourth off Joe Biggs, and blanking the Cleaners on one hit the rest of the way.

Eckhard had two hits for the Cleaners.

The second game of the final series will be played at Post's field Friday at 6 p. m. The score:

Gridders Collide In Packer Drills

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Aug. 29 (AP)—Al Carmichael and Val Joe Walker, a pair of Green Bay Packer starting halfbacks, were shaken up today when they collided during the National Football League club's practice session.

Carmichael, a regular on offense, was chasing a long pass by quarterback Paul Held when he smacked into Walker, who was attempting to intercept a short pass in a defensive drill at the other end of the field.

Carmichael was dazed, but returned to workouts later.

Walker, a standout defensive back, was taken to a nearly clinic, where doctors said he suffered a slight puncture of the lung. He was not hospitalized but Packer officials said he will be out of action for a week or 10 days and will miss Saturday night's game with the Cleveland Browns at Cleveland.

It was catcher Jake Early who suggested that Jack Harshman, star pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, could get to the major leagues by making better use of his screwball.

Bosox Edge Detroit 4-2

Gernert, Delock Star For Winners

BOSTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — Boston edged Detroit 4-2 today on Dick Gernert's three runs-batted-in and the relief pitching of Ike Delock, who preserved Tom Brewer's 17th victory.

Gernert accounted for the trio of runs with a double in the first inning and single in the second. He also singled in the seventh.

Brewer, who had given up the Tigers' second tally in the seventh, was yanked after walking leadoff man Frank Bolling in the eighth.

Delock gave another walk but with runners on third and first with two out he struck out Earl Torgeson. In the ninth, Delock fanned Charlie Maxwell, got Al Kaline on a routine fly to center, and struck out Ray Boone.

A Fenway Park crowd of 11,210 put the Sox over the million mark, in home attendance for the 10th time in the past 11 years. The total for the season is 1,008,627.

Moose, Birds Play 9-9 Tie

Rubber Game Set Today At 6 P. M.

The Moose and Eagles battled to a 9-9 deadlock in the rubber game of their three-game semi-final playoff series in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday at Stitcher Field. The game was called at the end of six innings because of darkness.

The third and final contest between the second and fourth place teams is rescheduled for today at 6 o'clock at Stitcher Field. The winner will meet the Outdoor Club in the finals of the circuit in a best-of-five series which will get underway Tuesday.

The Moose tallied in four of the six innings played yesterday as Bud Young, Bob Wade and Carl Frankenberry each collected two hits. Bob Dickle chipped in with a three-bagger while Tom Head, Wade and Young starred afield.

Bill Dean had a pair of doubles and a single, Jim Gaffney a triple and Red Ingram two singles for the Eagles who tallied four runs in the second and five more in the fifth against Charles Thompson and Jim Angellatta. Charles Kienhofer starred in the field for the Birds.

Today's game will be umpired by Cecil Warnick, Russ Minnicks and Joe Geatz.

In the two completed contests the Eagles won, 13-3, and the Moose scored, 8-7, necessitating the third game. The score:

EAGLES	040 050—	9	9	4
MOOSE	130 320—	9	12	4

Gaffney and Ingram. Thompson, Angellatta (5), Thompson (6) and Speir.

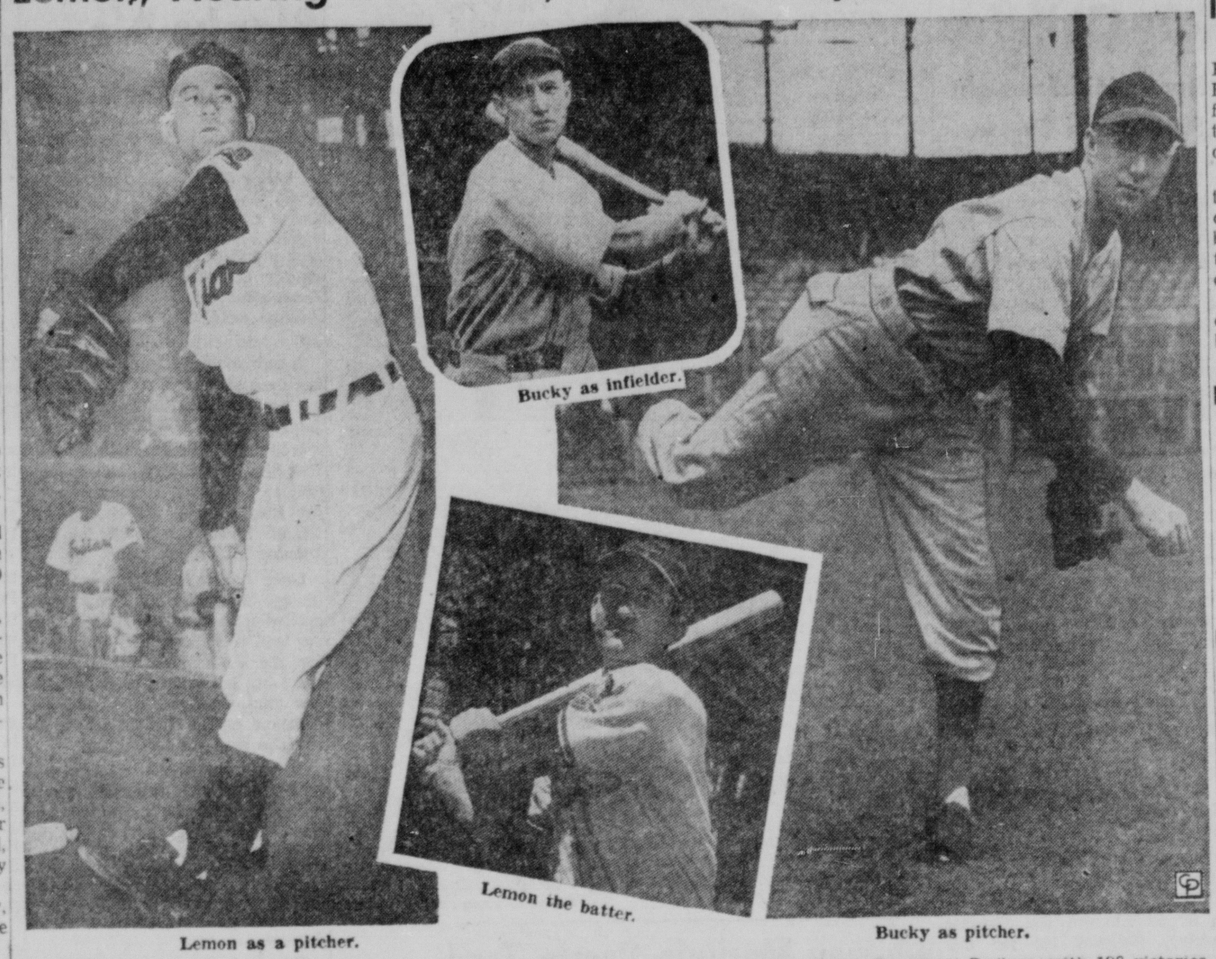
Lemon, Nearing 200 Wins, Follows Bucky in Making Pitch



Lemon as a pitcher. Bucky as infielder. Lemon the batter. Bucky as pitcher.

ACE OF THE CLEVELAND pitching staff for several years, Bob Lemon now nears the select circle of pitchers who have won 200 games. And Bob did it the hard way, the same as did Bucky Walters, former National league pitching star. Each began his big league career as infielders only to be transformed into pitchers because of their throwing arms. Walters just missed gaining the 200-circle, winding up his career in 1948, when he was appointed manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, with 198 victories. Lemon, who is still going strong, is expected to make the 200-circle this year. Walters was an infielder from 1929 through 1934 and began pitching for the Phillies in 1935. Three times he led the National league in victories, winning 27 games in 1939. Lemon was an infielder from 1938 until 1946. Since he has won 20 or more games six times. (International)

TESTS SANCTIONED SUPERVISED AND CERTIFIED BY AAA

AAA ROAD TESTS SHOW:

Blue Sunoco averages 7.67 more miles per dollar than 12 other premiums

On $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, test cars were driven out of town till they ran dry. They couldn't get back on $3.00 worth of any of the other premium gasolines tested. They never got home! Blue Sunoco averaged 23.0 miles farther!

START OF TEST. First step was to fuel with $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco. (Fueling was done by AAA officials.) Test cars were then driven till they ran out of gas.

REFUELING. When the test cars ran out of $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, they were refueled with $3.00 worth of another premium. Cars then retraced the exact route. Not one could get back to starting point!

These tests were conducted by the American Automobile Association in 6 cities under normal city-country driving conditions—using typical drivers in late model high-compression cars whose manufacturers recommend a premium gasoline.

Results of tests confirm, once again, the fact that Blue Sunoco is America's greatest gasoline value. Why not take advantage of it—get more miles for your gasoline dollar? Stop in at your neighborhood Sunoco dealer's today, and try a tankful of Blue Sunoco. It's the gasoline that meets today's higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price.

AAA OFFICIALS accompanied drivers of test cars every mile of the route, going and returning. They carefully noted car performance and mileage.

Lytle's Capture Rec Loop Opener, Top Cleaners, 11-6

Lytle's pushed over 11 runs in the first three innings then held on to defeat Tri-State Cleaners, 11-6, in the first of their three-game series for the Men's Rec League title at Post Field.

Banging 18-game winner Neil Toey for 14 assorted base knocks, the Sign Shoppers got the jump in the opener with six runs in the first, added three more in the second and tallied twice in the third on back-to-back homers by Niles Harper and Bill Metheod.

Niles Harper paced the victors with a pair of four-baggers, smashing his first in the initial inning with a man on. He also collected a double and single in a perfect day at the plate.

Buddy Meade had three for three including a triple for Lytle's and starred at third with the fielding gem of the game, a backhand catch of Deb Payton's hot smash.

Robert Harper won the game in relief, taking over when Tri-State rallied for six runs in the fourth off Joe Biggs, and blanking the Cleaners on one hit the rest of the way.

Eckhard had two hits for the Cleaners.

The second game of the final series will be played at Post's field Friday at 6 p. m. The score:

Gridders Collide In Packer Drills

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Aug. 29 (AP)—Al Carmichael and Val Joe Walker, a pair of Green Bay Packer starting halfbacks, were shaken up today when they collided during the National Football League club's practice session.

Carmichael, a regular on offense, was chasing a long pass by quarterback Paul Held when he smacked into Walker, who was attempting to intercept a short pass in a defensive drill at the other end of the field.

Carmichael was dazed, but returned to workouts later.

Walker, a standout defensive back, was taken to a nearly clinic, where doctors said he suffered a slight puncture of the lung. He was not hospitalized but Packer officials said he will be out of action for a week or 10 days and will miss Saturday night's game with the Cleveland Browns at Cleveland.

It was catcher Jake Early who suggested that Jack Harshman, star pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, could get to the major leagues by making better use of his screwball.

Bosox Edge Detroit 4-2

Gernert, Delock Star For Winners

BOSTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — Boston edged Detroit 4-2 today on Dick Gernert's three runs-batted-in and the relief pitching of Ike Delock, who preserved Tom Brewer's 17th victory.

Gernert accounted for the trio of runs with a double in the first inning and single in the second. He also singled in the seventh.

Brewer, who had given up the Tigers' second tally in the seventh, was yanked after walking leadoff man Frank Bolling in the eighth.

Delock gave another walk but with runners on third and first with two out he struck out Earl Torgeson. In the ninth, Delock fanned Charlie Maxwell, got Al Kaline on a routine fly to center, and struck out Ray Boone.

A Fenway Park crowd of 11,210 put the Sox over the million mark, in home attendance for the 10th time in the past 11 years. The total for the season is 1,008,627.

Moose, Birds Play 9-9 Tie

Rubber Game Set Today At 6 P. M.

The Moose and Eagles battled to a 9-9 deadlock in the rubber game of their three-game semi-final playoff series in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday at Stitcher Field. The game was called at the end of six innings because of darkness.

The third and final contest between the second and fourth place teams is rescheduled for today at 6 o'clock at Stitcher Field. The winner will meet the Outdoor Club in the finals of the circuit in a best-of-five series which will get underway Tuesday.

The Moose tallied in four of the six innings played yesterday as Bud Young, Bob Wade and Carl Frankenberry each collected two hits. Bob Dickle chipped in with a three-bagger while Tom Head, Wade and Young starred afield.

Bill Dean had a pair of doubles and a single, Jim Gaffney a triple and Red Ingram two singles for the Eagles who tallied four runs in the second and five more in the fifth against Charles Thompson and Jim Angellatta. Charles Kienhofer starred in the field for the Birds.

Today's game will be umpired by Cecil Warnick, Russ Minnicks and Joe Geatz.

In the two completed contests the Eagles won, 13-3, and the Moose scored, 8-7, necessitating the third game. The score:

EAGLES	040 050—	9	9 4

Gaffney and Ingram, Thompson, Angellatta (5), Thompson (6) and Speir.

The most runs driven in by a Cincinnati Redleg third baseman in one season was 78. Cleveland coach Tony Cuccinello (1930) and Hans Lobert (1908) share that record.

Lemon, Nearing 200 Wins, Follows Bucky in Making Pitch

Lemon as a pitcher. Bucky as pitcher.

ACE OF THE CLEVELAND pitching staff for several years, Bob Lemon now nears the select circle of pitchers who have won 200 games. And Bob did it the hard way, the same as did Bucky Walters, former National league pitching star. Each began his big league career as infielders only to be transformed into pitchers because of their throwing arms. Walters just missed gaining the 200-circle, winding up his career in 1948, when he was appointed manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, with 198 victories. Lemon, who is still going strong, is expected to make the 200-circle this year. Walters was an infielder from 1929 through 1934 and began pitching for the Phillies in 1935. Three times he led the National league in victories, winning 27 games in 1939. Lemon was an infielder from 1938 until 1946. Since he has won 20 or more games six times. (International)

Steelers Get Back In An "If" Deal

OLEAN, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League today obtained fullback Charley Shepard from the Baltimore Colts on an "if" deal.

Should Shepard make the squad the Steelers will give up a draft choice to the Colts next year. Fullback Bob Hill, obtained from Baltimore last week, is in the Steeler camp on the same deal.

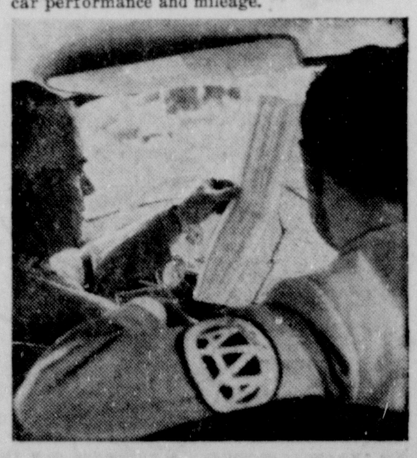
AAA ROAD TESTS SHOW:

Blue Sunoco averages 7.67 more miles per dollar than 12 other premiums

On $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, test cars were driven out of town till they ran dry. They couldn't get back on $3.00 worth of any of the other premium gasolines tested. They never got home! Blue Sunoco averaged 23.0 miles farther!

START OF TEST. First step was to fuel with $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco. (Fueling was done by AAA officials.) Test cars were then driven till they ran out of gas.

AAA OFFICIALS accompanied drivers of test cars every mile of the route, going and returning. They carefully noted car performance and mileage.



REFUELING. When the test cars ran out of $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, they were refueled with $3.00 worth of another premium. Cars then retraced the exact route. Not one could get back to starting point!

These tests were conducted by the American Automobile Association in 6 cities under normal city-country driving conditions—using typical drivers in late model high-compression cars whose manufacturers recommend a premium gasoline.

Results of tests confirm, once again, the fact that Blue Sunoco is America's greatest gasoline value. Why not take advantage of it—get more miles for your gasoline dollar? Stop in at your neighborhood Sunoco dealer's today, and try a tankful of Blue Sunoco. It's the gasoline that meets today's higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price.

Yankees Rally To Beat A's, 7-6; Cleveland Scores, 3-2

Mantle Belts 46th Homer, Gets 3 Hits

Mickey Makes 3-Run Error In First But Bats In Winning Run

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)-Mickey Mantle's bat did more damage to the Kansas City Athletics today than his fielding did to his own team and the Yankees squeaked through in the ninth inning to beat the A's 7-6.

Mantle muffed a fly ball with the bases full in the first inning and sent the A's off to a 4-0 lead before they even got a hit. Then he clouted his 46th home run of the season in the third inning. And with two out and the score tied in the ninth, Mickey singled and scored Gil McDougald, the other principal perpetrator of Yankee errors, with the winning run.

The game, the last of the season here between the two clubs, was a sloppy affair from which the Yanks were lucky to emerge with their 16th victory in 19 clashes with Kansas City. The Yankees made four errors, two by McDougald. The Athletics made one playing error plus what may have been an error in judgment by Coach Harry Craft, who subbed for ailing Manager Lou Boudreau.

With one out in the ninth, relief pticher Jack Crimian gave up a home run to pinch hitter Joe Collins and walked Mickey McDermott. Craft called on left hander Bobby Shantz to replace Crimian, who had retired 11 men in succession before Collins' homer. Shantz got Enos Slaughter on strikes, but McDougald and Yogi Berra came through with base hits and Tom Carroll, running for McDermott, scored the tying run. Mantle then knocked in the winner.

In the third Mickey hit homer 46 with the bases empty and tied Joe DiMaggio for the No. 3 position in all-time Yankee homer production for one season. Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig have hit more than 46, a mark DiMaggio reached in 1937. Mantle is four games ahead of Ruth's pace for his record season of 1927, when the Babe hit 60.

Webb Upsets Rory Calhoun

Hands Middleweight First Loss In Career

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP) — Spider Webb, an ex-Olympic boxer, handed favored Rory Calhoun of New York his first defeat in 24 bouts on a unanimous decision in a thrilling 10-round middleweight bout at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Webb, 24, from Chicago, took the best shots of the plodding Calhoun, who blew an apparent chance for a third-round knockout.

In the third round of the bristling nationally-televised bout, Calhoun, who had almost a six-pound weight advantage, slugged Webb into the corner with a tremendous right to the jaw.

Thinking Webb would sink to the floor off the ropes, Calhoun turned and walked away. But Webb bounced right back and weathered out the round which ended with both fighters, swinging viciously seconds after the bell.

Referee Joey White voted for Webb, a 9-5 underdog, 46-44. Judge Howard Walsh called it for Webb, only out of the Army three months, by a 46-45 margin. The other judge, Louis Capparelli, voted for Webb, 45-44.

The Associated Press saw it for Webb, 47-46.

Calhoun, a rugged 22-year-old son of an Atlanta, Ga., Baptist minister, weighed 162 for this match which found him seventh ranked in the latest Ring magazine middleweight ratings.

The unranked Webb weighed 156½.

It appeared Calhoun had the power in his punches to end the eight abruptly at any time. However, for some reason, Rory elected to box with the clever Webb.

This was a mistake, especially in the middle rounds where Webb's speed and cleverness eluded Calhoun's best punches.

The announced attendance was 1,848 with a net gate of $1,699.

Melody Manor Ties Old Gees

Teams Battle To 11 Inning 1-1 Deadlock

Melody Manor battled the Potomac Valley Old Germans to a 1-1 deadlock called after 11 innings because of darkness in the second game of their final playoff series in the County Softball League.

Junior Brelsford and Jerry O'Baker hooked up in an old-fashioned pitching duel with both twirlers allowing only five hits as their teammates played errorless ball.

Gene Basilio accounted for the Potomac Valley run when he smashed a home run in the first inning, but the Old Germans who captured the league's regular season pennant could do little with O'Baker after that.

Brelsford, who has won 22 games this season for Potomac Valley, including a 9-2 decision over Melody Manor in the opener of this series, allowed the tying run in the second frame.

A pair of walks put two men on in the second and Cessna scored on a passed ball for Melody Manor.

P VALLEY	100	000	000	00—1	5	0
MELODY MANOR	010	000	000	00—1	5	0

Brelsford and Yenkelevitz, Hanna (5). O'Baker and Abucevic.

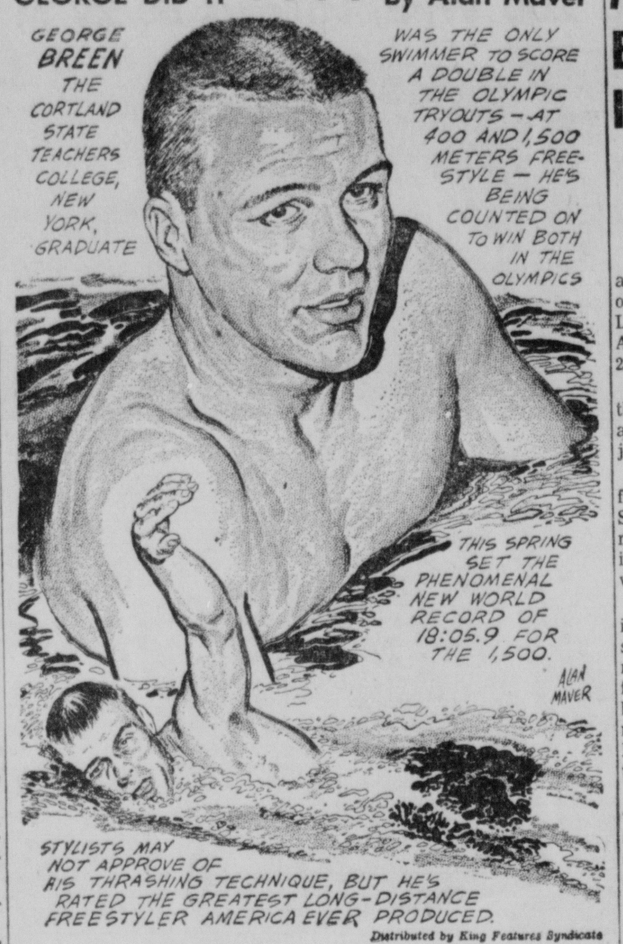
GEORGE DID IT - - - - - By Alan Maver



Whitney Martin's Sports Trail

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—If all the September games in the National League were to be played in Broken Bow, Neb. or Kalamazoo, Mich., we'd have to like the Milwaukee Braves to win the pennant.

That is, given a neutral field we believe the Braves could hold their own or a little bit better. The opposition would have no advantage, unless the Broken Bow or Kalamazoo or other fans in neutral territory suddenly developed a marked distaste for the Milwaukee players and put insect powder in their soup.

As the September schedule now stands, though, we have to lean toward the Brooklyn Dodgers, who will be practically sitting on their back porch all the month with a shillelagh daring everyone to try to take the pennant.

Whoever made out the schedule seems to have had a soft spot in his head for the Bums. Brooklyn's schedule for the month calls for 20 games at home and only six on the road. Two of those road games are in the Polo Grounds, about as far away as the woodshed.

In contrast the Dodgers' two leading rivals will spend the month packing and unpacking their trunks. Milwaukee has 15 games on the road and nine at home, and Cincinnati has 17 on tour and only seven at home.

Now in theory this schedule arrangement shouldn't make any difference. Each team has to play 77 games at home and 77 away, so none should have an edge.

But in a close race the site of the games makes a tremendous difference in the closing weeks, particularly as the fans' enthusiasm is running high giving the home club a psychological lift.

Nobody has been able to figure out just how much a home field means to a team in terms of runs or hits or errors, but the edge is there.

Last season every National League club had a much better record at home than it did on the road. In fact, every team but the last-place Pirates played better than .500 ball at home.

Grant To Return To Tennis Wars

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 29 (INS)—Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, fabled tennis player of nearly a generation ago, is plotting today to overcome his old nemesis—the grass court.

The five-foot, four-inch dynamo, now a graying 45 and the father of two children, returns to Forest Hills Friday for his 13th appearance in the Nationals. It will be his first appearance in the Seniors in what he terms his "public farwell to a game that has been wonderful to me."

The senior event is a United States Lawn Tennis Association-sponsored tourney for men 45-and-over that runs concurrently with the singles event.

Erdelatz Pleased At Navy Practice

Erdelatz said the Middies "did very well on offense," and he had praise for all three quarterback candidates who are gunning for the spot vacated by George Welsh. Pat Flood is working out as the number one signal-caller, but Tom Forrestal and Gus Prahalis are close behind.

Donald Jahn, a halfback who spent most of last season on the junior varsity, has been moved up to the varsity squad on the basis of his performance in the two scrimmage sessions.

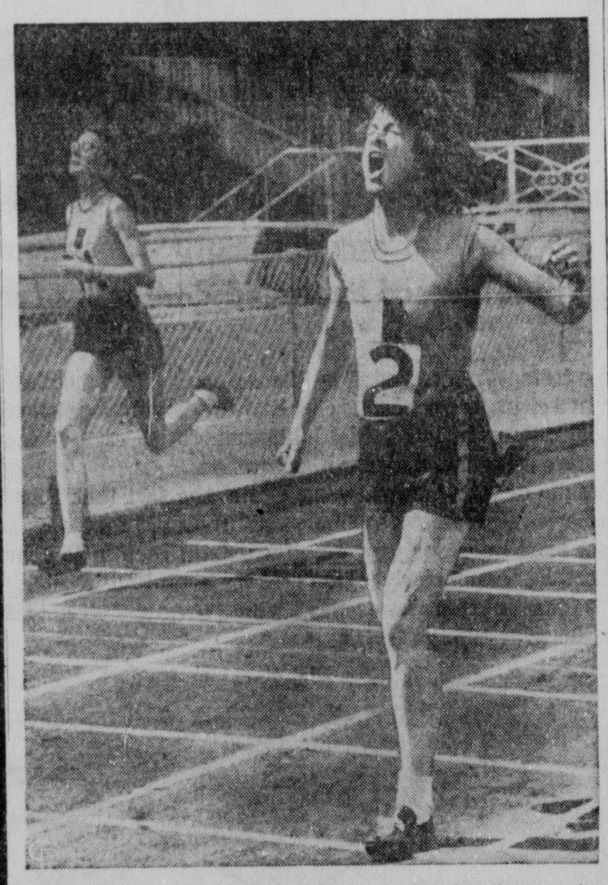
A "Pocket" Homer

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Gary Benson literally "pocketed" himself a home run in a little League baseball game here.

With a man on first, Gary dropped a bunt in front of the catcher in a sacrifice attempt.

The alert catcher pounced on the ball quickly and tagged Gary about halfway to first base. But the baseball got caught in Gary's hip pocket. He circled the bases, pulled the ball out of his pocket and threw it on the ground. The puzzled scorer credited him with a home run.

HOWLING SUCCESS?



ALTHOUGH it looks like Janet Ruff is letting out a cheer as she crosses the finish line first in the 440-yard run in London, such is not the case. Janet actually was gasping for breath as she set a new women's mark in the event, part of the British Olympic track and field trials. (International)

Mike Long Blanks A's In Playoff

Dapper Red Sox Win Opener, 2-0

Mike Long tossed a one-hitter and blanked the Athletics in the opener of the Dapper Dan Little League playoffs last night at Penn Avenue field. The Red Sox won, 2-0.

A pair of first inning tallies iced the contest early for the Red Sox as Long pitched out of several jams and struck out seven.

Wellington Donahue allowed only five hits in bowing to the victors. Singles by Harold Hardinger, Jimmy Cox and Bill Sheetz and an infield error accounted for the winning tallies.

Long had a no-hitter for four innings before Jimmy Rice's single spoiled it to open the fifth. An error and a walk loaded the bases for the Athletics with none out but Long bore down to fan Witherow and Charles Cross and got Donahue on an outfield fly to retire the side without a run.

The A's threatened in the second with two out when two miscues and a base on balls crammed the sacks but a pop out ended the frame.

The two teams will meet in the second game of the best-of-three series tonight at 8 p. m. at Penn Avenue.

The Red Sox won the Dapper Division playoffs and the Athletics the Dan League to gain the finals. The score:

ATHLETICS	000	000—0	1 1
RED SOX	200	00x—2	5 3

Redlegs Edge New York, 4-3

CINCINNATI, Aug. 29 (AP) — The little men in Cincinnati's lineup did the damage tonight as Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple drove in decisive runs to give the Redlegs a 4-3 victory over the New York Giants. The victory gave the Reds a sweep of the two-game series with New York and kept them in hot pursuit of Milwaukee and Brooklyn for the National League lead.

McMillan and Temple got a lot of help from some tight relief pitching by Art Fowler, who relieved starter Johnny Klippstein in the fourth.

McMillan drove in two runs in the second and Temple drove in what proved to be the decisive tally in the fourth.

Alex Grammas, another player who doesn't figure in Cincinnati's power attack, got three hits.

The Giants got away to a 1-0 lead in the second but in the Reds' half McMillan's two-run double came after Wally Post walked and Ed Bailey doubled. Temple's single scored McMillan.

The Giants knotted it in the fourth as they drove Klippstein to cover but in Cincinnati's half, Grammas doubled, went to third on an infield out and scored on Temple's single.

Tribe Downs Orioles 3-2 At Baltimore

Wertz' Sacrifice Fly In 8th Gives Tribe Winning Run

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians squeaked by with a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles tonight when Vic Wertz drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning.

Starting Oriole pitcher Mike Fornieles was coasting along on three scattered hits until the sixth, when the Indians pushed across two runs. After two were out, Dave Pope singled and Rocky Colavito tripled him home. Wertz followed with a single to center, scoring Colavito, but Gene Woodling fanned to end the inning.

Cleveland had a strong threat going in the eighth but managed to put only one run across. After Bobby Avila singled, Bill Wight replaced Fornieles for Baltimore and pinch-hitter Jim Busby singled, sending Avila to second. Both advanced on a double steal Colavito was walked and Wertz drove in his second run with a 400-foot sacrifice fly.

Fornieles was charged with his seventh loss compared to three wins. Indian starter Mike Garcia failed to even his record, which stands at 10-11, and the victory went to Don Mossi, his sixth in 10 decisions.

Babe Is Cheerful Despite Illness

GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 29 (AP)—Babe Didrickson Zaharias, famed woman athlete, retained a cheerful attitude today though weak and tired from her fight against cancer.

Fed through her veins since last Saturday, the Babe told her sister, Mrs. Lillie Grimes of Beaumont, she wanted to eat, most of all, "some jelly beans, pork and beans and a big old raw onion sandwich."

"They were the things I liked best when I was a kid," she said. "I can smell those onions now."

An official bulletin on her condition by Dr. G.A.W. Currie at John Sealy Hospital where Mrs. Zaharais is being treated said, "Mrs. Zaharias has had no additional trouble and is entirely comfortable."

Roberts Scores 15th Over Cardinals, 8-6

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Philadelphia ace Robin Roberts survived a shaky start tonight to get an 8-6 victory over St. Louis as the Phillies, led by Del Ennis, battered four Cardinal pitchers for 14 hits.

Roberts was tagged for 12 hits, including four doubles and a homer, but held on to even his season record at 15-15. He stands 2-2 against the Cards, who have reached him for 21 runs in 34 innings.

He put down a ninth-inning Cardinal uprising which saw the Redbirds score once on Don Blasingame's single, an infield out and Stan Musial's single.

Roberts trailed 4-0 after two innings but bore down after the Phillies got him a lead.

Ennis batted in three runs with a homer, double and sacrifice fly. Ex-Cardinal Solly Hemus had three singles.

Dorow To Join Washington Team

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 (INS) — Quarterback Al Dorow of the Washington Redskins, who was injured in an auto accident 11 days ago, is on his way back to rejoin his team.

Dorow was released from Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital yesterday and sent to Washington, D. C., to wait for the team.

Redskin Halfback Vic Janiwicz, who was hurt in another auto wreck, was reported to be making "satisfactory progress" at the same hospital. He suffered head injuries.

Cresaptown Eagles Play LaVale Today

The Cresaptown Eagles and LaVale's Orioles will clash today at 6 p.m., at LaVale in the first game of a best-of-three final playoff series in the Pen-Mar Little League.

Second game of the series is set for Tuesday at Cresaptown.

Cresaptown reached the finals by winning two out of three games from Barrelville. The Orioles won the pennant and then whipped Ellerslie two straight to gain the finals.

Larry Burns Wins, Walks 11 Batters

B'nai B'rith notched the opening victory of the final playoffs with the Times-News tossers in the Hot Stove League last night, outlasting the Newsies, 10-7, in a wild error and walk-filled game.

Larry Burns, ace righthander for the B'rithmen held the pennant winners to one hit and struck out 10 but a wild streak in the last inning derricked him in favor of Ellis "Turtle" Slonaker.

The losers chipped in with nine errors to aid the downfall of their top hurler, Donald Nave, who was touched for only five bingles. However, three of the hits by B'nai B'rith were triples as the winners scored in every inning.

Slonaker banged out a pair of three-baggers and a single to pace the B'rithmen attack while Burns had a triple and George Cousins a single to account for the other hits.

Ted McGraw's first inning single was the only base knock obtained by the Times-News, but the losers took advantage of 11 passes issued by Burns to score single tallies in the third and sixth and then five more in a desperate last inning rally.

Burns walked five consecutive batters with one away to force in two runs in the seventh and was lifted for Slonaker who then passed two more to give the Newsies four runs. With the bases jammed Manager Jimmy Collins called on First Baseman Bob Imes to relieve Slonaker.

Imes walked the first man to face him to force in the fifth run for the Newsies but then struck out Weltman and Delegrange to end the fiasco.

The two teams will meet in the second game of the series tonight at 6 p. m. at Penn Avenue. The score:

Yankees Rally To Beat A's, 7-6; Cleveland Scores, 3-2

Mickey Makes 3-Run Error In First But Bats In Winning Run

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)-Mickey Mantle's bat did more damage to the Kansas City Athletics today than his fielding did to his own team and the Yankees squeaked through in the ninth inning to beat the A's 7-6.

Mantle muffed a fly ball with the bases full in the first inning and sent the A's off to a 4-0 lead before they even got a hit. Then he clouted his 46th home run of the season in the third inning. And with two out and the score tied in the ninth, Mickey singled and scored Gil McDougald, the other principal perpetrator of Yankee errors, with the winning run.

The game, the last of the season here between the two clubs, was a sloppy affair from which the Yanks were lucky to emerge with their 16th victory in 19 clashes with Kansas City. The Yankees made four errors, two by McDougald. The Athletics made one playing error plus what may have been an error in judgment by Coach Harry Craft, who subbed for ailing Manager Lou Boudreau.

With one out in the ninth, relief pticher Jack Crimian gave up a home run to pinch hitter Joe Collins and walked Mickey McDermott. Craft called on left hander Bobby Shantz to replace Crimian, who had retired 11 men in succession before Collins' homer. Shantz got Enos Slaughter on strikes, but McDougald and Yogi Berra came through with base hits and Tom Carroll, running for McDermott, scored the tying run. Mantle then knocked in the winner.

In the third Mickey hit homer 46 with the bases empty and tied Joe DiMaggio for the No. 3 position in all-time Yankee homer production for one season. Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig have hit more than 46, a mark DiMaggio reached in 1937. Mantle is four games ahead of Ruth's pace for his record season of 1927, when the Babe hit 60.

Webb Upsets Rory Calhoun

Hands Middleweight First Loss In Career

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP) — Spider Webb, an ex-Olympic boxer, handed favored Rory Calhoun of New York his first defeat in 24 bouts on a unanimous decision in a thrilling 10-round middleweight bout at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Webb, 24, from Chicago, took the best shots of the plodding Calhoun, who blew an apparent chance for a third-round knockout.

In the third round of the bristling nationally-televised bout, Calhoun, who had almost a six-pound weight advantage, slugged Webb into the corner with a tremendous right to the jaw.

Thinking Webb would sink to the floor off the ropes, Calhoun turned and walked away. But Webb bounced right back and weathered out the round which ended with both fighters swinging viciously seconds after the bell.

Referee Joey White voted for Webb, a 9-5 underdog, 46-44. Judge Howard Walsh called it for Webb, only out of the Army three months, by a 46-45 margin. The other judge, Louis Capparelli, voted for Webb, 45-44.

The Associated Press saw it for Webb, 47-46.

Calhoun, a rugged 22-year-old son of an Atlanta, Ga., Baptist minister, weighed 162 for this match which found him seventh ranked in the latest Ring magazine middleweight ratings.

The unranked Webb weighed 156½.

It appeared Calhoun had the power in his punches to end the eight abruptly at any time. However, for some reason, Rory elected to box with the clever Webb.

This was a mistake, especially in the middle rounds where Webb's speed and cleverness eluded Calhoun's best punches.

The announced attendance was 1,848 with a net gate of $1,699.

Melody Manor Ties Old Gees

Teams Battle To 11 Inning 1-1 Deadlock

Melody Manor battled the Potomac Valley Old Germans to a 1-1 deadlock called after 11 innings because of darkness in the second game of their final playoff series in the County Softball League.

Junior Brelsford and Jerry O'Baker hooked up in an old-fashioned pitching duel with both twirlers allowing only five hits as their teammates played errorless ball.

Gene Basilio accounted for the Potomac Valley run when he smashed a home run in the first inning, but the Old Germans who captured the league's regular season pennant could do little with O'Baker after that.

Brelsford, who has won 22 games this season for Potomac Valley, including a 9-2 decision over Melody Manor in the opener of this series, allowed the tying run in the second frame.

A pair of walks put two men on in the second and Cessna scored on a passed ball for Melody Manor.

P VALLEY	100	000	000	00—1	5	0
MELODY MANOR	010	000	000	00—1	5	0

Brelsford and Yenkelevitz, Hanna (5). O'Baker and Abucevic. (Called after 11 innings, darkness).

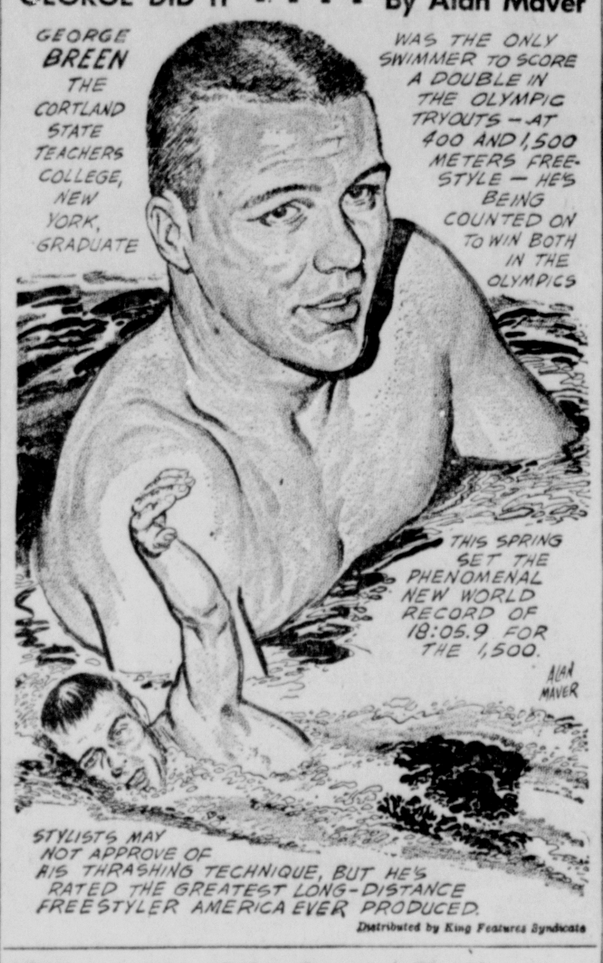
GEORGE DID IT - - - - By Alan Maver



Whitney Martin's Sports Trail

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—If all the September games in the National League were to be played in Broken Bow, Neb. or Kalamazoo, Mich., we'd have to like the Milwaukee Braves to win the pennant.

That is, given a neutral field we believe the Braves could hold their own or a little bit better. The opposition would have no advantage, unless the Broken Bow or Kalamazoo or other fans in neutral territory suddenly developed a marked distaste for the Milwaukee players and put insect powder in their soup.

As the September schedule now stands, though, we have to lean toward the Brooklyn Dodgers, who will be practically sitting on their back porch all the month with a shillelagh daring everyone to try to take the pennant.

Whoever made out the schedule seems to have had a soft spot in his head for the Bums. Brooklyn's schedule for the month calls for 20 games at home and only six on the road. Two of those road games are in the Polo Grounds, about as far away as the woodshed.

In contrast the Dodgers' two leading rivals will spend the month packing and unpacking their trunks. Milwaukee has 15 games on the road and nine at home, and Cincinnati has 17 on tour and only seven at home.

Now in theory this schedule arrangement shouldn't make any difference. Each team has to play 77 games at home and 77 away, so none should have an edge.

But in a close race the site of the games makes a tremendous difference in the closing weeks, particularly as the fans' enthusiasm is running high giving the home club a psychological lift.

Nobody has been able to figure out just how much a home field means to a team in terms of runs or hits or errors, but the edge is there.

Last season every National League club had a much better record at home than it did on the road. In fact, every team but the last-place Pirates played better than .500 ball at home.

Grant To Return To Tennis Wars

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 29 (INS) —Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant, fabled tennis player of nearly a generation ago, is plotting today to overcome his old nemesis—the grass court.

The five-foot, four-inch dynamo, now a graying 45 and the father of two children, returns to Forest Hills Friday for his 13th appearance in the Nationals. It will be his first appearance in the Seniors in what he terms his "public farwell to a game that has been wonderful to me."

The senior event is a United States Lawn Tennis Association-sponsored tourney for men 45-and-over that runs concurrently with the singles event.

Erdelatz Pleased At Navy Practice

Erdelatz said the Middies "did very well on offense," and he had praise for all three quarterback candidates who are gunning for the spot vacated by George Welsh. Pat Flood is working out as the number one signal-caller, but Tom Forrestal and Gus Prahalis are close behind.

Donald Jahn, a halfback who spent most of last season on the junior varsity, has been moved up to the varsity squad on the basis of his performance in the two scrimmage sessions.

A "Pocket" Homer

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Gary Benson literally "pocketed" himself a home run in a little League baseball game here.

With a man on first, Gary dropped a bunt in front of the catcher in a sacrifice attempt.

The alert catcher pounced on the ball quickly and tagged Gary about halfway to first base. But the baseball got caught in Gary's hip pocket. He circled the bases, pulled the ball out of his pocket and threw it on the ground. The puzzled scorer credited him with a home run.

Mike Long Blanks A's In Playoff

Dapper Red Sox Win Opener, 2-0

Mike Long tossed a one-hitter and blanked the Athletics in the opener of the Dapper Dan Little League playoffs last night at Penn Avenue field. The Red Sox won, 2-0.

A pair of first inning tallies iced the contest early for the Red Sox as Long pitched out of several jams and struck out seven.

Wellington Donahue allowed only five hits in bowing to the victors. Singles by Harold Hardinger, Jimmy Cox and Bill Sheetz and an infield error accounted for the winning tallies.

Long had a no-hitter for four innings before Jimmy Rice's single spoiled it to open the fifth. An error and a walk loaded the bases for the Athletics with none out but Long bore down to fan Witherow and Charles Cross and got Donahue on an outfield fly to retire the side without a run.

The A's threatened in the second with two out when two miscues and a base on balls crammed the sacks but a pop out ended the frame.

The two teams will meet in the second game of the best-of-three series tonight at 8 p. m. at Penn Avenue.

The Red Sox won the Dapper Division playoffs and the Athletics the Dan League to gain the finals.

The score:

ATHLETICS	000	000—0	1 1

Redlegs Edge New York, 4-3

CINCINNATI, Aug. 29 (AP) — The little men in Cincinnati's lineup did the damage tonight as Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple drove in decisive runs to give the Redlegs a 4-3 victory over the New York Giants. The victory gave the Reds a sweep of the two-game series with New York and kept them in hot pursuit of Milwaukee and Brooklyn for the National League lead.

McMillan and Temple got a lot of help from some tight relief pitching by Art Fowler, who relieved starter Johnny Klippstein in the fourth.

McMillan drove in two runs in the second and Temple drove in what proved to be the decisive tally in the fourth.

Alex Grammas, another player who doesn't figure in Cincinnati's power attack, got three hits.

The Giants got away to a 1-0 lead in the second but in the Reds' half McMillan's two-run double came after Wally Post walked and Ed Bailey doubled. Temple's single scored McMillan.

The Giants knotted it in the fourth as they drove Klippstein to cover but in Cincinnati's half, Grammas doubled, went to third on an infield out and scored on Temple's single.

Tribe Downs Orioles 3-2 At Baltimore

Wertz' Sacrifice Fly In 8th Gives Tribe Winning Run

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians squeaked by with a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles tonight when Vic Wertz drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning.

Starting Oriole pitcher Mike Fornieles was coasting along on three scattered hits until the sixth, when the Indians pushed across two runs. After two were out, Dave Pope singled and Rocky Colavito tripled him home. Wertz followed with a single to center, scoring Colavito, but Gene Woodling fanned to end the inning.

Cleveland had a strong threat going in the eighth but managed to put only one run across. After Bobby Avila singled, Bill Wight replaced Fornieles for Baltimore and pinch-hitter Jim Busby singled, sending Avila to second. Both advanced on a double steal Colavito was walked and Wertz drove in his second run with a 400-foot sacrifice fly.

Fornieles was charged with his seventh loss compared to three wins. Indian starter Mike Garcia failed to even his record, which stands at 10-11, and the victory went to Don Mossi, his sixth in 10 decisions.

Babe Is Cheerful Despite Illness

GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 29 (AP)—Babe Didrickson Zaharias, famed woman athlete, retained a cheerful attitude today though weak and tired from her fight against cancer.

Fed through her veins since last Saturday, the Babe told her sister, Mrs. Lillie Grimes of Beaumont, she wanted to eat, most of all, "some jelly beans, pork and beans and a big old raw onion sandwich."

"They were the things I liked best when I was a kid," she said. "I can smell those onions now."

An official bulletin on her condition by Dr. G.A.W. Currie at John Sealy Hospital where Mrs. Zaharais is being treated said, "Mrs. Zaharias has had no additional trouble and is entirely comfortable."

B'nai B'rith Rips Newsies In Wild Contest, 10 To 7

Larry Burns Wins, Walks 11 Batters

B'nai B'rith notched the opening victory of the final playoffs with the Times-News tossers in the Hot Stove League last night, outlasting the Newsies, 10-7, in a wild error and walk-filled game.

Larry Burns, ace righthander for the B'rithmen held the pennant winners to one hit and struck out 10 but a wild streak in the last inning derricked him in favor of Ellis "Turtle" Slonaker.

The losers chipped in with nine errors to aid the downfall of their top hurler, Donald Nave, who was touched for only five bingles. However, three of the hits by B'nai B'rith were triples as the winners scored in every inning.

Slonaker banged out a pair of three-baggers and a single to pace the B'rithmen attack while Burns had a triple and George Cousins a single to account for the other hits.

Ted McGraw's first inning single was the only base knock obtained by the Times-News, but the losers took advantage of 11 passes issued by Burns to score single tallies in the third and sixth and then five more in a desperate last inning rally.

Burns walked five consecutive batters with one away to force in two runs in the seventh and was lifted for Slonaker who then passed two more to give the Newsies four runs. With the bases jammed Manager Jimmy Collins called on First Baseman Bob Imes to relieve Slonaker.

Imes walked the first man to face him to force in the fifth run for the Newsies but then struck out Weltman and Delegrange to end the fiasco.

The two teams will meet in the second game of the series tonight at 6 p. m. at Penn Avenue. The score:

Roberts Scores 15th Over Cardinals, 8-6

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Philadelphia ace Robin Roberts survived a shaky start tonight to get an 8-6 victory over St. Louis as the Phillies, led by Del Ennis, battered four Cardinal pitchers for 14 hits.

Roberts was tagged for 12 hits, including four doubles and a homer, but held on to even his season record at 15-15. He stands 2-2 against the Cards, who have reached him for 21 runs in 34 innings.

He put down a ninth-inning Cardinal uprising which saw the Redbirds score once on Don Blasingame's single, an infield out and Stan Musial's single.

Roberts trailed 4-0 after two innings but bore down after the Phillies got him a lead.

Ennis batted in three runs with a homer, double and sacrifice fly. Ex-Cardinal Solly Hemus had three singles.

Ring Ratings Changed With Smith Defeat

Brown To Receive "Fighter" Award

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — The defeat of Wallace (Bud) Smith and the retirement of Robert Cohen brought two major changes in the Ring magazine ratings of boxers today.

Joe Brown of New Orleans lifted the lightweight title from Smith last week and in addition to automatic elevation to the top of the list, he earned the Ring's designation as "Fighter of the Month." Smith, beaten four times this year, was dropped to third place among the title contenders. Duilio Loi of Italy is rated the No. 1 challenger and Cisco Andrade of Compton, Calif. second.

Cohen, former bantamweight champion, was rated No. 3 in that class when he retired. The men behind him all were moved up one notch in the ratings and 10th place went to German Ohm of Mexico, who has lost only one fight in two years.

Germany's Gerhard Hecht is the No. 1 contender for Archie Moore's light-heavyweight crown with only three Americans on the list.

Moore still is regarded as the No. 1 contender for the vacant heavyweight title. Willie Pastrano of New Orleans moved into the No. 4 spot, replacing Bob Baker, on the strength of his victory over previously-unbeaten Pat McMurtry. Eddie Machen's knockout of Walter Hafer jumped the Redding, Calif. heavyweight from eighth to sixth place.

Interracial Ban Blocks Broadcast

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29 (AP) — The Sugar Bowl confirmed today it was having difficulty in arranging television and radio broadcasts of its 1957 football game because of the state's law banning interracial athletics.

Paul A. DeBlanc, president of the Mid-Winter Sports Assn., Sugar Bowl sponsor, said the association had asked Gov. Earl K. Long to include in a special session call, a proposal to change the law which goes into effect Oct. 15.

The National Broadcasting Company and the American Broadcasting Company have indicated they could not secure a national sponsor for our classic because of Act 579," DeBlanc said in a statement.

Lou Boudreau III, Goes To Hospital

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau of the Kansas City Athletics was taken to a hospital early today suffering from high fever and chills and is expected to remain for two or three days.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, New York Yankees' physician, ordered the "no visitors" sign out at Lenox Hill Hospital because Boudreau had not slept all night.

Dr. Gaynor attributed the illness to after effects from the extraction of a wisdom tooth on Monday, and said the Kansas City pilot "also seems to have a throat infection."

Light Horse Harry To Retire From Military Service

MITCHEL AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Col. Harry E. Wilson, "Light Horse Harry" to Army football fans of a generation ago who gloried in his feats against the Navy, will retire from active military service Friday.

Col. Wilson, now assistant deputy chief of staff for operations of the Continental Air Command, played against the Navy seven times for Penn State and Army and was on the losing side only once.

Wilson was one of the "post-graduate" players of the early 1920's who carried Army through four years without a loss to Navy, a situation which led to a brief break in relations between the service academies. He was regarded as one of the best backfield men ever to play for West Point.

At that time all cadets were eligible for varsity athletics for four years at West Point regardless of previous experience. Navy adhered to the college three-year eligibility rule and after the 1927 game broke off relations until Army adopted the same rule.

Nats Lose 9-7 To White Sox

Wilson Breaks Losing Streak

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Despite a six run rally in the ninth inning, Washington lost to the Chicago White Sox 9-7 today as Jim Wilson broke a personal eight-game losing streak with the aid of Ellis Kinder.

Wilson, who hasn't won a game since July 3, owned a three-hitter entering the last inning, when the Senators accumulated six hits and got the potential tying run to the plate.

Whitey Herzog singled and Pete Runnels doubled to start the uprising and Herzog scored when Roy Sievers grounded out. Clint Courtney walked and the runners advanced when Herb Plews grounded out. Ernie Oravetz doubled across two runs, and Jim Lemon supplied a pinch triple to chase Wilson.

Ed FitzGerald welcomed Kinder with a double, scoring Lemon, and Ed Yost followed with a single to center, scoring FitzGerald, who had continued to third base on Jim Delsing's fumble. Shortstop Luis Aparicio then went far to his left and whipped out Herzog on a hotly disputed play at first base for the final out.

The White Sox mauled Bob Wiesler, Hal Griggs, Connie Grob and Bob Chakales for 14 hits, with Nellie Fox getting four and Minnie Minoso and Walt Dropo collecting three each.

Thompson Sets Qualifying Mark For Stock Car Race

$45,000 7th Annual Event Goes Monday

DARLINGTON, S. C., Aug. 29 (AP) — Speedy Thompson of Monroe, N. C., whipped his white Chrysler to a new track qualifying record of 118.683 miles per hour today to win the pole position in Monday's Southern 500-mile Stock Car Race.

Four other drivers qualified to earn choice starting positions for the $45,000 seventh annual "world series" of auto racing, and each bettered the old qualifying mark.

Five drivers will be qualified each day until Saturday, when a general scramble will be held to fill the remainder of the starting field of 75 cars. The winner will take home some $20,000.

Thompson, a veteran car jockey who always has been high among the winners in the National Assn. of Auto Stock Car Racing point standings, started his qualifying run after rain had drenched the mile and three-eighths Darlington International Raceway paved oval for nearly an hour.

With the track given sufficient time to dry out, and thus cool off somewhat from the near 100 degree temperatures, Thompson pushed the 300 horsepower Chrysler four laps (5½ miles) around the oval to easily eclipse the old mark of 112.781 miles per hour set last year by Fonty Flock of Atlanta. Flock, incidentally, led the 1955 marathon for more than half the distance before he hit the wall and blew a tire.

Turning in the second fastest time today was Marvin Panch, Gardena, Calif. Driving a Ford, he qualified at 118.046 to earn the second spot in the front row. The third spot went to Bill Amick of Portland, Ore., also driving a Ford. He was clocked at 116.821 miles per hour.

The other two qualifiers were Paul Goldsmith, Lake Shores, Mich., at 116.238, and Herb Thomas of Sanford, N. C., last year's winner, at 114.969. Goldsmith and Thomas drove Chevrolets. They earned the first two spots in the second row.

Lost Turnstile

BALTIMORE (AP)—The public address announcer gave 38,447 as the paid attendance for a Baltimore Colts intra-squad football game.

To most fans who had nearly packed Memorial Stadium at $1 a head for this charity contest, the count seemed short.

A few days later, however, it was disclosed that ticket handlers had failed to include receipts from one turnstile. The revised count: 40,255.

Signs Of The Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants denies that other teams are stealing his signals.

When asked about this situation after Red Schoendienst was picked off first base in a hit-run spot, Rigney shouted "impossible."

The pilot said: "That wasn't the sign. Besides we change our signs every day!"

Althea Gibson Confident She Can Win Title

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Althea Gibson kicks off the diamond jubilee National Tennis Championships Friday confident she can become the first Negro to win a major net title in the United States.

"I feel sure I can win," the tall New York girl said after a brief warmup today.

Miss Gibson meets Mrs. Nell Hopman, wife of Australia's captain, in the opening match.

Seeded second in the women's division, she is expected to find her principal stumbling block in Shirley Fry, top-seeded favorite who beat her en route to the Wimbledon title last month.

Ulf Schmidt, Sweden, vs. Allen Morris, Atlanta.

Ring Ratings Changed With Smith Defeat

Brown To Receive "Fighter" Award

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — The defeat of Wallace (Bud) Smith and the retirement of Robert Cohen brought two major changes in the Ring magazine ratings of boxers today.

Joe Brown of New Orleans lifted the lightweight title from Smith last week and in addition to automatic elevation to the top of the list, he earned the Ring's designation as "Fighter of the Month." Smith, beaten four times this year, was dropped to third place among the title contenders. Duilio Loi of Italy is rated the No. 1 challenger and Cisco Andrade of Compton, Calif. second.

Cohen, former bantamweight champion, was rated No. 3 in that class when he retired. The men behind him all were moved up one notch in the ratings and 10th place went to German Ohm of Mexico, who has lost only one fight in two years.

Germany's Gerhard Hecht is the No. 1 contender for Archie Moore's light-heavyweight crown with only three Americans on the list.

Moore still is regarded as the No. 1 contender for the vacant heavyweight title. Willie Pastrano of New Orleans moved into the No. 4 spot, replacing Bob Baker, on the strength of his victory over previously-unbeaten Pat McMurtry. Eddie Machen's knockout of Walter Hafer jumped the Redding, Calif. heavyweight from eighth to sixth place.

Light Horse Harry To Retire From Military Service

MITCHEL AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Col. Harry E. Wilson, "Light Horse Harry" to Army football fans of a generation ago who gloried in his feats against the Navy, will retire from active military service Friday.

Col. Wilson, now assistant deputy chief of staff for operations of the Continental Air Command, played against the Navy seven times for Penn State and Army and was on the losing side only once.

Wilson was one of the "postgraduate" players of the early 1920's who carried Army through four years without a loss to Navy, a situation which led to a brief break in relations between the service academies. He was regarded as one of the best backfield men ever to play for West Point.

At that time all cadets were eligible for varsity athletics for four years at West Point regardless of previous experience. Navy adhered to the college three-year eligibility rule and after the 1927 game broke off relations until Army adopted the same rule.

Nats Lose 9-7 To White Sox

Wilson Breaks Losing Streak

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Despite a six run rally in the ninth inning, Washington lost to the Chicago White Sox 9-7 today as Jim Wilson broke a personal eight-game losing streak with the aid of Ellis Kinder.

Wilson, who hasn't won a game since July 3, owned a three-hitter entering the last inning, when the Senators accumulated six hits and got the potential tying run to the plate.

Whitey Herzog singled and Pete Runnels doubled to start the uprising and Herzog scored when Roy Sievers grounded out. Clint Courtney walked and the runners advanced when Herb Plews grounded out. Ernie Oravetz doubled across two runs, and Jim Lemon supplied a pinch triple to chase Wilson.

Ed FitzGerald welcomed Kinder with a double, scoring Lemon, and Ed Yost followed with a single to center, scoring FitzGerald, who had continued to third base on Jim Delsing's fumble. Shortstop Luis Aparicio then went far to his left and whipped out Herzog on a hotly disputed play at first base for the final out.

The White Sox mauled Bob Wiesler, Hal Griggs, Connie Grob and Bob Chakales for 14 hits, with Nellie Fox getting four and Minnie Minoso and Walt Dropo collecting three each.

Thompson Sets Qualifying Mark For Stock Car Race

$45,000 7th Annual Event Goes Monday

DARLINGTON, S. C., Aug. 29 (AP) — Speedy Thompson of Monroe, N. C., whipped his white Chrysler to a new track qualifying record of 118.683 miles per hour today to win the pole position in Monday's Southern 500-mile Stock Car Race.

Four other drivers qualified to earn choice starting positions for the $45,000 seventh annual "world series" of auto racing, and each bettered the old qualifying mark.

Five drivers will be qualified each day until Saturday, when a general scramble will be held to fill the remainder of the starting field of 75 cars. The winner will take home some $20,000.

Thompson, a veteran car jockey who always has been high among the winners in the National Assn. of Auto Stock Car Racing point standings, started his qualifying run after rain had drenched the mile and three-eighths Darlington International Raceway paved oval for nearly an hour.

With the track given sufficient time to dry out, and thus cool off somewhat from the near 100 degree temperatures, Thompson pushed the 300 horsepower Chrysler four laps (5½ miles) around the oval to easily eclipse the old mark of 112.781 miles per hour set last year by Fonty Flock of Atlanta. Flock, incidentally, led the 1955 marathon for more than half the distance before he hit the wall and blew a tire.

Turning in the second fastest time today was Marvin Panch, Gardena, Calif. Driving a Ford, he qualified at 118.046 to earn the second spot in the front row. The third spot went to Bill Amick of Portland, Ore., also driving a Ford. He was clocked at 116.821 miles per hour.

The other two qualifiers were Paul Goldsmith, Lake Shores, Mich., at 116.238, and Herb Thomas of Sanford, N. C., last year's winner, at 114.969. Goldsmith and Thomas drove Chevrolets. They earned the first two spots in the second row.

Lost Turnstile

BALTIMORE (AP)—The public address announcer gave 38,447 as the paid attendance for a Baltimore Colts intra-squad football game.

To most fans who had nearly packed Memorial Stadium at $1 a head for this charity contest, the count seemed short.

A few days later, however, it was disclosed that ticket handlers had failed to include receipts from one turnstile. The revised count: 40,255.

Interracial Ban Blocks Broadcast

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29 (AP) — The Sugar Bowl confirmed today it was having difficulty in arranging television and radio broadcasts of its 1957 football game because of the state's law banning interracial athletics.

Paul A. DeBlanc, president of the Mid-Winter Sports Assn., Sugar Bowl sponsor, said the association had asked Gov. Earl K. Long to include in a special session call, a proposal to change the law which goes into effect Oct. 15.

The National Broadcasting Company and the American Broadcasting Company have indicated they could not secure a national sponsor for our classic because of Act 579," DeBlanc said in a statement.

Lou Boudreau III, Goes To Hospital

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau of the Kansas City Athletics was taken to a hospital early today suffering from high fever and chills and is expected to remain for two or three days.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, New York Yankees' physician, ordered the "no visitors" sign out at Lenox Hill Hospital because Boudreau had not slept all night.

Dr. Gaynor attributed the illness to after effects from the extraction of a wisdom tooth on Monday, and said the Kansas City pilot "also seems to have a throat infection."

On The Line

by Bob Considine

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29 (INS)—Just think of the changes the two great U. S. political parties have undergone in four short years!

Four years ago on the day before the opening of the Republican convention in Chicago, Sen. Robert A. Taft called a press conference in the exhibition hall of the Conrad Hilton Hotel and with a fierce pride unusual in that quiet man brandished two fists stuffed with telegrams. He had in his possession, he said, 600 pledges of delegate support. "And more are on the way," he said. He believed he was in, though opposed by one of the most popular Americans of all time, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Taft's name was barely heard at San Francisco last week. There was nobody to speak for the "Taft wing" of the party. Sen. Everett Dirksen was here, but had little to do but polish up the doubletalk of the civil rights plank. It hardly seemed possible that four years ago Dirksen was enough of a force in the party to make a mane-shaking, vein-protruding speech in which he singled out pro-Eisenhower Tom Dewey in the New York delegation and cried, "Twice you led us down the road to defeat; you shall not do it again." Delegates shook their fists at Dewey and booed him.

Nobody would have thought of doing a thing like that at the 1956 rally. It was as unthinkable as, let us say, a denunciation of Eisenhower. Or motherhood.

Sen. Bill Knowland, many thought, would be the new Taft of the Congress. But he was in quiet accord with everything the party hierarchy wanted here last week. As for Joe McCarthy, the only Joe McCarthy invited to the convention was a steel worker of that name who rose—in the course of some testament giving by working stiffs—to say that he had it better under the elephant than under the donkey.

This was not a convention, Dorothy Thompson said. It was a coronation. Whatever it was, it had no relationship to 1952. The "old guard" has faded out of sight. Four years ago the obvious choice for keynoter was Gen. Douglas MacArthur. One wonders if he was even invited to attend the '56 convention as a spectator.

An equally enormous change has taken place in the Democratic Party. In effect, Mr. Truman is the final heir of a system of control operated for a general and more by a group of men who died within hours of one another—as time in politics is measured. Hague, Kelly, Flynn, Pendergast, Hannegan and the others passed on to their reward like tenpins being bowled over.

Mr. Truman, last of his era, felt he had in Adlai Stevenson a man who could preserve the moods and manners near and dear to him. Stevenson wanted none of it, once he gained control of the party machinery. Mr. Truman actually had trouble getting the handful of convention hall tickets he needed at Chicago. "They treated me like a pariah," he told a friend. It is now reported that he will make a tour of New Zealand and Australia during the weeks leading up to the election, to avoid campaigning for Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, whom he privately calls Cow Fever.

Stevenson and Kefauver could not be more pleased. They are afraid that if he stays in the U. S. and loyally espouses them, because they are Democrats, he will cost them votes by inadvertantly reminding independents and "discerning Democrats" that he fought against and berated both of them.

Four years ago, Harry S. Truman was powerful enough to name the nominee and he did. This time he tried to and got nowhere. Four years ago, Gen. Eisenhower's masterminds felt it necesary to grub for the seating of a pro-Eisenhower Louisiana delegation, so close was it going to be. Last week he went "over the top" by the time the roll call got to Nevada.

The more the parties change the more they grow alike. The great burden the Democrats have is to explain what it is they would do differently if put in power, but a burden of the Republicans is to prove they did not plagiarize the precepts of Presidents Truman and Roosevelt.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

"Just A Housewife"

Do you run your home, or does your home run you? Do you say, "I'm just a housewife," when you're asked what you do? You've heard this from women on quiz programs, said so apologetically it's embarrassing to women everywhere who are proud of their homemaking careers.

A home and family can submerge personality or bring it to bloom. If every day imposes a relentless routine of chores with no time for anything else, something's wrong. No, I'm no enthusiast for serving yourself breakfast in bed. But any man is keenly conscious of the difference between the woman who's a slave to her demanding life as wife and mother and the one who glories in it as the most rewarding life a woman can have. Callous as it may be, men somehow can't feel sympathy toward the martyr. They're too fascinated with her charming, bright-spirited sister to pay her the tribute she thinks she deserves.

Ever since the frontiersman invented the first household tool, man has been rapidly producing labor-saving devices for woman's use, perhaps largely to save her time so she has more time for him. But the complexities of modern life keep a woman as busy as the pioneer who hadn't her advantages, so the difference must be in attitude.

A woman can't feel she's victimized, held down, passed by. She can't let her home run her — she must run it. She must put first things first, and for all her unselfishness, this means making herself important. She must take time for outside interests, her appearance, and to be a good companion or she can't be a charming person who's truly valued.

The house may be enjoyed more if it isn't kept so immaculate all the time. The children will develop more self-reliance if they aren't waited on so much. How about that idea in the back of your mind that you'd like to take up a hobby, or do good works for the community? This fall is the time to start.

Tomorrow — A grain of salt

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (INS)—The Italian heartbreaker Rossano Brazzi was a busy boy on the set of "Interlude" in Munich. From someone on the set I hear that Brazzi turned on the charm, but plenty.

He had already made plans to come to Hollywood early in November to talk about doing the film version of "South Pacific." Now he has a new incentive, which he considers just as attractive. He wants to make a musical version of "Back Street," the Fannie Hurst story wrich originally co-starred Irene Dunne and John Boles when it was filmed on the old Universal lot.

Ross Hunter, who produced "Interlude," told the dashing Italian the idea of "Back Street" and Hunter received word that the actor will be here Nov. 7 to read the script.

The draft is hanging over the head of 21-year-old Elvis Presley, the wiggling rage of the teenagers. He's registered with Uncle Same, and it's whispered, but not verified, that he received a calling card last Sunday.

Presley has been on location for 20th with "The Reno Brothers," which was activated from out of nowhere because "The Proud One," a small budget western, cleaned up at the boxoffice. For this chore the wiggler, who sings four songs, is being paid $100,000—and without any movements of his torso.

In Paris, I had cocktails with Serge Semenenko and Bob Taplinger, who were on their way to the south of France to have a meeting with Jack Warner at Jack's home in Cap D'Antibes.

Semenenko, the Boston banker who owns such a big part of Warner Brothers, told me that the company is going to do bigger things than ever and that Jack has great plans for coming-up films.

Bob, now vice-president in charge of publicity for Warner's, is certainly traveling in style. He went on Semenenko's yacht to the south of France and to the conferences at the Warner villa. With Semenenko are his wife and daughter.

Audrey Hepburn cables that she celebrated Mel Ferrer's birthday Saturday with him in Paris. Billy Wilder gave the dinner on the set at Studio de Boulogne, with Gary Cooper and Maurice Chevalier acting as co-hosts.

Audrey's gift to the man she adores is a platinum watch inscribed "Mad About the Man." Every weekend Audrey had been traveling to St. Tropez, where Mel, Pier Angeli and Michele Morgan are making "The Vintage" for MGM.

But on his birthday Mel came to her. She has been rehearsing daily to learn to finger a bass viol, which she is supposed to play in "Love in the Afternoon."

The girl lunching with Johnnie Ray at U-I was Dorothy Doyle, an employe in the mail room. Her late husband was a friend of the Weeper.

The Martin Manulis' are hosting a dinner Friday night for Elaine and John Steinbeck. It will be nice to see Elaine again after all these years.

This I wouldn't like. Guy Madison, Sheila and the baby have almost been run out of their beautiful new home because of the prevalence of scorpions! They've found eight so far.

Elizabeth Taylor, who finished her scenes in "Raintree County" in Danville, Ky., is in New York for a week's vacation. Montgomery Clift and Eva Marie Saint remain in Kentucky until September 16 when they pack up and return home to finish the picture.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29 (INS)—Just think of the changes the two great U. S. political parties have undergone in four short years!

Four years ago on the day before the opening of the Republican convention in Chicago, Sen. Robert A. Taft called a press conference in the exhibition hall of the Conrad Hilton Hotel and with a fierce pride unusual in that quiet man brandished two fists stuffed with telegrams. He had in his possession, he said, 600 pledges of delegate support. "And more are on the way," he said. He believed he was in, though opposed by one of the most popular Americans of all time, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Taft's name was barely heard at San Francisco last week. There was nobody to speak for the "Taft wing" of the party. Sen. Everett Dirksen was here, but had little to do but polish up the doubletalk of the civil rights plank. It hardly seemed possible that four years ago Dirksen was enough of a force in the party to make a mane-shaking, vein-protruding speech in which he singled out pro-Eisenhower Tom Dewey in the New York delegation and cried, "Twice you led us down the road to defeat; you shall not do it again." Delegates shook their fists at Dewey and booed him.

Nobody would have thought of doing a thing like that at the 1956 rally. It was as unthinkable as, let us say, a denunciation of Eisenhower. Or motherhood.

Sen. Bill Knowland, many thought, would be the new Taft of the Congress. But he was in quiet accord with everything the party hierarchy wanted here last week. As for Joe McCarthy, the only Joe McCarthy invited to the convention was a steel worker of that name who rose—in the course of some testament giving by working stiffs—to say that he had it better under the elephant than under the donkey.

This was not a convention, Dorothy Thompson said. It was a coronation. Whatever it was, it had no relationship to 1952. The "old guard" has faded out of sight. Four years ago the obvious choice for keynoter was Gen. Douglas MacArthur. One wonders if he was even invited to attend the '56 convention as a spectator.

An equally enormous change has taken place in the Democratic Party. In effect, Mr. Truman is the final heir of a system of control operated for a general and more by a group of men who died within hours of one another—as time in politics is measured. Hague, Kelly, Flynn, Pendergast, Hannegan and the others passed on to their reward like tenpins being bowled over.

Mr. Truman, last of his era, felt he had in Adlai Stevenson a man who could preserve the moods and manners near and dear to him. Stevenson wanted none of it, once he gained control of the party machinery. Mr. Truman actually had trouble getting the handful of convention hall tickets he needed at Chicago. "They treated me like a pariah," he told a friend. It is now reported that he will make a tour of New Zealand and Australia during the weeks leading up to the election, to avoid campaigning for Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, whom he privately calls Cow Fever.

Stevenson and Kefauver could not be more pleased. They are afraid that if he stays in the U. S. and loyally espouses them, because they are Democrats, he will cost them votes by inadvertantly reminding independents and "discerning Democrats" that he fought against and berated both of them.

Four years ago, Harry S. Truman was powerful enough to name the nominee and he did. This time he tried to and got nowhere. Four years ago, Gen. Eisenhower's masterminds felt it necesary to grub for the seating of a pro-Eisenhower Louisiana delegation, so close was it going to be. Last week he went "over the top" by the time the roll call got to Nevada.

The more the parties change the more they grow alike. The great burden the Democrats have is to explain what it is they would do differently if put in power, but a burden of the Republicans is to prove they did not plagiarize the precepts of Presidents Truman and Roosevelt.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

"Just A Housewife"

Do you run your home, or does your home run you? Do you say, "I'm just a housewife," when you're asked what you do? You've heard this from women on quiz programs, said so apologetically it's embarrassing to women everywhere who are proud of their homemaking careers.

A home and family can submerge personality or bring it to bloom. If every day imposes a relentless routine of chores with no time for anything else, something's wrong. No, I'm no enthusiast for serving yourself breakfast in bed. But any man is keenly conscious of the difference between the woman who's a slave to her demanding life as wife and mother and the one who glories in it as the most rewarding life a woman can have. Callous as it may be, men somehow can't feel sympathy toward the martyr. They're too fascinated with her charming, bright-spirited sister to pay her the tribute she thinks she deserves.

Ever since the frontiersman invented the first household tool, man has been rapidly producing labor-saving devices for woman's use, perhaps largely to save her time so she has more time for him. But the complexities of modern life keep a woman as busy as the pioneer who hadn't her advantages, so the difference must be in attitude.

A woman can't feel she's victimized, held down, passed by. She can't let her home run her — she must run it. She must put first things first, and for all her unselfishness, this means making herself important. She must take time for outside interests, her appearance, and to be a good companion or she can't be a charming person who's truly valued.

The house may be enjoyed more if it isn't kept so immaculate all the time. The children will develop more self-reliance if they aren't waited on so much. How about that idea in the back of your mind that you'd like to take up a hobby, or do good works for the community? This fall is the time to start.

Tomorrow — A grain of salt

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (INS)—The Italian heartbreaker Rossano Brazzi was a busy boy on the set of "Interlude" in Munich. From someone on the set I hear that Brazzi turned on the charm, but plenty.

He had already made plans to come to Hollywood early in November to talk about doing the film version of "South Pacific." Now he has a new incentive, which he considers just as attractive. He wants to make a musical version of "Back Street," the Fannie Hurst story wrich originally co-starred Irene Dunne and John Boles when it was filmed on the old Universal lot.

Ross Hunter, who produced "Interlude," told the dashing Italian the idea of "Back Street" and Hunter received word that the actor will be here Nov. 7 to read the script.

The draft is hanging over the head of 21-year-old Elvis Presley, the wiggling rage of the teenagers. He's registered with Uncle Same, and it's whispered, but not verified, that he received a calling card last Sunday.

Presley has been on location for 20th with "The Reno Brothers," which was activated from out of nowhere because "The Proud One," a small budget western, cleaned up at the boxoffice. For this chore the wiggler, who sings four songs, is being paid $100,000—and without any movements of his torso.

In Paris, I had cocktails with Serge Semenenko and Bob Taplinger, who were on their way to the south of France to have a meeting with Jack Warner at Jack's home in Cap D'Antibes.

Semenenko, the Boston banker who owns such a big part of Warner Brothers, told me that the company is going to do bigger things than ever and that Jack has great plans for coming-up films.

Bob, now vice-president in charge of publicity for Warner's, is certainly traveling in style. He went on Semenenko's yacht to the south of France and to the conferences at the Warner villa. With Semenenko are his wife and daughter.

Audrey Hepburn cables that she celebrated Mel Ferrer's birthday Saturday with him in Paris. Billy Wilder gave the dinner on the set at Studio de Boulogne, with Gary Cooper and Maurice Chevalier acting as co-hosts.

Audrey's gift to the man she adores is a platinum watch inscribed "Mad About the Man." Every weekend Audrey had been traveling to St. Tropez, where Mel, Pier Angeli and Michele Morgan are making "The Vintage" for MGM.

But on his birthday Mel came to her. She has been rehearsing daily to learn to finger a bass viol, which she is supposed to play in "Love in the Afternoon."

The girl lunching with Johnnie Ray at U-I was Dorothy Doyle, an employe in the mail room. Her late husband was a friend of the Weeper.

Today's hand was from a team of four match in an important tournament in which each deal constituted a separate match. It is the type of hand which does not, on the surface analysis, appear to lend itself to any sharp variations of treatment. Curiously enough the bidding sequences at both tables were similar, as was the opening lead, namely, the ace of diamonds.

Declarer ruffed in dummy and observed that nothing short of a hydrogen bomb could prevent fulfillment of the contract, and the chances of winning all the tricks were more than bright. He led a low trump to his hand and another trump back to dummy's 10. The high spades were then played and when the suit broke badly declarer was able to discard only four of his hearts and had to give up a trick at the end. He could ruff a spade and establish the fifth card in dummy, but unfortunately had no legal means of access to dummy to cash that trick.

This loose treatment by declarer cost his team the match, for the South player at the other table found a way to make all the tricks against anything but six spades in one hand. After winning the opening lead he led a low spade and ruffed, cashed the ace of trumps and led a low trump to dummy's 10. Now, when both defenders followed to the lead of a high spade, dummy had five good tricks in the suit and was able to discard South's entire string of hearts.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — The stock market posted its third straight decline today as a late rally ran out of steam.

A few specialities responded favorably to higher dividends and helped boost volume above the last two sessions.

Losses ranged to 4 points and gains were generally under 2. Much of the market moved narrowly as many investors remained on the sidelines until after the three-day Labor Day weekend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 40 cents to $182.90 —the smallest decline of the three straight losses this week.

Volume rose to 1,530,000 shares from yesterday's 1,400,000 shares, which was the smallest turnover since Aug. 19, 1955.

The Associated Press average broke down in this manner: Industrials off 80 cents; rails up 20 cents and utilities off 20 cents.

Standard Oil (NJ) was the day's most active stock, off ¾ at 55⅝ on 41,300 shares. Glenn L. Martin, which has made the list frequently of late, was next, up ¾ at 37¾ on 31,400 shares. Curtiss-Wright followed, with volume of 28,200 shares.

Truck Testing Runs Halted On Area Roadways

Del. Hughes Explains Action On Problem

The use of highways in this section of Maryland as a proving ground for test runs by heavily loaded trucks and tractor-trailers has been discontinued, according to George R. Hughes Jr., member of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly and a local attorney.

Hughes explained yesterday that after a long period of investigation following a number of complaints, it was learned that the Chrysler Corporation had for the past 23 years been using sections of US Route 220 and US Route 40 as a scientific testing ground for its trucks.

These trucks, based at a garage in Bedford, Pa., made regular runs over US 220 to Cumberland and then to Hancock over US 40. From Hancock, they crossed into Pennsylvania, returning to Bedford on US Route 30. Bench marks had been made along the roadways, and the truckers stopped and made various checks on the vehicles at these points.

Trucks Loaded With Stone

After the situation had aroused complaints by motorists and others, Hughes contacted G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the Maryland State Roads Commission, and Thomas E. Wilderman, general manager of the Maryland Motor Truck Association in Baltimore.

A short time later, Chaires reported to Delegate Hughes that state roads weight crews had stopped the trucks, weighed and checked them. Normally there were six operating, he said, but on the day the weight crew made its check, only five were encountered. All of these were trucks of the Chrysler Corporation and were heavily loaded with stone ballast. Load weights ran as high as 55,000 pounds, the weight crew reported.

Hughes said his investigation also showed that the firm's test trucks had been operating regularly over this same route for the past 23 years. He said the heavy trucks created a hazard to other truckers and motorists.

Recalls LaVale Tragedy

Following a tragedy in LaVale some months ago, which involved a heavily loaded tractor-trailer, motorists renewed their complaints about using area highways as a testing ground, Hughes observed.

Hughes said he forwarded the details of Chaires' report to Wilderman of the truck association. Wilderman immediately contacted Chrysler Corporation.

Paul C. Ackerman, vice president and director of engineering for Chrysler, notified Wilderman and Hughes that the test runs through Marvland would be discontinued effective August 21. Hughes said state roads crews and field engineers have reported to Chaires that the trucks have not been seen here since that date and are reported now making their tests in Pennsylvania.

Hughes said he appreciated the cooperation of officials of the company who ordered the runs concelled immediately upon learning of the hazards which existed. He also said the state roads men and officials, as well as the truck association, cooperated splendidly.

Public Library Is Busy Re-Registering Members

The re-registration of adults and high school students who use the facilities of the Cumberland Free Public Library is now under way.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, said yesterday that pupils of the first six grades of school will be registered after classes resume next week.

Anyone six years or older may register. The information required of older registrants is name, address and place of business.

A color scheme is maintained in the library card filing system. Miss Walsh said that adults get daffodil cards, high school students, green cards and the youngsters pink-hued cards.

The local library will close at 1 p. m. Saturday and will reopen on Tuesday at 9 a. m. following the Labor Day weekend.

Winter hours will resume Tuesday, when the library will remain open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Mondays through Fridays, and from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Saturdays. The library had been closing at 1 p. m. Saturday during the summer.

VA Outlines Education Plan For Korean GIs

Korean veterans planning to start school this fall under the Korean GI Bill are urged to file their applications immediately to avoid the last-minute rush when schools open next month.

B. W. Flack, contact officer at the local office of the Veterans Administration in the Post Office Building, said yesterday the VA expects some three-quarters of a million veterans to be in school and training establishments this fall term.

By applying early, veterans can help prevent delay in processing their papers, he observed. Several applicants already have been handled here, but others who made inquiry still have to complete applications, he noted.

Applicants must have a photostat or certified copy of their separation papers when they apply.

Check List Prepared

The first is the choice of a goal and a training program that will lead to the goal. Second is for veterans not sure of their goal, who may apply for vocational counseling.

The third point cautions veterans to be sure the course they plan to take has been GI-approved by the state in which the school is located.

Fifth, veterans are asked to send the applications to VA as soon as possible. Sixth, veterans are urged to check their applications over carefully before mailing them to VA. Incomplete applications are the cause of most delays.

Proof Is Needed

The seventh point involves veterans with dependents. VA urges these vets to have necessary proof of dependency, including a photostat of marriage certificate and, for each child, a photostat of birth certificate.

The eighth point deals with finances. VA. urges veterans to take along enough money of their own to tide them over the first two months of training. It takes that long, under the law, for a veteran's first monthly check to reach him. This is because the veteran can be paid only after each month of training has been completed.

The final point, Flack noted, applies to veterans in training. VA reminds them that they and their schools must submit monthly certifications as soon as possible after the end of each month of training, so that VA may pay them their allowances on time.

Rev. C. F. Frith Reunion Speaker

Rev. C. F. Frith, pastor of LaVale Baptist Church, will be the principal speaker at the 315th Infantry Regiment reunion at the Warwick Hotel, Philadelphia, over the Labor Day holiday. This is an annual event of the veterans of the 79th Infantry Division, and the meeting takes place at a different locality each year.

Rev. Frith, a chaplain of the 315th from its activation in World War II, served with it through all the Normandy Campaign in the liberation of France. He is the standing chaplain for the reunion each year, and is always called upon to make the Memorial Address, in honor of the officers and enlisted men who were killed during the war.

In addition to the Purple Heart which Rev. Frith received for wounds in action, he also was awarded the Silver Star by the United States government and the Croix de Guerre by the Government of France for courageous service in the liberation of France.

Fatal Crash Inquest Slated At Bedford

An inquest into the death of Sylvester Merler, 21, of 240 Artus Avenue, Johnstown, Pa., who was killed instantly yesterday morning in an auto crash near Bedford, is scheduled for 8 p.m. today in the Court House at Bedford, with Dr. J. H. Knisely, coroner, in charge.

Driver of the car was a local resident, James Harland Fraley, 20, of 400 Walnut Street, who was released under bond following a preliminary hearing yesterday morning before Justice of the Peace H. A. Clark in Bedford.

Fraley and another passenger in the car, James E. Sheehan, 20, of 506 South Street, Johnstown, sustained only minor injuries in the crash. The vehicle was demolished.

State Police said the fatality occurred at 1:30 a.m. yesterday when the vehicle driven by Fraley smashed headon into a telephone pole about four miles north of Bedford on U.S. 220.

Police said the fatality was the third this year at the same spot on the highway. Police at Bedford noted that although the pole has been replaced several times, motorists traveling at high rates of speed fail to negotiate a sharp curve on the highway and hit the pole.

State Police said they received a call from the Comos Gasoline Station near the Bedford Turnpike interchange that the Fraley vehicle had stopped there, obtained a tank of gasoline, and left without paying the attendant.

Nearly 140,000 Tax Refund Checks Mailed In Maryland

State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes said yesterday there are several thousand yet to be processed, but these include many on which adjustments will have to be made as well as many received without sufficient information.

Tawes stated that the Post Office Department has returned hundreds of refund checks which it was unable to deliver with the majority of returns marked "Moved" and "Present address unknown."

He said that much time and effort will be necessary to locate these persons, who, in the meantime, are probably wondering why their refund checks have not been received.

Tawes suggested that any taxpayer who has changed his address since filing his 1955 return, and on which a refund was claimed, advise the Income Tax Division of his new address in the event the refund has not yet been received.

"This information," the Comptroller stated, "should be sent to the Annapolis Office."

Homecoming Parade Set For Tomorrow

Keith Skidmore, who is in charge of the parade, said marching units will form at Knobley Street at 7 p. m.

The parade will proceed from Blocker Street back to Potomac Street and will disband at Firemen's Hall.

Skidmore said volunteer fire companies from Wiley Ford, Patterson Creek, Romney, Moorefield, Corriganville, Clarysville and Bowman's Addition plan to have units in the line of march.

Several floats and drum and bugle corps also will participate. Miss Helen Paxton, who was named Allegany County Farm Queen and queen of the Cumberland Fair, will be on one of the floats which will be entered.

Cash prizes will be awarded for the best float, best appearing fire truck, organization with the largest number of personnel in line, and the fire company traveling the greatest distance to the celebration.

Invitations have been sent out to all the area fire companies and drum and bugle corps.

Storm Debris Still Being Cleaned Up

William H. Buchholtz, city street commissioner, said last night the complete job of cleaning up would not be completed until the end of the week.

Buchholtz said all men and equipment of the Street Department are being used to speed up the operation.

Robert Garner, manager of the C&P Telephone Company, said all telephone service was to be returned to normal by last night.

Additional crews were called here from Hagerstown to assist in restoring some 350 cable lines and 1,000 telephones which had been out of order. All scattered trouble throughout the area has been cleared up, Garner said.

Minor trouble caused by the storm was cleared up by the Potomac Edison at Frostburg and along Route 220 toward Centreville, Pa.

The E. J. Albrecht Company had to move all its paving equipment from the narrow channel of Wills Creek. The water rose about six feet in three hours but subsided just as fast. Work was resumed yesterday morning.

Children Narrowly Missed By Train

Four small boys, ranging in age from seven to 10 years, narrowly escaped death yesterday evening when they were almost struck by a train as they played on the Baltimore and Ohio viaduct over Wills Creek.

West Side PTA Group To Meet

The executive committee of West Side Parent Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the fall term at the school tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. F. Allan Weatherholt, president, said any interested parents and teachers, in addition to the committee, will be welcome to attend.

Butler's Blast Draws Fire Of Demo Chairman

'Crocodile Tears' Says Harrington

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP)—Republican Sen. Butler's criticism of the manner in which his Democratic opponent was chosen at a Monday night meeting drew a strongly worded reply from the man who presided at the meeting.

Chairman T. Barton Harrington of the Maryland Democratic State Central Committee, declaring the session was properly conducted, called the Butler attack a "smoke screen" to cover "his conduct of his campaign of 1950."

George P. Mahoney, who was named at Monday night's committee meeting to replace Millard E. Tydings as the Democratic candidate in November, has said Butler's 1950 campaign will be an issue in this one.

Tydings, a U. S. senator for four terms before his defeat by Butler six years ago, defeated Mahoney for the 1956 Democratic nomination but withdrew last week because of illness.

Campaign Attacked

A Senate subcommittee which investigated the 1950 campaign accused Butler aides of "backstreet type" tactics. It was especially critical of an admittedly fake picture distributed in an attempt to depict Tydings as a friend of Earl Browder, former Communist Party head.

Jon M. Jonkel, Chicago advertising man who aided Butler, was convicted of failing to register as a political agent and properly file financial data required by Maryland law.

"Senator John M. Butler imported a carpetbagger into the State of Maryland to conduct his campaign," Harrington said in a statement replying to the senator's criticism.

"This man ruthlessly and dishonestly disregarded the election laws of this State and its tradition.

"Violated Decency"

"He violated the rules of decency and propriety as a result of his criminal activities in promoting the cause of John M. Butler he was convicted in a criminal court of this State . . . and the U. S. Senate Committee on Elections condemned the activities of the participants in that campaign. Senator Butler profited by these activities and has never apologized for such activities."

Butler yesterday called Mahoney a "one-man wrecker of the Maryland Democratic Party." The Republican senator also assailed "the tactics" employed by Mahoney supporters at the central committee meeting.

The committee nominated him under the unit rule, which provides that all of a county's votes go to the candidate backed by a majority of committee members from that county.

Backers of Mrs. Eleanor Tydings, wife of the former senator, urged the tabulation on an individual vote basis. They contended she would have won the nomination under that system.

"It comes with poor grace for Senator Butler to shed crocodile tears and attack the internal affairs of the Democratic party," said Harrington.

According To Rules

"The meeting of the . . . committee on Monday night was conducted in complete accord with the law, regulations, custom usage and precepts of the party. The unit rule has been established as a Democratic party custom in State Conventions and in State central committee meetings throughout the State for over 50 years."

Harrington urged "Democrats, Republicans and Independents (to) unite and remove from the U. S. Senate a man who obtained that high office through the trickery, fraud, deceit and criminal activities of his carpetbagger friend."

"True Marylanders want this blot removed from the political history of this State," he said.

County Board Receives Rare 'Thanks' Note

Although letters to the complaint department of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners are rather numerous, the "thank you" department does receive a letter of appreciation once in a while.

Such a letter has been received from a Flintstone area resident who expressed "my appreciation for the courteous consideration that was given to my request that a ditch be opened to carry the water which emptied onto my road from a culvert across the Beans Cove Road."

Karl G. Perry was also thankful "for getting the job well done quickly" and pointed out that a neighbor, Raymond B. Fey, "joins me in this extension of appreciation."

Court House To Close

Allegany County Court House is going to be closed for a three-day period beginning Saturday in conjunction with the observance of the Labor Day weekend.

The Court House ordinarily remains open until noon on Saturdays, but will be closed this week.

ROY DeVORE

MISS NANCY BAKER

Two Teachers Appointed To Beall High Faculty

Two more teaching positions have been filled in Allegany County Schools prior to the opening of the fall term next week.

Ralph T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county schools, yesterday announced the following appointments:

Miss Nancy Baker, of Midland, has accepted a position at Beall High School, where she will teach reading; and Roy DeVore, 120 Walnut Street, Frostburg, will teach core in the eighth and ninth grades of Beall High School.

Miss Baker finished Beall High School in 1952 and received a bachelor of science degree in education from Frostburg State Teachers College this June.

DeVore, who is a graduate of Beall High School, class of 1947, received a bachelor of science degree in education from Frostburg State Teachers College this year.

School Cafeteria Workers Prepare For Fall Term

A two-day series of meetings of school lunch workers began yesterday when 40 Allegany County public school employes met at Fort Hill High School. About 140 are scheduled to attend meetings there today.

Yesterday's meeting was for all managers and head cooks in schools located in Cumberland. Mrs. Gladys Miller Eaton, supervisor of the school lunch program in county schools, was in charge.

The workers talked over problems to be met during the coming school year, and discussed reports and records, and the allocation of government commodities, which the school system has been notified it will receive.

Meat Expert Speaks

Zuwado told the cafeteria workers that the finished product depends largely upon the temperature and length of cooking time, and upon the amount of fat the meat contains.

All public school lunch workers in the county will meet at Fort Hill today at 9:30 a.m. Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster will open the session, and Wilmer Dunn of the Social Security office will explain the workings of the Social Security Act. A question and answer period will follow Dunn's talk.

Demonstration Planned

At 10 a.m., a demonstration of methods of preparing pork and USDA commodity pork lunch meat will be given by Miss Dorothy Farrell, home economist with Manufacturers Light and Heat Company at Pittsburgh.

Workers will have lunch in the school cafeteria, and will evaluate the meal. Discussions will continue at the afternoon session, and a movie on Civil Defense in Maryland will be shown at 1:30 p.m. by M/Sgt. Frank Carbone of the local Air Force recruiting station.

Charles Harper will present a brief discussion of the proper use of detergents, and the group will discuss the use of liquid as opposed to powdered detergents.

At 2:30 p.m. the Allegany County School Food Service Association will meet and will elect officers.

County Plumbing Setup Remains Under Study

Meeting Scheduled In Next 30 Days

A meeting scheduled last night at the Court House for members of the Allegany County Master Plumbers Association to discuss proposed regulations with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners has been postponed for about a month. In the meantime counsel for the two groups will seek additional information.

The plumbers also want the commissioners to name a plumbing inspector for the county on a fee basis.

More Data Sought

Following a discussion it was decided that counsel for both the Board of Commissioners and the Plumbers Association would seek further information on the proposed new setup in the county.

Another meeting is anticipated in about 30 days, in which time data will be obtained.

Yoder pointed out at the meeting that the new regulations would not prohibit a property owner from putting in his own plumbing, although it would be subject to regulations of the new setup.

4 Counties Have Checkers

Four counties of Maryland have such a plumbing inspector. Gorman E. Getty, attorney for the Commissioners, and W. Earle Cobey, counsel for the plumbers, will seek additional information.

If legislation is required for the establishment of regulations and appointment of an inspector, such information could be obtained in plenty of time before the General Assembly convenes its next session.

Yoder points out that little is being done to help sanitary conditions by enforcement of state laws on plumbing. He said plumbers receive calls where trouble develops, and most of them resulted from faulty installation of plumbing.

Mosner To Resign U. S. Legal Post

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP)—William F. Mosner, a native of Cumberland, is resigning as an assistant United States attorney to go into private law practice, Walter E. Black, Jr., U. S. attorney for Maryland, announced today.

The resignation is effective Sept. 1. Mosner was named to the post in June, 1954.

Mosner, who is 29, lives in nearby Lutherville.

Homer Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel, spoke on the importance to educators and parents of the governor's conference on juvenile delinquency. This conference is to be held at the University of Maryland September 10-12.

Dr. Lillian C. Compton reported that the Council is sponsoring three scholarships to Frostburg State Teachers College this year for graduates of Allegany County high schools. Fire Destroys Chic-A-Bob Inn Near Bedford

Cause Of Blaze Is Undetermined

Fire, possibly caused by Tuesday's severe electrical storm, destroyed the Chic-A-Bob Inn near Bedford, Pa., early yesterday.

Firemen were recalled to the scene last night when embers started burning again.

The Bedford Fire Company reveived a call from the owner, Charles Zembower, at 4:55 a.m. Three companies from Everett plus four units from Bedford were on hand to fight the blaze.

Chief Eugene Davidson of the Bedford Fire Department said flames were shooting skyward 50 feet, but all nearby buildings were saved.

It is believed the fire started on the first floor in a corner of the bar. The actual cause of the fire and explosion will not be determined until tests can be made.

Some furniture was saved, including a new piano, but the building was a total loss. Zembower set his loss at between $60,000 and $70,000.

A workman passed the converted barn at 4:30 a.m. and said he saw no signs of the fire.

Westernport Gets Bids On Sewer Line

Bids on a sanitary sewer, ordered constructed in Westernport by the Maryland Department of Public Health, were opened last night by the Mayor and Council and were termed "higher than anticipated."

Mayor Okey Michael said two bids were received. The lowest was from George Construction Company of Cumberland, at $17,942.91, while the highest was from A. G. Clark Company, Westernport, for $30,967.37, plus $10,000 if a tunnel under the Western Maryland Railway was intended.

The bids were read by Town Clerk George P. DeWitt and were ordered filed until the next regular meeting.

Plans for the sewer line were drawn by L. Robert Kimble and Jay Morgan, of Evansburg, Pa., for Glaze and Glaze consultant engineers of Harrisburg, Pa. Kimble, Morgan, Edward George and Clark were present at the bid opening last night.

The engineers had estimated the project should cost about $12,000 to complete.

Mayor Michael said he does not know just what the Council will decide, but the problem will be studied between now and the next meeting to determine if the job should be readvertised for bids or if some other action could be taken.

Town Collects Old Water Bill

The town of Westernport yesterday received a check for $619.08 from the Upper Potomac River Commission in payment for water and tappage fees. The check, according to Town Clerk George P. DeWitt, was marked, "Paid Under Protest."

A week ago, after repeated billings, according to town officials, the Mayor and Town Council ordered water turned off and service discontinued unless the account was paid in full.

Officials say the bill covers tappage and water service at the caretaker's house at Savage River Dam, where the town of Westernport gets its water supply. The town claimed the water service charge from April 1, 1951.

Water was turned off at the house on Saturday, officials said, and the check was received yesterday and water service was immediately restored.

Truck Testing Runs Halted On Area Roadways

Del. Hughes Explains Action On Problem

The use of highways in this section of Maryland as a proving ground for test runs by heavily loaded trucks and tractor-trailers has been discontinued, according to George R. Hughes Jr., member of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly and a local attorney.

Hughes explained yesterday that after a long period of investigation following a number of complaints, it was learned that the Chrysler Corporation had for the past 23 years been using sections of US Route 220 and US Route 40 as a scientific testing ground for its trucks.

These trucks, based at a garage in Bedford, Pa., made regular runs over US 220 to Cumberland and then to Hancock over US 40. From Hancock, they crossed into Pennsylvania, returning to Bedford on US Route 30. Bench marks had been made along the roadways, and the truckers stopped and made various checks on the vehicles at these points.

Trucks Loaded With Stone

After the situation had aroused complaints by motorists and others, Hughes contacted G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the Maryland State Roads Commission, and Thomas E. Wilderman, general manager of the Maryland Motor Truck Association in Baltimore.

A short time later, Chaires reported to Delegate Hughes that state roads weight crews had stopped the trucks, weighed and checked them. Normally there were six operating, he said, but on the day the weight crew made its check, only five were encountered. All of these were trucks of the Chrysler Corporation and were heavily loaded with stone ballast. Load weights ran as high as 55,000 pounds, the weight crew reported.

Hughes said his investigation also showed that the firm's test trucks had been operating regularly over this same route for the past 23 years. He said the heavy trucks created a hazard to other truckers and motorists.

Recalls LaVale Tragedy

Following a tragedy in LaVale some months ago, which involved a heavily loaded tractor-trailer, motorists renewed their complaints about using area highways as a testing ground, Hughes observed.

Hughes said he forwarded the details of Chaires' report to Wilderman of the truck association. Wilderman immediately contacted Chrysler Corporation.

Paul C. Ackerman, vice president and director of engineering for Chrysler, notified Wilderman and Hughes that the test runs through Maryland would be discontinued effective August 21. Hughes said state roads crews and field engineers have reported to Chaires that the trucks have not been seen here since that date and are reported now making their tests in Pennsylvania.

Hughes said he appreciated the cooperation of officials of the company who ordered the runs concelled immediately upon learning of the hazards which existed. He also said the state roads men and officials, as well as the truck association, cooperated splendidly.

Public Library Is Busy Re-Registering Members

The re-registration of adults and high school students who use the facilities of the Cumberland Free Public Library is now under way.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, said yesterday that pupils of the first six grades of school will be registered after classes resume next week.

Anyone six years or older may register. The information required of older registrants is name, address and place of business.

A color scheme is maintained in the library card filing system. Miss Walsh said that adults get daffodil cards, high school students, green cards and the youngsters pink-hued cards.

Borrowing time for books is two weeks with a renwal period extended unless the books are on reserve.

The local library will close at 1 p. m. Saturday and will reopen on Tuesday at 9 a. m. following the Labor Day weekend.

Winter hours will resume Tuesday, when the library will remain open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Mondays through Fridays, and from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Saturdays. The library had been closing at 1 p. m. Saturday during the summer.

VA Outlines Education Plan For Korean GIs

Korean veterans planning to start school this fall under the Korean GI Bill are urged to file their applications immediately to avoid the last-minute rush when schools open next month.

B. W. Flack, contact officer at the local office of the Veterans Administration in the Post Office Building, said yesterday the VA expects some three-quarters of a million veterans to be in school and training establishments this fall term.

By applying early, veterans can help prevent delay in processing their papers, he observed. Several applicants already have been handled here, but others who made inquiry still have to complete applications, he noted.

Applicants must have a photostat or certified copy of their separation papers when they apply.

Check List Prepared

The VA has prepared a check list of steps to be followed by veterans who plan to further their education under the GI Bill.

The first is the choice of a goal and a training program that will lead to the goal. Second is for veterans not sure of their goal, who may apply for vocational counseling.

The third point cautions veterans to be sure the course they plan to take has been GI-approved by the state in which the school is located.

Fourth, veterans are urged to complete arrangements for admittance to their school before filing applications with VA.

Fifth, veterans are asked to send the applications to VA as soon as possible. Sixth, veterans are urged to check their applications over carefully before mailing them to VA. Incomplete applications are the cause of most delays.

Proof Is Needed

The seventh point involves veterans with dependents. VA urges these vets to have necessary proof of dependency, including a photostat of marriage certificate and, for each child, a photostat of birth certificate.

The eighth point deals with finances. VA urges veterans to take along enough money of their own to tide them over the first two months of training. It takes that long, under the law, for a veteran's first monthly check to reach him. This is because the veteran can be paid only after each month of training has been completed.

The final point, Flack noted, applies to veterans in training. VA reminds them that they and their schools must submit monthly certifications as soon as possible after the end of each month of training, so that VA may pay them their allowances on time.

Rev. C. F. Frith Reunion Speaker

Rev. C. F. Frith, pastor of LaVale Baptist Church, will be the principal speaker at the 315th Infantry Regiment reunion at the Warwick Hotel, Philadelphia, over the Labor Day holiday. This is an annual event of the veterans of the 79th Infantry Division, and the meeting takes place at a different locality each year.

Rev. Frith, a chaplain of the 315th from its activation in World War II, served with it through all the Normandy Campaign in the liberation of France. He is the standing chaplain for the reunion each year, and is always called upon to make the Memorial Address, in honor of the officers and enlisted men who were killed during the war.

In addition to the Purple Heart which Rev. Frith received for wounds in action, he also was awarded the Silver Star by the United States government and the Croix de Guerre by the Government of France for courageous service in the liberation of France.

Fatal Crash Inquest Slated At Bedford

An inquest into the death of Sylvester Merler, 21, of 240 Artus Avenue, Johnstown, Pa., who was killed instantly yesterday morning in an auto crash near Bedford, is scheduled for 8 p.m. today in the Court House at Bedford, with Dr. J. H. Knisely, coroner, in charge.

Driver of the car was a local resident, James Harland Fraley, 20, of 400 Walnut Street, who was released under bond following a preliminary hearing yesterday morning before Justice of the Peace H. A. Clark in Bedford.

Fraley and another passenger in the car, James E. Sheehan, 20, of 506 South Street, Johnstown, sustained only minor injuries in the crash. The vehicle was demolished.

State Police said the fatality occurred at 1:30 a.m. yesterday when the vehicle driven by Fraley smashed headon into a telephone pole about four miles north of Bedford on U.S. 220.

Police said the fatality was the third this year at the same spot on the highway. Police at Bedford noted that although the pole has been replaced several times, motorists traveling at high rates of speed fail to negotiate a sharp curve on the highway and hit the pole.

State Police said they received a call from the Comos Gasoline Station near the Bedford Turnpike interchange that the Fraley vehicle had stopped there, obtained a tank of gasoline, and left without paying the attendant.

Nearly 140,000 Tax Refund Checks Mailed In Maryland

Nearly 140,000 checks have been mailed to taxpayers covering refunds due them in their 1955 Maryland Income Tax returns.

State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes said yesterday there are several thousand yet to be processed, but these include many on which adjustments will have to be made as well as many received without sufficient information.

Tawes stated that the Post Office Department has returned hundreds of refund checks which it was unable to deliver with the majority of returns marked "Moved" and "Present address unknown."

He said that much time and effort will be necessary to locate these persons, who, in the meantime, are probably wondering why their refund checks have not been received.

Tawes suggested that any taxpayer who has changed his address since filing his 1955 return, and on which a refund was claimed, advise the Income Tax Division of his new address in the event the refund has not yet been received.

"This information," the Comptroller stated, "should be sent to the Annapolis Office."

Homecoming Parade Set For Tomorrow

A street parade in connection with Ridgeley's annual Homecoming celebration is set for tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Keith Skidmore, who is in charge of the parade, said marching units will form at Knobley Street at 7 p. m.

The parade will proceed from Blocker Street back to Potomac Street and will disband at Firemen's Hall.

Skidmore said volunteer fire companies from Wiley Ford, Patterson Creek, Romney, Moorefield, Corriganville, Clarysville and Bowman's Addition plan to have units in the line of march.

Several floats and drum and bugle corps also will participate. Miss Helen Paxton, who was named Allegany County Farm Queen and queen of the Cumberland Fair, will be on one of the floats which will be entered.

Cash prizes will be awarded for the best float, best appearing fire truck, organization with the largest number of personnel in line, and the fire company traveling the greatest distance to the celebration.

Invitations have been sent out to all the area fire companies and drum and bugle corps.

Storm Debris Still Being Cleaned Up

William H. Buchholtz, city street commissioner, said last night the complete job of cleaning up would not be completed until the end of the week.

Buchholtz said all men and equipment of the Street Department are being used to speed up the operation.

Robert Garner, manager of the C&P Telephone Company, said all telephone service was to be returned to normal by last night.

Additional crews were called here from Hagerstown to assist in restoring some 350 cable lines and 1,000 telephones which had been out of order. All scattered trouble throughout the area has been cleared up, Garner said.

Minor trouble caused by the storm was cleared up by the Potomac Edison at Frostburg and along Route 220 toward Centreville, Pa.

The E. J. Albrecht Company had to move all its paving equipment from the narrow channel of Wills Creek. The water rose about six feet in three hours but subsided just as fast. Work was resumed yesterday morning.

Children Narrowly Missed By Train

Four small boys, ranging in age from seven to 10 years, narrowly escaped death yesterday evening when they were almost struck by a train as they played on the Baltimore and Ohio viaduct over Wills Creek.

City Police received a call from the B&O tower operator, who reported that the children had nearly been struck.

West Side PTA Group To Meet

Butler's Blast Draws Fire Of Demo Chairman

'Crocodile Tears' Says Harrington

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP)—Republican Sen. Butler's criticism of the manner in which his Democratic opponent was chosen at a Monday night meeting drew a strongly worded reply from the man who presided at the meeting.

Chairman T. Barton Harrington of the Maryland Democratic State Central Committee, declaring the session was properly conducted, called the Butler attack a "smoke screen" to cover "his conduct of his campaign of 1950."

George P. Mahoney, who was named at Monday night's committee meeting to replace Millard E. Tydings as the Democratic candidate in November, has said Butler's 1950 campaign will be an issue in this one.

Tydings, a U. S. senator for four terms before his defeat by Butler six years ago, defeated Mahoney for the 1956 Democratic nomination but withdrew last week because of illness.

Campaign Attacked

A Senate subcommittee which investigated the 1950 campaign accused Butler aides of "backstreet type" tactics. It was especially critical of an admittedly fake picture distributed in an attempt to depict Tydings as a friend of Earl Browder, former Communist Party head.

Jon M. Jonkel, Chicago advertising man who aided Butler, was convicted of failing to register as a political agent and properly file financial data required by Maryland law.

"Senator John M. Butler imported a carpetbagger into the State of Maryland to conduct his campaign," Harrington said in a statement replying to the senator's criticism.

"This man ruthlessly and dishonestly disregarded the election laws of this State and its tradition.

"Violated Decency"

"He violated the rules of decency and propriety as a result of his criminal activities in promoting the cause of John M. Butler he was convicted in a criminal court of this State . . . and the U. S. Senate Committee on Elections condemned the activities of the participants in that campaign. Senator Butler profited by these activities and has never apologized for such activities."

Butler yesterday called Mahoney a "one-man wrecker of the Maryland Democratic Party." The Republican senator also assailed "the tactics" employed by Mahoney supporters at the central committee meeting.

The committee nominated him under the unit rule, which provides that all of a county's votes go to the candidate backed by a majority of committee members from that county.

Backers of Mrs. Eleanor Tydings, wife of the former senator, urged the tabulation on an individual vote basis. They contended she would have won the nomination under that system.

"It comes with poor grace for Senator Butler to shed crocodile tears and attack the internal affairs of the Democratic party," said Harrington.

According To Rules

"The meeting of the . . . committee on Monday night was conducted in complete accord with the law, regulations, custom usage and precepts of the party. The unit rule has been established as a Democratic party custom in State Conventions and in State central committee meetings throughout the State for over 50 years."

Harrington urged "Democrats, Republicans and Independents (to) unite and remove from the U. S. Senate a man who obtained that high office through the trickery, fraud, deceit and criminal activities of his carpetbagger friend."

"True Marylanders want this blot removed from the political history of this State," he said.

County Board Receives Rare 'Thanks' Note

Although letters to the complaint department of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners are rather numerous, the "thank you" department does receive a letter of appreciation once in a while.

Such a letter has been received from a Flintstone area resident who expressed "my appreciation for the courteous consideration that was given to my request that a ditch be opened to carry the water which emptied onto my road from a culvert across the Beans Cove Road."

Karl G. Perry was also thankful "for getting the job well done quickly" and pointed out that a neighbor, Raymond B. Fey, "joins me in this extension of appreciation."

Court House To Close

Allegany County Court House is going to be closed for a three-day period beginning Saturday in conjunction with the observance of the Labor Day weekend.

The Court House ordinarily remains open until noon on Saturdays, but will be closed this week.

Miss Nancy Baker, of Midland, has accepted a position at Beall High School, where she will teach reading; and Roy DeVore, 120 Walnut Street, Frostburg, will teach core in the eighth and ninth grades of Beall High School.

Miss Baker finished Beall High School in 1952 and received a bachelor of science degree in education from Frostburg State Teachers College this June.

School Cafeteria Workers Prepare For Fall Term

A two-day series of meetings of school lunch workers began yesterday when 40 Allegany County public school employes met at Fort Hill High School. About 140 are scheduled to attend meetings there today.

Yesterday's meeting was for all managers and head cooks in schools located in Cumberland. Mrs. Gladys Miller Eaton, supervisor of the school lunch program in county schools, was in charge.

The workers talked over problems to be met during the coming school year, and discussed reports and records, and the allocation of government commodities, which the school system has been notified it will receive.

Meat Expert Speaks

Joseph Zuwado of Pittsburgh, from the research laboratories of Swift and Company, discussed various ways of preparing ground beef.

Zuwado told the cafeteria workers that the finished product depends largely upon the temperature and length of cooking time, and upon the amount of fat the meat contains.

All public school lunch workers in the county will meet at Fort Hill today at 9:30 a.m. Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster will open the session, and Wilmer Dunn of the Social Security office will explain the workings of the Social Security Act. A question and answer period will follow Dunn's talk.

Demonstration Planned

At 10 a.m., a demonstration of methods of preparing pork and USDA commodity pork lunch meat will be given by Miss Dorothy Farrell, home economist with Manufacturers Light and Heat Company at Pittsburgh.

Workers will have lunch in the school cafeteria, and will evaluate the meal. Discussions will continue at the afternoon session, and a movie on Civil Defense in Maryland will be shown at 1:30 p.m. by M/Sgt. Frank Carbone of the local Air Force recruiting station.

Charles Harper will present a brief discussion of the proper use of detergents, and the group will discuss the use of liquid as opposed to powdered detergents.

At 2:30 p.m. the Allegany County School Food Service Association will meet and will elect officers.

County Plumbing Setup Remains Under Study

Meeting Scheduled In Next 30 Days

A meeting scheduled last night at the Court House for members of the Allegany County Master Plumbers Association to discuss proposed regulations with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners has been postponed for about a month. In the meantime counsel for the two groups will seek additional information.

The plumbers also want the commissioners to name a plumbing inspector for the county on a fee basis.

More Data Sought

Following a discussion it was decided that counsel for both the Board of Commissioners and the Plumbers Association would seek further information on the proposed new setup in the county.

Another meeting is anticipated in about 30 days, in which time data will be obtained.

Yoder pointed out at the meeting that the new regulations would not prohibit a property owner from putting in his own plumbing, although it would be subject to regulations of the new setup.

4 Counties Have Checkers

Four counties of Maryland have such a plumbing inspector. Gorman E. Getty, attorney for the Commissioners, and W. Earle Cobey, counsel for the plumbers, will seek additional information.

If legislation is required for the establishment of regulations and appointment of an inspector, such information could be obtained in plenty of time before the General Assembly convenes its next session.

Yoder points out that little is being done to help sanitary conditions by enforcement of state laws on plumbing. He said plumbers receive calls where trouble develops, and most of them resulted from faulty installation of plumbing.

Fire Destroys Chic-A-Bob Inn Near Bedford

Cause Of Blaze Is Undetermined

Fire, possibly caused by Tuesday's severe electrical storm, destroyed the Chic-A-Bob Inn near Bedford, Pa., early yesterday.

Firemen were recalled to the scene last night when embers started burning again.

The Bedford Fire Company received a call from the owner, Charles Zembower, at 4:55 a.m. Three companies from Everett plus four units from Bedford were on hand to fight the blaze.

A dozen guests occupying second floor rooms were led to safety by Zembower shortly before an explosion enveloped the structure in flames.

Chief Eugene Davidson of the Bedford Fire Department said flames were shooting skyward 50 feet, but all nearby buildings were saved.

It is believed the fire started on the first floor in a corner of the bar. The actual cause of the fire and explosion will not be determined until tests can be made.

Some furniture was saved, including a new piano, but the building was a total loss. Zembower set his loss at between $60,000 and $70,000.

A workman passed the converted barn at 4:30 a.m. and said he saw no signs of the fire.

Westernport Gets Bids On Sewer Line

Bids on a sanitary sewer, ordered constructed in Westernport by the Maryland Department of Public Health, were opened last night by the Mayor and Council and were termed "higher than anticipated."

Mayor Okey Michael said two bids were received. The lowest was from George Construction Company of Cumberland, at $17,942.91, while the highest was from A. G. Clark Company, Westernport, for $30,967.37, plus $10,000 if a tunnel under the Western Maryland Railway was intended.

The bids were read by Town Clerk George P. DeWitt and were ordered filed until the next regular meeting.

Plans for the sewer line were drawn by L. Robert Kimble and Jay Morgan, of Evansburg, Pa., for Glaze and Glaze consultant engineers of Harrisburg, Pa. Kimble, Morgan, Edward George and Clark were present at the bid opening last night.

The engineers had estimated the project should cost about $12,000 to complete.

Mayor Michael said he does not know just what the Council will decide, but the problem will be studied between now and the next meeting to determine if the job should be readvertised for bids or if some other action could be taken.

Town Collects Old Water Bill

The town of Westernport yesterday received a check for $619.08 from the Upper Potomac River Commission in payment for water and tappage fees. The check, according to Town Clerk George P. DeWitt, was marked, "Paid Under Protest."

A week ago, after repeated billings, according to town officials, the Mayor and Town Council ordered water turned off and service discontinued unless the account was paid in full.

Officials say the bill covers tappage and water service at the caretaker's house at Savage River Dam, where the town of Westernport gets its water supply. The town claimed the water service charge from April 1, 1951.

Water was turned off at the house on Saturday, officials said, and the check was received yesterday and water service was immediately restored.
